The board may require a registrant to take a written or oral examination, or both, in a proceeding to revoke, reprimand, suspend, or refuse to renew. When examinations are required on fundamental engineering subjects (such as are ordinarily given in college curricula), the applicant may take this part of the professional examination prior to his completion of the requisite years of experience in engineering work, and satisfactory passage of this portion of the professional examination by the applicant constitutes a credit for a period of ten (10) years. The department shall issue to each applicant successfully passing the examination in fundamental engineering subjects a certificate stating that he has passed the examination and that his name has been recorded as an engineer-in-training.

(2) The scope of the examinations and the methods of procedure shall be prescribed by the board, but with special reference to the applicant's ability to design and supervise engineering works to ensure the safety of life, health, and property. Examinations shall be given for the purpose of determining the qualifications of applicants for registration separately in engineering and in land surveying. A candidate failing on examination may apply for re-examination at the expiration of six (6) months and will be re-examined without payment of additional fee. Subsequent examinations will be granted on payment of a fee determined by the board."

"66-2339. Certificates of registration — seal. (1) The department shall issue a certificate of registration, on payment of the registration fee to an applicant who, in the opinion of the board, has satisfactorily met the requirements of this act. In the case of a registered engineer, the certificate shall authorize the "practice of engineering." In the case of an engineer-in-training, the certificate shall state that the applicant has successfully passed the examination in fundamental engineering subjects required by the board and has been enrolled as an "engineer-in-training." In the case of a registered land surveyor, the certificate shall authorize the "practice of land surveying." (2) The issuance of a certificate of registration by the department is prima facie evidence that the person named is subject to the responsibilities and entitled to all the rights and privileges of a registered professional engineer or of a registered land surveyor, while the certificate remains unrevoked or unexpired.

(3) A registrant shall on registration obtain a seal of the design authorized by the board, bearing the registrant's name and the legend, "Registered Professional Engineer," or "Registered Land Surveyor." Plans, specifications, plats, and reports prepared by a registrant shall be stamped with the seal when filed with public authorities, during the life of the registrant's certificate. It is unlawful for anyone to stamp or seal documents with the seal after the certificate of the registrant named has expired or has been revoked, unless the certificate has been renewed or reissued."

icate. Renewal may be made during the month of December by the payment of a fee of ten dollars ($10) for either a professional engineer or land surveyor or both. Failure on the part of a registrant to renew his certificate annually in the month of December does not deprive him of the right of renewal; however, a registrant who fails to pay the renewal fee for two (2) consecutive years shall be considered a new applicant and is required to submit a new application."

Section 223. Section 66-2344, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

(c) A felony; or

(d) Failure of a land surveyor to comply with the Corner Recordation Act.

(2) Any person may make charges of fraud, deceit, gross negligence, incompetency, or misconduct against a registrant. The charges shall be made by affidavit, and subscribed and sworn to by the person making them, and filed with the department.

(3) Charges, unless dismissed by the board as unfounded or trivial, shall be heard by the board within three (3) months after the date on which they were made.

(4) If, after hearing, four (4) or more members of the board vote in favor of sustaining the charges, the board shall reprimand, suspend, refuse to renew, or revoke the certificate of registration of the registered professional engineer or land surveyor.

(5) The board, for reasons it considers sufficient, may reissue a certificate of registration to a person whose certificate has been revoked, if four (4) or more members of the board vote in favor of the reissuance. A new certificate of registration, to replace a certificate revoked, lost, destroyed, or mutilated, may be issued by the department, subject to the rules of the board, and a charge of three dollars ($3) shall be made for the issuance."

Section 226. Section 66-2347, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"66-2347. Practices to which act inapplicable. This act does not prevent or affect:

(1) The practice of any other legally recognized professions or trades;

(2) The mere execution of work by a contractor, as distinguished from its planning or design or the supervision of the construction of work as a foreman or superintendent;

(3) The practice of a person not a resident of and having no established place of business in this state, practicing or offering to practice in this state the profession of engineering, when the practice does not exceed in the aggregate more than thirty (30) days in a calendar year; if the person is legally qualified by registration to practice the profession in his own state or country in which the requirements and qualifications for obtaining a certificate of registration are not lower than those specified in this act;

(4) The practice of a person not a resident of and having no established place of business in this state, or who has recently become a resident, practicing or offering to practice engineering or land surveying in this state for more than thirty (30) days in a calendar year, if he has filed with the department an application for a certificate of registration and has paid the fee required by this act, and if the person is legally qualified by registration to practice engineering or land surveying in his own state or country in which the requirements and qualifications for obtaining a certificate of registration are not lower than those specified in this act. This practice may continue only for the time the board requires for the consideration of the application for registration;

(6) The practice of professional engineering by licensed architects where the practice is purely incidental to their practice of architecture;

(7) The practice of officers and employees of the federal government while engaged in this state in the practice of engineering or land surveying, for the government; or

(8) The practice of professional engineering or land surveying in this state by a firm, copartnership, corporation, or joint stock association, or by its members, officers, or employees on its behalf, if each person in responsible charge of activities of the firm, copartnership, corporation, or joint stock association which constitutes the practice is a professional engineer or land surveyor holding a certificate of registration under this act."

Section 1. Section 75-6601, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"75-6601. Definition of various schools. As used in this Title, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise, the term "school" means an institution for the teaching of children that is established and maintained under the laws of the state of Montana at public expense.

The trustees of any district shall designate the grade assignments for the schools of the district but for the purposes of this Title each school shall be known as:

(1) an elementary school when it comprises the work of any combination of kindergarten, other preschool programs or the first eight (8) grades, or their equivalents. A middle school is a school comprising the work of grades four (4) through eight (8) or any combination thereof that has been accredited as a middle school under the provisions of section 75-7502. When an accredited junior high school or an accredited six-year high school is operated by the district, grades seven (7) and eight (8), or their equivalents, shall not be considered as elementary grades.

(2) a high school when it comprises the work of one (1) or more grades of school work, or their equivalents, intermediate between the elementary schools and the institutions of higher education of the state of Montana. Types of high schools shall be designated as follows:

(a) a junior high school is a school comprising the work of grades seven (7) through nine (9), or their equivalents, that has been accredited as a junior high school under the provisions of section 75-7502;

(b) a senior high school is a school which comprises the work of grades ten (10) through twelve (12), or their equivalents, and which is operated in conjunction with a junior high school;

(3) unless otherwise required by law, the trustees of an elementary district in which a high school is located and the trustees of the high school district operating such high school may organize the schools of their districts to form a kindergarten through grade twelve (12) school system, provided that the high school and elementary trustees shall not assume responsibility for the administration of grades which are not properly within their jurisdiction.

Section 2. There is a new section to be numbered 75-6609, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

75-6609. Opening of a middle school. The trustees of any elementary district may open a middle school when such opening has been approved by the superintendent of public instruction. The state superintendent shall investigate an application for the opening of a middle school and shall approve or disapprove the opening before the fourth Monday in June preceding the first year of intended operation. When a middle school opening is approved, the county superintendent shall estimate the ANB after investigating the probable enrollment for the middle school. The ANB so estimated shall be used for budgeting and foundation program purposes during the ensuing school fiscal year.

Section 3. Section 75-6902, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"75-6902. Definition and calculation of average number belonging (ANB). The term "average number belonging" or "ANB" shall mean the average number of regularly enrolled, full-time pupils attending the public schools of a district. Average number belonging shall be computed by determining the total of the aggregate days of attendance by regularly enrolled, full-time pupils during the current school fiscal year plus the aggregate days of absence by regularly enrolled, full-time pupils during the current school fiscal year, and by dividing such total by one hundred eighty (180). Attendance for a part of a morning session or a part of an afternoon session by a pupil shall be counted as attendance for one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) day. In calculating the ANB for pupils enrolled in a program established under section 75-7507 prior to January 1, 1974, or pursuant to section 75-7507 (1), attendance at, or absence from, a regular session of the program for at least two hours of either a morning or an afternoon session will be counted as one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of a day attended or absent as the case may be. When any pupil has been absent, with or without excuse, for more than ten (10) consecutive school days, including pupil instruction related days, his absence after the tenth (10th) day of absence shall not be included in the aggregate days of absence and his enrollment in the school shall not be considered in the calculation of the average number belonging until he resumes attendance at school.

The average number belonging of the regularly enrolled, full-time pupils for the public schools of a district shall be calculated, individually, for each school except that when:

(1) more than one school of a district, other than a junior high school in an elementary district which has been approved and accredited as a junior high school, is located within the incorporated limits of a city or town, the average number belonging of such schools shall be based on the aggregate of all the regularly enrolled, full-time pupils attending such schools located within the incorporated limits of a city or town;

(2) a junior high school which has been approved and accredited as a junior high school is located within the incorporated limits of a city or town in which a high school is located, all of the regularly enrolled, full-time pupils of the junior high school shall be considered as high school district pupils for the purposes of calculating the average number belonging of the high schools located within the incorporated limits of such city or town;

(3) a middle school has been approved and accredited, in which case pupils below the seventh grade shall be considered elementary school pupils for ANB purposes, and the seventh and eighth grade pupils shall be considered high school pupils for ANB purposes; or

(4) a school has not been accredited by the board of public education, the regularly enrolled, full-time pupils attending the nonaccredited school shall not be eligible for average number belonging calculation purposes, nor will an average number belonging for the nonaccredited school be used in determining the foundation program for such district."

Section 4. Section 75-7502, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"75-7502. Accreditation of schools. Every school year the conditions under which each elementary school, middle school, junior high school, and high school operates shall be reviewed by the superintendent of public instruction to determine each school's compliance with the standards of accreditation. The accreditation status of every school shall then be established by the board of public education upon the recommendation of the superintendent of public instruction, and notification of such status for the applicable school year shall be given to each district."

Section 5. Section 75-7504, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"75-7504. Instruction in middle schools, junior high schools and high schools. All middle schools, junior high schools and high schools shall be taught in the English language. Instruction shall be given in accordance with the requirements of the standards of accreditation adopted by the board of public education. Such standards shall require instruction in English, American history, American government, mathematics, science, health and physical education. Instruction may be given in additional subjects when approved by the trustees."

CHAPTER NO. 353

AN ACT AMENDING SECTION 75-7104, R.C.M. 1947, AND AUTHORIZING SCHOOL BOND ISSUES IN EXCESS OF THE LIMITATION ON INDEBTEDNESS WHERE MAJOR INDUSTRIAL FACILITIES ARE UNDER CONSTRUCTION OR ABOUT TO BE CONSTRUCTED.

Section 1. Section 75-7104, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"75-7104. Limitations on amount of bond issue. (1) The maximum amount for which each school district shall become indebted by the issuance of bonds, including all indebtedness represented by outstanding bonds of previous issues and registered warrants, is five percent (5%) of the assessed value of the taxable property therein as ascertained by the last completed assessment for state, county, and school taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness. All bonds issued in excess of such amount shall be null and void, except as provided in subsection (2).

When the total indebtedness of a school district has reached the five percent (5%) limitation prescribed in this section, such school district shall have the power and authority to pay all reasonable and necessary expenses of the school district on a cash basis in accordance with the financial administration provisions of this title.

Whenever bonds are issued for the purpose of refunding bonds, any moneys to the credit of the debt service fund for the payment of the bonds to be refunded shall be applied towards the payment of such bonds and the refunding bond issue shall be decreased accordingly.

(2) In the case of a school district within which a new major industrial facility which seeks to qualify for taxation as class seven (7) property under section 84-301, R.C.M. 1947, is being constructed or is about to be constructed, the school district may require, as a precondition of the new major industrial facility qualifying as class seven (7) property, that the owners of the proposed industrial facility enter into an agreement with the school district concerning the issuing of bonds in excess of the five percent (5%) limitation prescribed in subsection one (1). Under such an agreement, the school district may, with the approval of the voters, issue bonds which exceed the limitation prescribed in subsection one (1) by a maximum of five percent (5%) of the estimated assessed value of the taxable property of the new major industrial facility when completed. The estimated assessed value of the taxable property of the new major industrial facility shall be computed by the department of revenue when requested to do so by a resolution of the board of trustees of the school district, and copy of the department's statement of estimated assessed value shall be printed on each ballot used to vote on a bond issue proposed under this subsection.

Pursuant to the agreement between the new major industrial facility and the school district, and as a precondition to qualifying as class seven (7) property, the new major industrial facility and its owners shall, in addition to such taxes as may be imposed by the school district on property owners generally pay so much of the principal and interests on the bonds provided for under this subsection as shall represent payment on an indebtedness in excess of the limitation prescribed in subsection one (1). After the completion of the new major industrial facility and when the indebtedness of the school district no longer exceeds the limitation prescribed in subsection one (1), the new major industrial facility shall be entitled, after all the current indebtedness of the school district has been paid, to a tax credit over a period of no more than twenty (20) years which credit shall, as a total amount, be equal to the amount by which the facility paid the principal and interest of the school district's bonds in excess of its general liability as a taxpayer within the district.

A major industrial facility is a facility, subject to the taxing power of the school district, whose construction or operation will increase the population of the district so as to impose a significant burden upon the resources of the district and to require construction of new school facilities. A significant burden is an increase in ANB of at least twenty percent (20%) in a single year."

CHAPTER NO. 364

AN ACT ESTABLISHING PREREQUISITES AND PROCEDURES FOR MUNICIPALITIES TO ANNEX CONTIGUOUS AREAS AND AUTHORIZING FREEHOLDERS TO PETITION FOR ANNEXATION; REQUIRING MUNICIPALITIES TO PLAN THE EXTENSION OF GOVERNMENTAL SERVICES TO SUCH AREAS; AND PROVIDING FOR JUDICIAL REVIEW OF ANNEXATION PROCEEDINGS.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. There is a new section to be numbered 11-514, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-514. Title. The bill shall be entitled "The Planned Community Development Act of 1973."

Section 2. There is a new section to be numbered 11-515, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-515. Purpose. It is declared as a matter of state policy that current annexation laws and planning methods incorporated in the Montana system are in many cases discriminatory and are causing in many of the Montana cities indiscriminate growth patterns and forcing in many cases citizens of municipalities to be annexed without provision for adequate city services extended and provided for them. Likewise, in many cities city government is annexing and adding to cities not to the benefit of those being annexed, but to the benefit of the city, merely to derive a greater tax base. Likewise, in many cities there are those lying on the perimeter of the city not within the corporate boundaries of a city that are deriving many benefits from the city without paying their just and equal share for these services. Therefore, it is the purpose of this act to develop a just and equitable system of adding to and increasing cities boundaries for the state of Montana, which will develop the following firm policies:

(1) Sound urban development is essential to the continued economic development of this state and any annexation prepared must be well planned in advance.

(2) Municipalities are created to provide the governmental services essential for sound urban development and for the protection of health, safety and welfare in areas being intensively used for residential, commercial, industrial, institutional and governmental purposes or in areas undergoing such development and future annexations must consider these principles.

(3) Municipal boundaries should be extended, in accordance with legislative standards applicable throughout the state, to include such areas and to provide the high quality of governmental services needed for the public health, safety and welfare.

(4) Areas annexed to municipalities in accordance with such uniform legislative standards should receive the services provided by the annexing municipality as soon as possible following annexation.

Section 3. There is a new section to be numbered 11-516, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-516. Definitions. The following terms where used in this act have the following meanings, except where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

(1) "Contiguous" means any area which, at the time annexation procedures are initiated, either abuts directly on the municipal boundary or is separated from the municipal boundary by a street or street right-of-way, a creek or river, the right-of-way of a railroad or other public service corporation, lands owned by the city or some other political subdivision, or lands owned by the state.

(2) "Municipality" means any city or town under Montana law.

(3) "Resident freeholder" means a person who maintains his residence on real property in which he holds an estate of life or inheritance or of which he is the purchaser of such an estate under a contract for deed, some memorandum of which has been filed in the office of the county clerk and recorder.

Section 4. There is a new section to be numbered 11-517, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-517. Initiation of extention of corporate limits. The governing body of any municipality may extend the corporate limits of such municipality under the procedure set forth in this act upon the initiation of the procedure by the board itself; or, whenever the resident freeholders situated outside the corporate boundaries of any municipality, but contiguous thereto, desire to have real estate annexed to the municipality, they may file with the governing body of the municipality a petition bearing the signatures of fifty-one percent (51%) of the resident freeholders in the territory sought to be annexed, requesting a resolution stating the intent of the municipality to consider annexation. Upon passage of the resolution, the governing body shall follow the procedure in section 7 [11-520] of this act. If the municipal governing body fails to act within sixty (60) days the petitioners may appeal to the district court under the procedure set down in section 9 [11-522] of this act.

Section 5. There is a new section to be numbered 11-518, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-518. Plans to provide services. A municipality exercising authority under this act shall make plans for the extension of services to the area proposed to be annexed and shall, prior to the public hearing provided for in section 7 [11-520] of this act, prepare a report setting forth its plans to provide services to such area. This report shall include:

(1) A map or maps of the municipality and adjacent territory to show the following information:

- (a) the present and proposed boundaries of the municipality;
- (b) the present streets, major truck water mains, sewer interceptors and outfalls and other utility lines, and the proposed extension of such streets and utility lines as required in subsection (3) of this section; and
- (c) the general land-use pattern in the areas to be annexed.

(2) A statement showing that the area to be annexed meets the requirements of section 6 [11-519] of this act.

(3) A statement setting forth the plans of the municipality for extending to the area to be annexed each major municipal service performed within the municipality at the time of annexation. Specifically, such plans shall:

(a) provide a long-range plan for extension of services and the acquisition of properties outside the corporate limits. This plan must show anticipated development a minimum of five (5) years into the future showing on a yearly basis how the municipality plans to extend services, develop and add sections to the city;

(b) provide for extending police protection, fire protection, garbage collection, and streets and street maintenance services to the area to be annexed on substantially the same basis and in the same manner as such services are provided within the rest of the municipality prior to annexation;

(c) provide for future extension of streets and of major trunk water mains, sewer outfall lines and other utility services into the area to be annexed, so that when such streets and utility lines become necessary and are constructed, property owners in the area to be annexed will be able to secure such services, according to the policies in effect in such municipality for extending such services to individual lots or subdivisions;

(d) if extension of streets and water, sewer or other utility lines into the area to be annexed is necessary, set forth a proposed timetable for construction of such streets and utility lines; and

(e) a method must be set forth by which the municipality plans to finance extension of services into the area to be annexed. Included within this plan must be a methodology whereby the area to be annexed may vote upon any proposed capital improvements. Should a negative vote be cast by over fifty percent (50%) of those resident freeholders in the section or sections to be annexed in such election, the area shall not be annexed.

If the area is serviced currently by adequate water and sewage services, streets, curb and gutters, and no capital improvements are needed to provide adequate services stipulated by this section, the municipality must provide the area to be annexed with a plan of how they plan to finance other services to be included within the district — mainly police protection, fire protection, garbage collection, street and street maintenance services, as well as continued utility service. In this annexation plan it must be clearly stated that the entire municipality tends to share the tax burden for these services. And if so, the area may be annexed without a bond issue under the provisions of this act.

Section 6. There is a new section to be numbered 11-519, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-519. Standards to be met before annexation can occur. (1) A municipal governing body may extend the municipal corporate limits to include any area which meets the general standards of subsection (2) of this section.

(2) The total area to be annexed must meet the following standards:

(a) it must be contiguous to the municipalities boundaries at the time the annexation proceeding is begun;

(b) no part of the area shall be included within the boundary of another incorporated municipality;

(c) it must be included within and the proposed annexation must conform to a comprehensive plan as prescribed in Title 11, chapter 38, R.C.M. 1947; and

(d) no part of the area shall be included within the boundary, as existing at the inception of such attempted annexation, of any fire district organized under any of the provisions of chapter 20, Title 11, R.C.M. 1947, provided that such fire district was originally organized at least ten (10) years prior to the inception of such attempted annexation.

(3) In fixing new municipal boundaries, a municipal governing body shall, wherever practical, use natural topographic features such as ridge lines and streams and creeks as boundaries, and if a street is used as a boundary, include within the municipality land on both sides of the street and such outside boundary may not extend more than two hundred (200) feet beyond the right-of-way of the street.

Section 7. There is a new section to be numbered 11-520, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-520. Resolution of intention to annex — public hearing notice — action by governing body after hearing. (1) The governing body of any municipality desiring to annex territory under the provisions of this act shall first pass a resolution stating the intent of the municipality to consider annexation. Such resolution shall describe the boundaries of the area under consideration and fix a date for a public hearing on the question of annexation, the date for such public hearing to be not less than thirty (30) days and not more than sixty (60) days following passage of the resolution.

(2) The notice of public hearing shall:

(a) fix the date, hour and place of the public hearing;

(b) describe clearly the boundaries of the area under consideration;

(c) state that the report required in section 5 [11-518] of this act will be available in the office of the municipal official designated by the governing body at least fourteen (14) days prior to the date of the public hearing.

Such notice will be given by publication in a newspaper having general circulation in the municipality once a week for at least four (4) successive weeks prior to the date of the hearing. The date of the last publication shall not be more than seven (7) days preceding the date of the public hearing. If there be no such newspaper, the municipality shall post the notice in at least five (5) public places within the municipality and at least five (5) public places in the area to be annexed for thirty (30) days prior to the date of public hearing.

(3) At least fourteen (14) days before the date of the public hearing, the governing body shall approve the report provided for in section 5 [11-518] of this act, and shall make it available to the public at the office of the municipal official designated by the governing body. In addition, the municipality may prepare a summary of the full report for public distribution.

(4) At the public hearing, a representative of the municipality as designated by the governing body shall first make an explanation of the report required in section 5 [11-518] of this act. Following such explanation, all persons resident or owning property in the territory described in the notice of public hearing and all residents of the municipality shall be given an opportunity to be heard.

(5) The municipal governing body shall take into consideration facts presented at the public hearing and shall have authority to amend the report required by section 5 [11-518] of this act and to make changes in the plans for serving the area proposed to be annexed so long as such changes meet the requirements of section 5 [11-518]. At any regular or special meeting held no sooner than seven (7) days following the public hearing and no later than sixty (60) days following such public hearing, the governing body shall have authority to adopt an ordinance extending the corporate limits of the municipality to include all, or such part, of the area described in the notice of public hearing, which meets the requirements of section 6 [11-519] of this act, and which the governing body has concluded should be annexed. The ordinance shall:

(a) contain specific findings showing that the area to be annexed meets the requirements of section 6 [11-519] of this act. The external boundaries of the area to be annexed shall be described by metes and bounds;

(b) contain a statement of the intent of the municipality to provide services to the area being annexed as set forth in the report required by section 5 [11-518] of this act; and

(c) fix the effective date of annexation. The effective date of annexation may be fixed for any date within twelve (12) months from the date of passage of the ordinance.

(6) From and after the effective date of the annexation ordinance, the territory and its citizens and property shall be subject to all debts, laws, ordinances and regulations in force in such municipality and shall be entitled to the same privileges and benefits as other parts of such municipality. The newly annexed territory shall be subject to municipal taxes levied for the fiscal year following the effective date of annexation. Annexed property which is part of a sanitary district or other special service district which has installed water, sewer or other utilities or improvements, paid for by the residents of said district, shall not be subject to that part of the municipal taxes levied for debt service for the first five (5) years after the effective date of annexation.

(7) If a municipality is considering the annexation of two (2) or more areas which are all adjacent to the municipal boundary but are not adjacent to one another, it may undertake simultaneous proceeding under authority of this act for the annexation of such areas.

(8) For a period of twenty (20) days after the public hearing provided for in section 7 [11-520] of this act the governing body of the municipality shall receive expressions of approval or disapproval in writing, of the proposed annexation from resident freeholders of the territory proposed to be annexed. If a majority of the said resident freeholders, in writing, disapprove the proposed annexation, no further proceedings under this act shall be had, relating to the territory proposed to be annexed or any part thereof, for a period of one (1) year from the date of such disapproval.

Section 8. There is a new section to be numbered 11-521, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-521. Annexation order. The clerk or other officer performing the duties of the clerk of the governing body of a municipality shall promptly make and certify under the seal of the municipal corporation a copy of the record so entered upon the minutes, which document shall be filed with the clerk of the county in which the municipality to which the territory or territories are sought to be annexed, is situated. From and after the date of filing the document in the office of the county clerk or the effective date of the ordinance, whichever is later, the annexation of the territory or territories shall be complete and henceforth such annexed territory or territories shall be a part of the municipal corporation, and the city or town to which the annexation is made has the power to pass all necessary ordinances pertaining thereto.

Section 9. There is a new section to be numbered 11-522, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-522. Right to court review when area annexed. (1) Within thirty (30) days following the passage of an annexation ordinance under authority of this act, either a majority of the resident freeholders in the territory or the owners of more than seventy-five percent (75%) in assessed valuation of the real estate in the territory who shall believe that he or they will suffer material injury, by reason of the failure of the municipal governing body to comply with the procedure set forth in this act or to meet the requirements set forth in section 6 [11-519] of this act as they apply to his or their property, may file a petition in the district court of the district in which the municipality is located, seeking review of the action of the governing board and serve a copy of the petition on the municipality in the manner of service of civil process.

(2) If two (2) or more petitions for review are submitted to the court, the court may consolidate all such petitions for review at a single hearing.

(3) The review shall be conducted by the court without a jury. The court may hear oral arguments and receive written briefs, and may take evidence intended to show either:

- (a) that the statutory procedure was not followed;
- (b) that the provisions of section 5 [11-518] or section 6 [11-519] were not met; or
- (c) the court may affirm the action of the governing body without change, or it may:

- (i) remand the ordinance to the municipal governing body for further proceedings if procedural irregularities are found to have materially prejudiced the substantive rights of any of the petitioners;

- (ii) remand the ordinance to the municipal governing body for amendment of the boundaries to conform to the provisions of section 6 [11-519]; but the court cannot remand the ordinance to the municipal governing body with directions to add an area to the municipality which was not included in the notice of public hearing and not provided for in plans for service; or

- (iii) remand the report to the municipal governing body for amendment of the plans for providing services to the end that the provisions of section 5 [11-518] of this act are satisfied.

If any municipality fails to take action in accordance with the court's instructions upon remand within three (3) months from receipt of such instructions, the court may in its discretion extend the time for compliance.

(4) Any party to the review proceedings, including the municipality, may appeal to the Montana supreme court from the final judgment of the district court under rules of procedure applicable in other civil cases. The appealing party may apply to the lower court for a stay in its final determination, or a stay of the annexation ordinance, whichever shall be appropriate, pending the outcome of the appeal to the higher court; provided, that the lower court may, with the agreement of the municipality, permit annexation to be effective with respect to any part of the area concerning which no appeal is being made.

If part or all of the area annexed under the terms of an annexation ordinance is the subject of an appeal to the lower or higher court on the effective date of the ordinance, then the ordinance shall be deemed amended to make the effective date with respect to such area the date of the final judgment of the lower or higher court, whichever is appropriate, or the date the municipal governing board completes action to make the ordinance conform to the court's instructions in the event of remand.

(5) All decisions and findings of the governing body of the municipality shall be presumed to be reasonable and lawful, until and unless they are modified or set aside by the governing body or upon review.

(6) No decisions of the governing body shall be subject to collateral attack and may be reviewed or modified only in the manner provided herein.

Section 10. There is a new section to be numbered 11-523, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-523. Right to court review when area not annexed. After the resident freeholders have properly petitioned the governing body of the municipality and the body has failed to pass a resolution of intent to annex within sixty (60) days, the petitioners may file a complaint and a duplicate copy of the petition in the district court of the proper jurisdiction stating the reason why the proposed annexation should take place. The municipality shall be designated party defendant in the cause and shall be required to appear and answer as in other cases. The court, without a jury, shall hear and determine the questions presented in the petition. If the evidence establishes that:

(1) essential municipal services and facilities are not available to the inhabitants of such territory;

(2) the municipality is physically and financially able to provide municipal services to the area sought to be annexed; and

(3) at least one-eighth ( $\frac{1}{8}$ ) of the aggregate external boundaries of the territory sought to be annexed is contiguous to the boundaries of the municipality; the court shall order the proposed annexation to take place, notwithstanding the provisions of any other law of this state.

If, however, the evidence does not establish all three (3) of the foregoing factors, the court shall deny the petition to annex and dismiss the proceeding.

Section 11. There is a new section to be numbered 11-524, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-524. Certain expenditures authorized. Municipalities initiating annexations under the provisions of this act are authorized to make expenditures for surveys required to describe the property under consideration, or for any other purpose necessary to plan for the study or annexation of unincorporated territory adjacent to the municipality. In addition, following final passage of the annexation ordinance, the annexing municipality shall have authority to proceed with expenditures for construction of streets, utility lines and other capital facilities in the annexed area.

Section 12. There is a new section to be numbered 11-525, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

11-525. Severability and construction. It is the intent of the legislative assembly that if a part of this act is invalid, all valid parts that are severable from the invalid part remain in effect. If a part of this act is invalid in one or more of its applications, the part remains in effect in all valid applications that are severable from the invalid applications.

Insofar as the provisions of this act are inconsistent with the provisions of any other law, the provisions of this act shall be controlling. The method of annexation authorized in this act shall be construed as supplemental to and independent from other methods of annexation authorized by state law.

Section 1.

GENERAL PROVISIONS, DEFINITIONS, AND
PROBATE JURISDICTION OF COURT
SHORT TITLE, CONSTRUCTION, GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 91A-1-101. Short title. This act shall be known and may be cited as the Uniform Probate Code.

Section 91A-1-102. Purposes; rules of construction. (1) This code shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying purposes and policies.

(2) The underlying purposes and policies of this code are:

(a) to simplify and clarify the law concerning the affairs of decedents, missing persons, protected persons, minors and incapacitated persons;

(b) to discover and make effective the intent of a decedent in distribution of his property;

(c) to promote a speedy and efficient system for liquidating the estate of the decedent and making distribution to its successors;

(d) to make uniform the law among the various jurisdictions.

Section 91A-1-103. Supplementary general principles of law applicable. Unless displaced by the particular provisions of this code, the principles of law and equity supplement its provisions.

Section 91A-1-104. Severability. If any provision of this code or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the code which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this code are declared to be severable.

Section 91A-1-105. Construction against implied repeal. This code is a general act intended as a unified coverage of its subject matter and no part of it shall be deemed impliedly repealed by subsequent legislation if it can reasonably be avoided.

Section 91A-1-106. Effect of fraud and evasion. Whenever fraud has been perpetrated in connection with any proceeding or in any statement filed under this code or if fraud is used to avoid or circumvent the provisions or purposes of this code, any person injured thereby may obtain appropriate relief including restitution against the perpetrator of the fraud or any person benefitting from the fraud, whether innocent or not (other than a bona fide purchaser for value and without notice). Any proceeding must be commenced within two (2) years after the discovery of the fraud, but no proceeding may be brought against one not a perpetrator of the fraud later than five (5) years after the time of commission of the fraud. This section has no bearing on remedies relating to fraud practiced on a decedent during his lifetime which affects the succession of his estate.

Section 91A-1-107. Evidence as to death or status. In proceedings under this code the rules of evidence in courts of general jurisdiction including any relating to simultaneous deaths, are applicable unless specifically displaced by the code. In addition, the following rules relating to determination of death and status are applicable:

(1) a certified or authenticated copy of a death certificate purporting to be issued by an official or agency of the place where the death purportedly occurred is prima facie proof of the fact, place, date and time of death and the identity of the decedent;

(2) a certified or authenticated copy of any record or report of a governmental agency, domestic or foreign, that a person is missing, detained, dead, or alive is prima facie evidence of the status and of the dates, circumstances and places disclosed by the record or report;

(3) a person who is absent for a continuous period of seven (7) years, during which he has not been heard from, and whose absence is not satisfactorily explained after diligent search or inquiry is presumed to be dead. His death is presumed to have occurred at the end of the period unless there is sufficient evidence for determining that death occurred earlier.

Section 91A-1-108. Acts by holder of general power. For the purpose of granting consent or approval with regard to the acts or accounts of a personal representative, including relief from liability or penalty for failure to post bond, or to perform other duties the sole holder or all coholders of a presently exercisable general power of appointment, including one in the form of a power of amendment or revocation, are deemed to act for beneficiaries to the extent their interests (as objects, takers in default, or otherwise) are subject to the power.

INTESTATE SUCCESSION AND WILLS INTESTATE SUCCESSION

Section 91A-2-101. Intestate estate. Any part of the estate of a decedent not effectively disposed of by his will passes to his heirs as prescribed in the following sections of this code.

- (2) if there are surviving issue all of whom are issue of the surviving spouse also, the first fifty thousand dollars (\$50,000), plus one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of the balance of the intestate estate;
- (3) if there are surviving issue one (1) or more of whom are not issue of the surviving spouse, one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of the intestate estate.

Section 91A-2-103. Share of heirs other than surviving spouse. The part of the intestate estate not passing to the surviving spouse under section 91A-2-102, or the entire intestate estate if there is no surviving spouse, passes as follows:

- (1) to the issue of the decedent; if they are all of the same degree of kinship to the decedent they take equally, but if of unequal degree, then those of more remote degree take by representation;
- (2) if there is no surviving issue, to his parent or parents equally;
- (3) if there is no surviving issue or parent, to the brothers and sisters and the issue of each deceased brother or sister by representation; if there is no surviving brother or sister, the issue of brothers and sisters take equally if they are all of the same degree of kinship to the decedent, but if of unequal degree then those of more remote degree take by representation;

Section 91A-2-104. Requirement that heir survive decedent for one hundred twenty (120) hours. Any person who fails to survive the decedent by one hundred twenty (120) hours is deemed to have predeceased the decedent for purposes of homestead allowance, exempt property and intestate succession, and the decedent's heirs are determined accordingly. If the time of death of the decedent or of the person who would otherwise be an heir, or the times of death of both, cannot be determined, and it cannot be established that the person who would otherwise be an heir has survived the decedent by one hundred twenty (120) hours, it is deemed that the person failed to survive for the required period. This section is not to be applied where its application would result in a taking of intestate estate by the state under section 91A-2-105.

Section 91A-2-105. No taker. If there is no taker under the provisions of sections 91A-2-102 and 91A-2-103 the intestate estate passes to the state of Montana.

Section 91A-2-106. Representation. If representation is called for by this code, the estate is divided into as many shares as there are surviving heirs in the nearest degree of kinship and deceased persons in the same degree who left issue who survive the decedent, each surviving heir in the nearest degree receiving one (1) share and the share of each deceased person in the same degree being divided among his issue in the same manner.

Section 91A-2-107. Kindred of half blood. Relatives of the half blood inherit the same share they would inherit if they were of the whole blood.

Section 91A-2-108. Afterborn heirs. Relatives of the decedent conceived before his death but born thereafter inherit as if they had been born in the lifetime of the decedent.

Section 91A-2-109. Meaning of child and related terms. If, for the purposes of intestate succession, a relationship of parent and child must be established to determine succession by, through, or from a person:

- (1) An adopted person shall inherit as the child of an adopting parent.
- (2) In cases not covered by (1), a person born out of wedlock is a child of the mother. That person is also a child of the father, if:
  - (a) the natural parents participated in a marriage ceremony before or after the birth of the child, even though the attempted marriage is void; or
  - (b) the paternity is established by an adjudication before the death of the father or is established thereafter by clear and convincing proof, except that the paternity established under this subparagraph (b) is ineffective to qualify the father or his kindred to inherit from or through the child unless the father has openly treated the child as his, and has not refused to support the child.

Section 91A-2-110. Advancements. If a person dies intestate as to all his estate, property which he gave in his lifetime to an heir is treated as an advancement against the latter's share of the estate only if declared in a contemporaneous writing by the decedent or acknowledged in writing by the heir to be an advancement. For this purpose the property advanced is valued as of the time the heir came into possession or enjoyment of the property or as of the time of death of the decedent, whichever first occurs. If the recipient of the property fails to survive the decedent, the property is not taken into account in computing the intestate share to be received by the recipient's issue, unless the declaration or acknowledgment provides otherwise.

Section 91A-2-111. Alienage. No person is disqualified to take as an heir because he or a person through whom he claims is an alien unless the country in which he resides does not allow reciprocity.

Section 91A-2-112. Dower and curtesy abolished. The estates of dower and curtesy are abolished.

ELECTIVE SHARE OF SURVIVING SPOUSE

Section 91A-2-201. Right to elective share. (1) If a married person domiciled in this state dies, the surviving spouse has a right of election to take an elective share of one-third ( $\frac{1}{3}$ ) of the augmented estate under the limitations and conditions hereinafter stated.

(2) If a married person not domiciled in this state dies, the right, if any, of the surviving spouse to take an elective share in property in this state is governed by the law of the decedent's domicile at death.

Section 91A-2-202. Augmented estate. The augmented estate means the estate reduced by funeral and administration expenses, homestead allowance, family allowances and exemptions, and enforceable claims, to which is added the sum of the following amounts:

(1) The value of property transferred by the decedent at any time during marriage, to or for the benefit of any person other than the surviving spouse, to the extent that the decedent did not receive adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth for the transfer, if the transfer is of any of the following types:

(a) any transfer under which the decedent retained at the time of his death the possession or enjoyment of, or right to income from, the property;

(b) any transfer to the extent that the decedent retained at the time of his death a power, either alone or in conjunction with any other person, to revoke or to consume, invade or dispose of the principal for his own benefit;

(c) any transfer whereby property is held at the time of decedent's death by decedent and another with right of survivorship;

(d) any transfer made within three (3) years of death of the decedent to the extent that the aggregate transfers to any one donee in any of the years exceed three thousand dollars ($3,000).

(2) Any transfer is excluded if made with the written consent or joinder of the surviving spouse. Property is valued as of the decedent's death except that property given irrevocably to a donee during lifetime of the decedent is valued as of the date the donee came into possession or enjoyment if that occurs first. Nothing herein shall cause to be included in the augmented estate any life insurance, accident insurance, joint annuity, or pension payable to a person other than the surviving spouse.

(3) The value of property owned by the surviving spouse at the decedent's death, plus the value of property transferred by the spouse at any time during marriage to any person other than the decedent which would have been includible in the spouse's augmented estate if the surviving spouse had predeceased the decedent, to the extent the owned or transferred property is derived from the decedent by any means other than testate or intestate succession without a full consideration in money or money's worth. For purposes of this subsection:

(a) Property derived from the decedent includes, but is not limited to, any beneficial interest of the surviving spouse in a trust created by the decedent during his lifetime, any property appointed to the spouse by the decedent's exercise of a general or special power of appointment also exercisable in favor of others than the spouse, any proceeds of insurance (including accidental death benefits) on the life of the decedent attributable to premiums paid by him, any lump sum immediately payable and the commuted value of the proceeds of annuity contracts under which the decedent was the primary annuitant attributable to premiums paid by him, the commuted value of amounts payable after the decedent's death under any public or private pension, disability compensation, death benefit or retirement plan, exclusive of the federal social security system, by reason of service performed or disabilities incurred by the decedent, and the value of the share of the surviving spouse resulting from rights in community property in this or any other state formerly owned with the decedent. Premiums paid by the decedent's employer, his partner, a partnership of which he was a member, or his creditors, are deemed to have been paid by the decedent.

(b) Property owned by the spouse at the decedent's death is valued as of the date of death. Property transferred by the spouse is valued at the time the transfer became irrevocable, or at the decedent's death, whichever occurred first. Income earned by included property prior to the decedent's death is not treated as property derived from the decedent.

(c) Property owned by the surviving spouse as of the decedent's death, or previously transferred by the surviving spouse, is presumed to have been derived from the decedent except to the extent that the surviving spouse establishes that it was derived from another source.

Section 91A-2-203. Right of election personal to surviving spouse. The right of election of the surviving spouse may be exercised only by him. In the case of a protected person, the right of election may be exercised only by order of the court in which protective proceedings as to his property are pending, after finding that exercise is necessary to provide adequate support for the protected person during his probable life expectancy.

Section 91A-2-204. Waiver of right to elect and of other rights. The right of election of a surviving spouse and the rights of the surviving spouse to homestead allowance, exempt property and family allowance, or any of them, may be waived, wholly or partially, before or after marriage, by a written contract, agreement or waiver signed by the party waiving after fair disclosure. Unless it provides to the contrary, a waiver of "all rights" (or equivalent language) in the property or estate of a present or prospective spouse or a complete property settlement entered into after or in anticipation of separation or divorce is a waiver of all rights to elective share, homestead allowance, exempt property and family allowance by each spouse in the property of the other and a renunciation by each of all benefits which would otherwise pass to him from the other by intestate succession or by virtue of the provisions of any will executed before the waiver or property settlement.

Section 91A-2-205. Proceeding for elective share; time limit. (1) The surviving spouse may elect to take his elective share in the augmented net estate by filing in the court and mailing or delivering to the personal representative, if any, a petition for the elective share within six (6) months after the first publication of notice to creditors for filing claims which arose before the death of the decedent, or within one year of the date of death, whichever time limitation first expires. The court may extend the time for election as it sees fit for cause shown by the surviving spouse before the time for election has expired.

(2) The surviving spouse shall give notice of the time and place set for hearing to persons interested in the estate and to the distributees and recipients of portions of the augmented net estate whose interests will be adversely affected by the taking of the elective share.

(3) The surviving spouse may withdraw his demand for an elective share at any time before entry of a final determination by the court.

(4) After notice and hearing, the court shall determine the amount of the elective share and shall order its payment from the assets of the augmented net estate or by contribution as appears appropriate under section 91A-2-207. If it appears that a fund or property included in the augmented net estate has not come into the possession of the personal representative, or has been distributed by the personal representative, the court nevertheless shall fix the liability of any person who has any interest in the fund or property or who has possession thereof, whether as trustee or otherwise. The proceeding may be maintained against fewer than all persons against whom relief could be sought, but no person is subject to contribution in any greater amount than he would have been if relief had been secured against all persons subject to contribution.

(5) The order or judgment of the court may be enforced as necessary in suit for contribution or payment in other courts of this state or other jurisdictions.

Section 91A-2-206. Effect of election on benefits by will or statute.

(1) The surviving spouse's election of his elective share does not affect the share of the surviving spouse under the provisions of the decedent's will or intestate succession unless the surviving spouse also expressly renounces in the petition for an elective share the benefit of all or any of the provisions. If any provision is so renounced, the property or other benefit which would otherwise have passed to the surviving spouse thereunder is treated, subject to contribution under subsection 91A-2-207(2), as if the surviving spouse had predeceased the testator.

(2) A surviving spouse is entitled to homestead allowance, exempt property and family allowance whether or not he elects to take an elective share.

Section 91A-2-207. Charging spouse with property received; liability of others for balance of elective share. (1) In the proceeding for an elective share, property which is part of the augmented estate which passes or has passed to the surviving spouse by testate or intestate succession or other means and which has not been renounced, including that described in section 91A-2-202(3), is applied first to satisfy the elective share and to reduce the amount due from other recipients of portions of the augmented estate.

(2) Remaining property of the augmented estate is so applied that liability for the balance of the elective share of the surviving spouse is equitably apportioned among the recipients of the augmented estate in proportion to the value of their interests therein.

(3) Only original transferees from, or appointees of, the decedent and their donees, to the extent the donees have the property or its proceeds, are subject to the contribution to make up the elective share of the surviving spouse. A person liable to contribution may choose to give up the property transferred to him or to pay its value as of the time it is considered in computing the augmented estate.

SPOUSE AND CHILDREN UNPROVIDED FOR IN WILLS

Section 91A-2-301. Omitted spouse. (1) If a testator fails to provide by will for his surviving spouse who married the testator after the execution of the will, the omitted spouse shall receive the same share of the estate he would have received if the decedent left no will unless it appears from the will that the omission was intentional or the testator provided for the spouse by transfer outside the will and the intent that the transfer be in lieu of a testamentary provision is shown by statements of the testator or from the amount of the transfer or other evidence.

(2) In satisfying a share provided by this section, the devises made by the will abate as provided in section 91A-3-902.

Section 91A-2-302. Pretermitted children. (1) If a testator fails to provide in his will for any of his children born or adopted after the execution of his will, the omitted child receives a share in the estate equal in value to that which he would have received if the testator had died intestate unless:

- (a) it appears from the will that the omission was intentional;

(b) when the will was executed the testator had one (1) or more children and devised substantially all his estate to the other parent of the omitted child; or

(c) the testator provided for the child by transfer outside the will and the intent that the transfer be in lieu of a testamentary provision is shown by statements of the testator or from the amount of the transfer or other evidence.

(2) If at the time of execution of the will the testator fails to provide in his will for a living child solely because he believes the child to be dead, the child receives a share in the estate equal in value to that which he would have received if the testator had died intestate.

(3) In satisfying a share provided by this section, the devises made by the will abate as provided in section 91A-3-902.

EXEMPT PROPERTY AND ALLOWANCES

Section 91A-2-401. Homestead allowance. (1) A surviving spouse of a decedent who was domiciled in this state is entitled to a homestead allowance as provided in sections 33-101 through 33-129, R.C.M. 1947. If there is no surviving spouse, each minor child and each dependent child of the decedent is entitled to a homestead allowance as provided in sections 33-101 through 33-129, R.C.M. 1947, divided by the number of minor and dependent children of the decedent. The homestead allowance is exempt from and has priority over all claims against the estate. Homestead allowance is in addition to any share passing to the surviving spouse or minor or dependent child by the will of the decedent unless otherwise provided, by intestate succession or by way of elective share.

(2) If no homestead has been selected, designated and recorded prior to the decedent's death, the personal representative shall select, designate, set apart and cause to be recorded a homestead for the use of the surviving spouse and minor children and this section shall take effect as if the homestead had been declared before the decedent's death.

Section 91A-2-402. Exempt property. In addition to the homestead allowance, the surviving spouse of a decedent who was domiciled in this state is entitled from the estate to value not exceeding three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) in excess of any security interests therein in household furniture, automobiles, furnishings, appliances and personal effects. If there is no surviving spouse, children of the decedent are entitled jointly to the same value. If encumbered chattels are selected and if the value in excess of security interests, plus that of other exempt property, is less than three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500), or if there is not three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) worth of exempt property in the estate, the spouse or children are entitled to other assets of the estate, if any, to the extent necessary to make up the three thousand five hundred dollars ($3,500) value. Rights to exempt property and assets needed to make up a deficiency of exempt property have priority over all claims against the estate, except that the right to any assets to make up a deficiency of exempt property shall abate as necessary to permit prior payment of homestead allowance and family allowance. These rights are in addition to any benefit or share passing to the surviving spouse or children by the will of the decedent unless otherwise provided, by intestate succession, or by way of elective share.

Section 91A-2-403. Family allowance. In addition to the right to homestead allowance and exempt property, if the decedent was domiciled in this state, the surviving spouse and minor children whom the decedent was obligated to support and children who were in fact being supported by him are entitled to a reasonable allowance in money out of the estate for their maintenance during the period of administration, which allowance may not continue for longer than one (1) year if the estate is inadequate to discharge allowed claims. The allowance may be paid as a lump sum or in periodic installments. It is payable to the surviving spouse, if living, for the use of the surviving spouse and minor and dependent children; otherwise to the children, or persons having their care and custody; but in case any minor child or dependent child is not living with the surviving spouse, the allowance may be made partially to the child or his guardian or other person having his care and custody, and partially to the spouse, as their needs may appear. The family allowance is exempt from and has priority over all claims but not over the homestead allowance.

The family allowance is not chargeable against any benefit or share passing to the surviving spouse or children by the will of the decedent unless otherwise provided, by intestate succession, or by way of elective share. The death of any person entitled to family allowance terminates his right to allowances not yet paid.

Section 91A-2-404. Source, determination and documentation. If the estate is otherwise sufficient, property specifically devised is not used to satisfy rights to homestead and exempt property. Subject to this restriction, the surviving spouse, the guardians of the minor children, or children who are adults may select property of the estate as homestead allowance and exempt property. The personal representative may make these selections if the surviving spouse, the children or the guardians of the minor children are unable or fail to do so within a reasonable time or if there are no guardians of the minor children. The personal representative may execute an instrument or deed of distribution to establish the ownership of property taken as homestead allowance or exempt property. He may determine the family allowance in a lump sum not exceeding six thousand dollars ($6,000) or periodic installments not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500) per month for one (1) year, and may disburse funds of the estate in payment of the family allowance and any part of the homestead allowance payable in cash. The personal representative or any interested person aggrieved by any selection, determination, payment, proposed payment, or failure to act under this section may petition the court for appropriate relief, which relief may provide a family allowance larger or smaller than that which the personal representative determined or could have determined.

Section 91A-2-405. Allowances and exempt property included in inheritance tax exemption. The allowances and exempt property provided for in sections 91A-2-401 through 91A-2-403 are to be included in computing the exemptions from inheritance tax provided for in section 91-4414 and are not in addition to such inheritance tax exemptions.

WILLS

Section 91A-2-501. Who may make a will. Any person eighteen (18) or more years of age who is of sound mind may make a will.

Section 91A-2-502. Execution. Except as provided for holographic wills, writings within section 91A-2-513, and wills within section 91A-2-506, every will shall be in writing signed by the testator or in the testator's name by some other person in the testator's presence and by his direction, and shall be signed by at least two (2) persons each of whom witnessed either the signing or the testator's acknowledgment of the signature or of the will.

Section 91A-2-503. Holographic will. A will which does not comply with section 91A-2-502 is valid as a holographic will, whether or not witnessed, if the signature and the material provisions are in the handwriting of the testator.

Section 91A-2-504. Self-proved will. An attested will may at the time of its execution or at any subsequent date be made self-proved, by the acknowledgment thereof by the testator and the affidavits of the witnesses, each made before an officer authorized to administer oaths under the laws of this state, and evidenced by the officer's certificate, under official seal, attached or annexed to the will in form and content substantially as follows:

THE STATE OF .....
COUNTY OF .....

We, ....., and ....., the testator and the witnesses, respectively, whose names are signed to the attached or foregoing instrument, being first duly sworn, do hereby declare to the undersigned authority that the testator signed and executed the instrument as his last will and that he had signed willingly or directed another to sign for him, and that he executed it as his free and voluntary act for the purposes therein expressed; and that each of the witnesses, in the presence and hearing of the testator, signed the will as witness and to the best of his knowledge the testator was at that time 18 or more years of age, of sound mind and under no constraint or undue influence.

.... Testator

.... Witness

.... Witness

Subscribed, sworn to and acknowledged before me by ....., the testator, and subscribed and sworn to before me by .... and ....., witnesses, this .... day of ....., .....

(SEAL)

(Signed)....

....(Official capacity of officer)

Section 91A-2-505. Who may witness; effect of witness by beneficiary. (1) Any person generally competent to be a witness may act as a witness to a will.

(2) A will is not invalid because the will is signed by an interested witness.

(3) All beneficial devises made in any will to a subscribing witness thereto, are void, unless there are two (2) other competent subscribing witnesses to the same; but a mere charge on the estate of the testator does not prevent his creditors from being competent witnesses to his will.

(4) If a witness, to whom any beneficial devise, void under the preceding section, is made, would have been entitled to any share of the estate of the testator if the testator had died intestate, such witness succeeds to so much of the share as would be distributed to him under intestate succession, not exceeding the devise or bequest made to him in the will.

Section 91A-2-506. Choice of law as to execution. A written will is valid if executed in compliance with section 91A-2-502 or 91A-2-503 or if its execution complies with the law at the time of execution of the place where the will is executed, or of the law of the place where at the time of execution or at the time of death the testator is domiciled, has a place of abode or is a national.

Section 91A-2-507. Revocation by writing or by act. A will or any part thereof is revoked (1) by a subsequent will which revokes the prior will or part expressly or by inconsistency; or

(2) by being burned, torn, canceled, obliterated, or destroyed, with the intent and for the purpose of revoking it by the testator or by another person in his presence and by his direction.

Section 91A-2-508. Revocation by divorce or annulment; no revocation by other change in circumstances. If after executing a will the testator is divorced or his marriage annulled, the divorce or annulment revokes any disposition or appointment of property made by the will to the former spouse, any provision conferring a general or special power of appointment on the former spouse, and any nomination of the former spouse as executor, trustee, conservator, or guardian, unless the will expressly provides otherwise. Property prevented from passing to a former spouse because of revocation by divorce or annulment passes as if the former spouse failed to survive the decedent, and other provisions conferring some power or office on the former spouse are interpreted as if the spouse failed to survive the decedent. If provisions are revoked solely by this section, they are revived by testator's remarriage to the former spouse. For purposes of this section, divorce or annulment means any divorce or annulment which would exclude the spouse as a surviving spouse within the meaning of section 91A-2-802(2). A decree of separation which does not terminate the status of husband and wife is not a divorce for purposes of this section. No change of circumstances other than as described in this section revokes a will.

Section 91A-2-509. Revival of revoked will. (1) If a second will which, had it remained effective at death, would have revoked the first will in whole or in part, is thereafter revoked by acts under section 91A-2-507, the first will is revoked in whole or in part unless it is evident from the circumstances of the revocation of the second will or from testator's contemporaneous or subsequent declarations that he intended the first will to take effect as executed.

(2) If a second will which, had it remained effective at death, would have revoked the first will in whole or in part, is thereafter revoked by a third will, the first will is revoked in whole or in part, except to the extent it appears from the terms of the third will that the testator intended the first will to take effect.

Section 91A-2-510. Incorporation by reference. Any writing in existence when a will is executed may be incorporated by reference if the language of the will manifests this intent and describes the writing sufficiently to permit its identification.

Section 91A-2-511. Testamentary additions to trusts. A devise or bequest, the validity of which is determinable by the law of this state, may be made by a will to the trustee of a trust established or to be established by the testator or by the testator and some other person or by some other person (including a funded or unfunded life insurance trust, although the trustor has reserved any or all rights of ownership of the insurance contracts) if the trust is identified in the testator's will and its terms are set forth in a written instrument (other than a will) executed before or concurrently with the execution of the testator's will or in the valid last will of a person who has predeceased the testator (regardless of the existence, size, or character of the corpus of the trust). The devise is not invalid because the trust is amendable or revocable, or because the trust was amended after the execution of the will or after the death of the testator. Unless the testator's will provides otherwise, the property so devised is not deemed to be held under a testamentary trust of the testator but becomes a part of the trust to which it is given and shall be administered and disposed of in accordance with the provisions of the instrument or will setting forth the terms of the trust, including any amendments thereto made before the death of the testator (regardless of whether made before or after the execution of the testator's will), and, if the testator's will so provides, including any amendments to the trust made after the death of the testator. A revocation or termination of the trust before the death of the testator causes the devise to lapse.

Section 91A-2-512. Events of independent significance. A will may dispose of property by reference to acts and events which have significance apart from their effect upon the dispositions made by the will, whether they occur before or after the execution of the will or before or after the testator's death. The execution or revocation of a will of another person is such an event.

Section 91A-2-513. Separate writing indentifying bequest of tangible property. Whether or not the provisions relating to holographic wills apply, a will may refer to a written statement or list to dispose of items of tangible personal property not otherwise specifically disposed of by the will, other than money, evidences of indebtedness, documents of title, and securities, and property used in trade or business. To be admissible under this section as evidence of the intended disposition, the writing must either be in the handwriting of the testator or be signed by him and must describe the items and the devisees with reasonable certainty. The writing may be referred to as one to be in existence at the time of the testator's death; it may be prepared before or after the execution of the will; it may be altered by the testator after its preparation; and it may be a writing which has no significance apart from its effect upon the dispositions made by the will.

RULES OF CONSTRUCTION

Section 91A-2-601. Requirement that devisee survive testator by one hundred twenty (120) hours. A devisee who does not survive the testator by one hundred twenty (120) hours is treated as if he predeceased the testator, unless the will of decedent contains some language dealing explicitly with simultaneous deaths or deaths in a common disaster, or requiring that the devisee survive the testator or survive the testator for a stated period in order to take under the will.

Section 91A-2-602. Choice of law as to meaning and effect of wills. The meaning and legal effect of a disposition in a will shall be determined by the local law of a particular state selected by the testator in his instrument unless the application of that law is contrary to the public policy of this state otherwise applicable to the disposition.

Section 91A-2-603. Rules of construction and intention. The intention of a testator as expressed in his will controls the legal effect of his dispositions. The rules of construction expressed in the succeeding sections of this part apply unless a contrary intention is indicated by the will.

Section 91A-2-604. Construction that will passes all property; after-acquired property. A will is construed to pass all property which the testator owns at his death including property acquired after the execution of the will.

Section 91A-2-605. Anti-lapse; deceased devisee; class gift. If a devisee who is a grandparent or a lineal descendant of a grandparent of the testator is dead at the time of execution of the will, fails to survive the testator, or is treated as if he predeceased the testator, the issue of the deceased devisee who survive the testator by one hundred twenty (120) hours take in place of the deceased devisee and if they are all of the same degree of kinship to the devisee they take equally, but if of unequal degree then those of more remote degree take by representation. One who would have been a devisee under a class gift if he had survived the testator is treated as a devisee for purposes of this section whether his death occurred before or after the execution of the will.

Section 91A-2-606. Failure of testamentary provision. (1) Except as provided in section 91A-2-605 if a devise other than a residuary devise fails for any reason, it becomes a part of the residue.

(2) Except as provided in section 91A-2-605 if the residue is devised to two (2) or more persons and the share of one (1) of the residuary devisees fails for any reason, his share passes to the other residuary devisee, or to other residuary devisees in proportion to their interests in the residue.

Section 91A-2-607. Change in securities; accessions; nonademption. (1) If the testator intended a specific devise of certain securities rather than the equivalent value thereof, the specific devisee is entitled only to:

(a) as much of the devised securities as is a part of the estate at time of the testator's death;

(b) any additional or other securities of the same entity owned by the testator by reason of action initiated by the entity;

(c) securities of another entity owned by the testator as a result of a merger, consolidation, reorganization or other similar action initiated by the entity; and

(d) any additional securities of the entity owned by the testator as a result of a plan of reinvestment if it is a regulated investment company.

(2) Distributions prior to death with respect to a specifically devised security not provided for in subsection (1) are not part of the specific devise.

Section 91A-2-608. Nonademption of specific devises in certain cases; sale by conservator; unpaid proceeds of sale, condemnation or insurance. (1) If specifically devised property is sold by a conservator, or if a condemnation award or insurance proceeds are paid to a conservator as a result of condemnation, fire, or casualty, the specific devisee has the right to a pecuniary devise equal to so much of the sale price, condemnation award or insurance proceeds as remains in the estate and is identifiable at the time of the decedent's death.

This subsection does not apply if subsequent to the sale, condemnation, or casualty, it is adjudicated that the disability of the testator has ceased and the testator survives the adjudication by one (1) year. The right of the specific devisee under this subsection is reduced by any right he has under subsection (2).

(2) A specific devisee has the right to the remaining specifically devised property and:

(a) any balance of the purchase price (together with any security interest) owing from a purchaser to the testator at death by reason of sale of the property;

(b) any amount of a condemnation award for the taking of the property unpaid at death;

(c) any proceeds unpaid at death on fire or casualty insurance on the property; and

(d) property owned by testator at his death as a result of foreclosure, or obtained in lieu of foreclosure, of the security for a specifically devised obligation.

Section 91A-2-609. Non-exoneration. A specific devise passes subject to any security interest existing at the date of death, without right of exoneration, regardless of a general directive in the will to pay debts.

Section 91A-2-610. Exercise of power of appointment. A general residuary clause in a will, or a will making general disposition of all of the testator's property, does not exercise a power of appointment held by the testator unless specific reference is made to the power or there is some other indication of intention to include the property subject to the power.

Section 91A-2-611. Construction of generic terms to accord with relationships as defined for intestate succession. Halfbloods, adopted persons and persons born out of wedlock are included in class gift terminology and terms of relationship in accordance with rules for determining relationships for purposes of intestate succession.

Section 91A-2-612. Ademption by satisfaction. Property which a testator gave in his lifetime to a person is treated as a satisfaction of a devise to that person in whole or in part, only if the will provides for deduction of the lifetime gift, or the testator declares in a contemporaneous writing that the gift is to be deducted from the devise or is in satisfaction of the devise, or the devisee acknowledges in writing that the gift is in satisfaction. For purpose of partial satisfaction, property given during lifetime is valued as of the time the devisee came into possession or enjoyment of the property or as of the time of death of the testator, whichever occurs first.

CONTRACTUAL ARRANGEMENTS RELATING TO DEATH

Section 91A-2-701. Contracts concerning succession. A contract to make a will or devise, or not to revoke a will or devise, or to die intestate, if executed after the effective date of this act, can be established only by (1) provisions of a will stating material provisions of the contract;

(2) an express reference in a will to a contract and extrinsic evidence proving the terms of the contract; or

(3) a writing signed by the decedent evidencing the contract.

The execution of a joint will or mutual wills does not create a presumption of a contract not to revoke the will or wills.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 91A-2-801. Renunciation of succession. (1) A person (or his personal representative) who is an heir, devisee, person succeeding to a renounced interest, beneficiary under a testamentary instrument or person designated to take pursuant to a power of appointment exercised by a testamentary instrument may renounce in whole or in part the succession to any property or interest therein by filing a written instrument within the time and at the place hereinafter provided. The instrument shall

(a) describe the property or part thereof or interest therein renounced,

(b) be signed by the person renouncing, and

(c) declare the renunciation and the extent thereof.

(2) The writing specified in (1) must be filed within six (6) months after the death of the decedent or the donee of the power, or if the taker of the property is not then finally ascertained not later than six (6) months after the event by which the taker or the interest is finally ascertained. The writing must be filed in the court of the county where proceedings concerning the decedent's estate are pending, or where they would be pending if commenced. A copy of the writing also shall be mailed to the personal representative of the decedent.

(3) Unless the decedent or donee of the power has otherwise indicated by his will, the interest renounced, and any future interest which is to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after the termination of the interest renounced, passes as if the person renouncing had predeceased the decedent, or if the person renouncing is one designated to take pursuant to a power of appointment exercised by a testamentary instrument, as if the person renouncing had predeceased the donee of the power. In every case the renunciation relates back for all purposes to the date of death of the decedent or the donee, as the case may be.

(4) Any assignment, conveyance, encumbrance, pledge or transfer of property therein or any contract therefor, written waiver of the right to renounce or any acceptance of property by an heir, devisee, person succeeding to a renounced interest, beneficiary or person designated to take pursuant to a power of appointment exercised by testamentary instrument, or sale or other disposition of property pursuant to judicial process, made before the expiration of the period in which he is permitted to renounce, bars the right to renounce as to the property.

(5) The right to renounce granted by this section exists irrespective of any limitation on the interest of the person renouncing in the nature of a spendthrift provision or similar restriction.

(6) This section does not abridge the right of any person to assign, convey, release, or renounce any property arising under any other section of this code or other statute.

(7) Any interest in property which exists on the effective date of this section, but which has not then become indefeasibly fixed both in quality and quantity, or the taker of which has not then become finally ascertained, may be renounced after the effective date of this section as provided herein. An interest which has arisen prior to the effective date of this section in any person other than the person renouncing is not destroyed or diminished by any action of the person renouncing taken under this section.

Section 91A-2-802. Effect of divorce, annulment and decree of separation. (1) A person who is divorced from the decedent or whose marriage to the decedent has been annulled is not a surviving spouse unless, by virtue of a subsequent marriage, he is married to the decedent at the time of death. A decree of separation which does not terminate the status of husband and wife is not a divorce for purposes of this section.

(2) For purposes of sections 91A-2-101 through 91A-2-404 and of 91A-3-203, a surviving spouse does not include:

(a) a person who obtains or consents to a final decree or judgment of divorce from the decedent or an annulment of their marriage, which decree or judgment is not recognized as valid in this state, unless they subsequently participate in a marriage ceremony purporting to marry each to the other, or subsequently live together as man and wife;

(b) a person who, following a decree or judgment of divorce or annulment obtained by the decedent, participates in a marriage ceremony with a third person; or

(c) a person who was a party to a valid proceeding concluded by an order purporting to terminate all marital property rights.

Section 91A-2-803. Effect of homicide on intestate succession, wills, joint assets, life insurance and beneficiary designations. (1)

A surviving spouse, heir or devisee who feloniously and intentionally kills the decedent is not entitled to any benefits under the will or under this article, and the estate of decedent passes as if the killer had predeceased the decedent. Property appointed by the will of the decedent to or for the benefit of the killer passes as if the killer had predeceased the decedent.

(2) Any joint tenant who feloniously and intentionally kills another joint tenant thereby effects a severance of the interest of the decedent so that the share of the decedent passes as his property and the killer has no rights by survivorship. This provision applies to joint tenancies in real and personal property, joint accounts in banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions and other institutions, and any other form of co-ownership with survivorship incidents.

(3) A named beneficiary of a bond, life insurance policy, or other contractual arrangement who feloniously and intentionally kills the principal obligee or the person upon whose life the policy is issued is not entitled to any benefit under the bond, policy or other contractual arrangement, and it becomes payable as though the killer had predeceased the decedent.

(4) Any other acquisition of property or interest by the killer shall be treated in accordance with the principles of this section.

(5) A final judgment of conviction of felonious and intentional killing is conclusive for purposes of this section. In the absence of a conviction of felonious and intentional killing the court may determine by a preponderance of evidence whether the killing was felonious and intentional for purposes of this section.

(6) This section does not affect the rights of any person who, before rights under this section have been adjudicated, purchases from the killer for value and without notice property which the killer would have acquired except for this section, but the killer is liable for the amount of the proceeds or the value of the property. Any insurance company, bank, or other obligor making payment according to the terms of its policy or obligation is not liable by reason of this section unless prior to payment it has received at its home office or principal address written notice of a claim under this section.

CUSTODY AND DEPOSIT OF WILLS

Section 91A-2-901. Deposit of will with court for safekeeping. A will may be deposited by the testator or his agent with any court for safekeeping, under rules of the court. The will shall be kept confidential. During the testator's lifetime a deposited will shall be delivered only to him or to a person authorized in writing signed by him to receive the will. A conservator may be allowed to examine a deposited will of a protected testator under procedures designed to maintain the confidential character of the document to the extent possible, and to assure that it will be resealed and left on deposit after the examination. Upon being informed of the testator's death, the court shall notify any person designated to receive the will and deliver it to him on request; or the court may deliver the will to the appropriate court.

Section 91A-2-902. Duty of custodian of will; liability. After the death of a testator and on request of an interested person, any person having custody of a will of the testator shall deliver it with reasonable promptness to a person able to secure its probate and if none is known, to an appropriate court. Any person who willfully fails to deliver a will is liable to any person aggrieved for the damages which may be sustained by the failure. Any person who willfully refuses or fails to deliver a will after being ordered by the court in a proceeding brought for the purpose of compelling delivery is subject to penalty for contempt of court.

PROBATE OF WILLS AND ADMINISTRATION GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 91A-3-101. Devolution of estate at death; restrictions. The power of a person to leave property by will, and the rights of creditors, devisees, and heirs to his property are subject to the restrictions and limitations contained in this code to facilitate the prompt settlement of estates. Upon the death of a person, his real and personal property devolves to the persons to whom it is devised by his last will or to those indicated as substitutes for them in cases involving lapse, renunciation, or other circumstances affecting the devolution of testate estates, or in the absence of testamentary disposition, to his heirs, or to those indicated as substitutes for them in cases involving renunciation or other circumstances affecting devolution of intestate estates, subject to homestead allowance, exempt property and family allowance, to rights of creditors, elective share of the surviving spouse, and to administration.

Section 91A-3-102. Necessity of order of probate for will. Except as provided in section 91A-3-1201, to be effective to prove the transfer of any property or to nominate an executor, a will must be declared to be valid by an order of informal probate by the clerk, or an adjudication of probate by the court, except that a duly executed and unrevoked will which has not been probated may be admitted as evidence of a devise if (1) no court proceeding concerning the succession or administration of the estate has occurred, and

(2) either the devisee or his successors and assigns possessed the property devised in accordance with the provisions of the will, or the property devised was not possessed or claimed by anyone by virtue of the decedent's title during the time period for testacy proceedings.

Section 91A-3-103. Necessity of appointment for administration. Except as otherwise provided in sections 91A-4-101 through 91A-4-401, inclusive, to acquire the powers and undertake the duties and liabilities of a personal representative of a decedent, a person must be appointed by order of the court or clerk, qualify and be issued letters. Administration of an estate is commenced by the issuance of letters.

Section 91A-3-104. Claims against decedent; necessity of administration. No proceeding to enforce a claim against the estate of a decedent or his successors may be revived or commenced before the appointment of a personal representative. After the appointment and until distribution, all proceedings and actions to enforce a claim against the estate are governed by the procedure prescribed by sections 91A-3-101 through 91A-3-1203. After distribution a creditor whose claim has not been barred may recover from the distributees as provided in section 91A-3-1005 or from a former personal representative individually liable as provided in section 91A-3-1006. This section has no application to a proceeding by a secured creditor of the decedent to enforce his right to his security except as to any deficiency judgment which might be sought therein.

Section 91A-3-105. Proceedings affecting devolution and administration; jurisdiction of subject matter. Persons interested in decedents' estate may apply to the clerk for determination in the informal proceedings provided in sections 91A-3-301 through 91A-3-311 of this act, and may petition the court for orders in formal proceedings within the court's jurisdiction including but not limited to those described in sections 91A-3-401 through 91A-3-505 of this act. The district court has exclusive jurisdiction of all probate matters.

Section 91A-3-106. Proceedings within exclusive jurisdiction of court. In proceedings within the exclusive jurisdiction of the court where notice is required by this code or by rule, interested persons may be bound by the orders of the court in respect to property in or subject to the laws of this state by notice in conformity with section 91A-1-401. An order is binding as to all who are given notice of the proceeding though less than all interested persons are notified.

Section 91A-3-107. Scope of proceedings; proceedings independent; exception. Unless supervised administration as described in sections 91A-3-501 through 91A-3-505 is involved, (1) each proceeding before the court or clerk is independent of any other proceeding involving the same estate;

(2) petitions for formal orders of the court may combine various requests for relief in a single proceeding if the orders sought may be finally granted without delay. Except as required for proceedings which are particularly described by other sections of this code, no petition is defective because it fails to embrace all matters which might then be the subject of a final order;

(3) proceedings for probate of wills or adjudications of no will may be combined with proceedings for appointment of personal representatives; and

(4) a proceeding for appointment of a personal representative is concluded by an order making or declining the appointment.

Section 91A-3-108. Probate, testacy and appointment proceedings; time limit; exception. No informal probate or appointment proceeding or formal testacy or appointment proceeding, other than a proceeding to probate a will previously probated at the testator's domicile and appointment proceedings relating to an estate in which there has been a prior appointment, may be commenced more than three (3) years after the decedent's death, except (1) if a previous proceeding was dismissed because of doubt about the fact of the decedent's death, appropriate probate, appointment or testacy proceedings may be maintained at any time thereafter upon a finding that the decedent's death occurred prior to the initiation of the previous proceeding and the applicant or petitioner has not delayed unduly in initiating the subsequent proceeding;

(2) appropriate probate, appointment or testacy proceedings may be maintained in relation to the estate of an absent, disappeared or missing person for whose estate a conservator has been appointed, at any time within three (3) years after the conservator becomes able to establish the death of the protected person; and

(3) a proceeding to contest an informally probated will and to secure appointment of the person with legal priority for appointment in the event the contest is successful, may be commenced within the later of twelve (12) months from the informal probate or three (3) years from the decedent's death.

These limitations do not apply to proceedings to construe probated wills or determine heirs of an intestate, nor do they limit the right of interested persons to commence informal probate or appointment proceedings or formal testacy or appointment proceedings at any time after three (3) years from the decedent's death if there have been no previous formal or informal probate or appointment proceedings commenced in respect of that decedent. In cases under (1) or (2) above, the date on which a testacy or appointment proceeding is properly commenced shall be deemed to be the date of the decedent's death for purposes of other limitations provisions of this code which relate to the date of death.

Section 91A-3-109. Statutes of limitation on decedent's cause of action. No statute of limitation running on a cause of action belonging to a decedent which had not been barred as of the date of his death, shall apply to bar a cause of action surviving the decedent's death sooner than four (4) months after death. A cause of action which, but for this section, would have been barred less than four (4) months after death, is barred after four (4) months unless tolled.

VENUE FOR PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION; PRIORITY TO ADMINISTER; DEMAND FOR NOTICE

Section 91A-3-201. Venue for first and subsequent estate proceedings; location of property. (1) Venue for the first informal or formal testacy or appointment proceedings after a decedent's death is:

(a) in the county where the decedent had his domicile at the time of his death; or

(b) if the decedent was not domiciled in this state, in any county where property of the decedent was located at the time of his death.

(2) Venue for all subsequent proceedings within the exclusive jurisdiction of the court is in the place where the initial proceeding occurred, unless the initial proceeding has been transferred as provided in section 91A-1-303 or (3) of this section.

(3) If the first proceeding was informal, on application of an interested person and after notice to the proponent in the first proceeding, the court, upon finding that venue is elsewhere, may transfer the proceeding and the file to the other court.

(4) For the purpose of aiding determinations concerning location of assets which may be relevant in cases involving nondomiciliaries, a debt, other than one evidenced by investment or commercial paper or other instrument in favor of a nondomiciliary, is located where the debtor resides or, if the debtor is a person other than an individual, at the place where it has its principal office. Commercial paper, investment paper and other instruments are located where the instrument is. An interest in property held in trust is located where the trustee may be sued.

Section 91A-3-202. Appointment or testacy proceedings; conflicting claim of domicile in another state. If conflicting claims as to the domicile of a decedent are made in a formal testacy or appointment proceeding commenced in this state, and in a testacy or appointment proceeding after notice pending at the same time in another state, the court of this state must stay, dismiss, or permit suitable amendment in, the proceeding here unless it is determined that the local proceeding was commenced before the proceeding elsewhere. The determination of domicile in the proceeding first commenced must be accepted as determinative in the proceeding in this state.

Section 91A-3-203. Priority among persons seeking appointment as personal representative. (1) Whether the proceedings are formal or informal, persons who are not disqualified have priority for appointment in the following order:

- (a) the person with priority as determined by a probated will including a person nominated by a power conferred in a will;
- (b) the surviving spouse of the decedent who is a devisee of the decedent;
- (c) other devisees of the decedent;
- (d) the surviving spouse of the decedent;
- (e) other heirs of the decedent;
- (f) public administrator;
- (g) forty-five (45) days after the death of the decedent, any creditor.

(2) An objection to an appointment can be made only in formal proceedings. In case of objection the priorities stated in (1) apply except that

(a) if the estate appears to be more than adequate to meet exemptions and costs of administration but inadequate to discharge anticipated unsecured claims, the court, on petition of creditors, may appoint any qualified person;

(b) in case of objection to appointment of a person other than one whose priority is determined by will by an heir or devisee appearing to have a substantial interest in the estate, the court may appoint a person who is acceptable to heirs and devisees whose interests in the estate appear to be worth in total more than half of the probable distributable value, or, in default of this accord any suitable person.

(3) A person entitled to letters under (b) through (e) of (1) above, may nominate a qualified person to act as personal representative. Any person entitled to letters may renounce his right to nominate or to an appointment by appropriate writing filed with the court. When two (2) or more persons share a priority, those of them who do not renounce must concur in nominating another to act for them, or in applying for appointment.

(4) Conservators of the estates of protected persons, or if there is no conservator, any guardian except a guardian ad litem of a minor or incapacitated person, may exercise the same right to nominate, to object to another's appointment, or to participate in determining the preference of a majority in interest of the heirs and devisees that the protected person or ward would have if qualified for appointment.

(5) Appointment of one who does not have priority, including priority resulting from renunciation or nomination determined pursuant to this section, may be made only in formal proceedings. Before appointing one without priority, the court must determine that those having priority, although given notice of the proceedings, have failed to request appointment or to nominate another for appointment, and that administration is necessary.

(6) No person is qualified to serve as a personal representative who is:

- (a) under the age of eighteen (18);
- (b) a person whom the court finds unsuitable in formal proceedings.

(7) A personal representative appointed by a court of the decedent's domicile has priority over all other persons except where the decedent's will nominates different persons to be personal representative in this state and in the state of domicile. The domiciliary personal representative may nominate another, who shall have the same priority as the domiciliary personal representative.

(8) This section governs priority for appointment of a successor personal representative but does not apply to the selection of a special administrator.

Section 91A-3-204. Demand for notice of order or filing concerning decedent's estate. Any person desiring notice of any order or filing pertaining to a decedent's estate in which he has a financial or property interest, may file a demand for notice with the court at any time after the death of the decedent stating the name of the decedent, the nature of his interest in the estate, and the demandant's address or that of his attorney. The clerk shall mail a copy of the demand to the personal representative if one has been appointed. After filing of a demand, no order or filing to which the demand relates shall be made or accepted without notice as prescribed in section 91A-1-401 to the demandant or his attorney. The validity of an order which is issued or filing which is accepted without compliance with this requirement shall not be affected by the error, but the petitioner receiving the order or the person making the filing may be liable for any damage caused by the absence of notice. The requirement of notice arising from a demand under this provision may be waived in writing by the demandant and shall cease upon the termination of his interest in the estate.

INFORMAL PROBATE AND APPOINTMENT PROCEEDINGS

Section 91A-3-301. Informal probate or appointment proceedings; application; contents. Applications for informal probate or informal appointment shall be directed to the clerk, and verified by the applicant to be accurate and complete to the best of his knowledge and belief as to the following information:

(1) Every application for informal probate of a will or for informal appointment of a personal representative, other than a special, ancillary or successor representative, shall contain the following:

- (a) a statement of the interest of the applicant;
- (b) the name and date of death of the decedent, his age, and the county and state of his domicile at the time of death, and the names and addresses of the spouse, children, heirs and devisees and the ages of any who are minors so far as known or ascertainable with reasonable diligence by the applicant;
- (c) if the decedent was not domiciled in the state at the time of his death, a statement showing venue;
- (d) a statement identifying and indicating the address of any personal representative of the decedent appointed in this state or elsewhere whose appointment has not been terminated;
- (e) a statement indicating whether the applicant has received a demand for notice, or is aware of any demand for notice of any probate or appointment proceeding concerning the decedent that may have been filed in this state or elsewhere.

(2) An application for informal probate of a will shall state the following in addition to the statements required by (1):

- (a) that the original of the decedent's last will is in the possession of the court, or accompanies the application, or that an authenticated copy of a will probated in another jurisdiction accompanies the application;
- (b) that the applicant, to the best of his knowledge, believes the will to have been validly executed;
- (c) that after the exercise of reasonable diligence, the applicant is unaware of any instrument revoking the will, and that the applicant believes that the instrument which is the subject of the application is the decedent's last will;

(d) that the time limit for informal probate as provided in this article has not expired either because three (3) years or less have passed since the decedent's death, or, if more than three (3) years from death have passed, that circumstances as described by section 91A-3-108 authorizing tardy probate have occurred.

(3) An application for informal appointment of a personal representative to administer an estate under a will shall describe the will by date of execution and state the time and place of probate or the pending application or petition for probate. The application for appointment shall adopt the statements in the application or petition for probate and state the name, address and priority for appointment of the person whose appointment is sought.

(4) An application for informal appointment of an administrator in intestacy shall state in addition to the statements required by (1):

(a) that after the exercise of reasonable diligence, the applicant is unaware of any unrevoked testamentary instrument relating to property having a situs in this state under section 91A-1-301, or, a statement why any such instrument of which he may be aware is not being probated;

(b) the priority of the person whose appointment is sought and the names of any other persons having a prior or equal right to the appointment under section 91A-3-203.

(5) An application for appointment of a personal representative to succeed a personal representative appointed under a different testacy status shall refer to the order in the most recent testacy proceeding, state the name and address of the person whose appointment is sought and of the person whose appointment will be terminated if the application is granted, and describe the priority of the applicant.

(6) An application for appointment of a personal representative to succeed a personal representative who has tendered a resignation as provided in section 91A-3-610(3), or whose appointment has been terminated by death or removal, shall adopt the statements in the application or petition which led to the appointment of the person being succeeded except as specifically changed or corrected, state the name and address of the person who seeks appointment as successor, and describe the priority of the applicant.

Section 91A-3-302. Informal probate; duty of clerk of court; effect of informal. Upon receipt of an application requesting informal probate of a will, the clerk, upon making the findings required by section 91A-3-303 shall issue a written statement of informal probate if at least one hundred twenty (120) hours have elapsed since the decedent's death. Informal probate is conclusive as to all persons until superseded by an order in a formal testacy proceeding. No defect in the application or procedure relating thereto which leads to informal probate of a will renders the probate void.

Section 91A-3-303. Informal probate; proof and findings required. (1) In an informal proceeding for original probate of a will, the clerk shall determine whether:

(a) the application is complete;

(b) the applicant has made oath or affirmation that the statements contained in the application are true to the best of his knowledge and belief;

(c) the applicant appears from the application to be an interested person as defined in section 91A-1-201(21);

(d) on the basis of the statements in the application, venue is proper;

(e) an original, duly executed and apparently unrevoked will is in the clerk's possession;

(f) any notice required by section 91A-3-204 has been given and that the application is not within section 91A-3-304; and

(g) it appears from the application that the time limit for original probate has not expired.

(2) The application shall be denied if it indicates that a personal representative has been appointed in another county of this state or except as provided in subsection (4) below, if it appears that this or another will of the decedent has been the subject of a previous probate order.

(3) A will which appears to have the required signatures and which contains an attestation clause showing that requirements of execution under section 91A-2-502, 91A-2-503 or 91A-2-506 have been met and that it is self-proved as provided by section 91A-2-504 shall be probated without further proof. In other cases the clerk shall admit the will to probate on the following proof:

(a) on the testimony of one of the subscribing witnesses that the will was executed as required by this code and that the testator was of sound mind at the time of its execution;

(b) if it appears at the time of the filing of the application to have the will informally admitted to probate that none of the subscribing witnesses reside in the county or are capable of appearing and that the sworn or affirmed statement of one of the witnesses to the will has been taken or can be taken within the state within the next ten (10) days, the clerk shall admit the will to probate on the sworn or affirmed written statement of such witness that he has examined the original or a photostatic copy of the will, that he recognizes it as the will of the decedent witnessed by him on the date stated, that the will was executed in all particulars as required by law and that the testator was of sound mind at the time;

(c) if none of the subscribing witnesses reside in the county and are capable of testifying at the time of the application for informal probate and the execution of the will cannot be proved under either of the foregoing subdivisions, the clerk may accept the sworn or affirmed statement or affidavit of any person having knowledge of the circumstances of the execution, and may accept proof of the handwriting of the testator and of the subscribing witnesses or any of them.

(4) Informal probate of a will which has been previously probated elsewhere may be granted at any time upon written application by any interested person, together with deposit of an authenticated copy of the will and of the statement probating it from the office or court where it was first probated.

(5) A will from a place which does not provide for probate of a will after death and which is not eligible for probate under subsection (1) above, may be probated in this state upon receipt by the clerk of a duly authenticated copy of the will and a duly authenticated certificate of its legal custodian that the copy filed is a true copy and that the will has become operative under the law of the other place.

Section 91A-3-304. Informal probate unavailable in certain cases. Application for informal probate which relate to one (1) or more of a known series of testamentary instruments (other than wills and codicils), the latest of which does not expressly revoke the earlier, shall be declined.

Section 91A-3-305. Informal probate; clerk not satisfied. If the clerk is not satisfied that a will is entitled to be probated in informal proceedings because of failure to meet the requirements of sections 91A-3-303 and 91A-3-304 or any other reason, he may decline the application. A declination of informal probate is not an adjudication and does not preclude formal probate proceedings.

Section 91A-3-306. Informal probate; notice requirements. The moving party must give notice as described by section 91A-1-401 of his application for informal probate (1) to any person demanding it pursuant to section 91A-3-204; and

(2) to any personal representative of the decedent whose appointment has not been terminated.

No other notice of informal probate is required.

Section 91A-3-307. Informal appointment proceedings; delay in order; duty of clerk; effect of appointment. (1) Upon receipt of an application for informal appointment of a personal representative other than a special administrator as provided in section 91A-3-614, if at least one hundred twenty (120) hours have elapsed since the decedent's death, the clerk, after making the findings required by section 91A-3-308, shall appoint the applicant subject to qualification and acceptance; provided, that if the decedent was a nonresident, the clerk shall delay the order of appointment until thirty (30) days have elapsed since death unless the personal representative appointed at the decedent's domicile is the applicant, or unless the decedent's will directs that his estate be subject to the laws of this state.

(2) The status of personal representative and the powers and duties pertaining to the office are fully established by informal appointment. An appointment, and the office of personal representative created thereby, is subject to termination as provided in sections 91A-3-608 through 91A-3-612, but is not subject to retroactive vacation.

Section 91A-3-308. Informal appointment proceedings; proof and findings required. (1) In informal appointment proceedings, the clerk must determine whether:

(a) the application for informal appointment of a personal representative is complete;

(b) the applicant has made oath or affirmation that the statements contained in the application are true to the best of his knowledge and belief;

(c) the applicant appears from the application to be an interested person as defined in section 91A-1-201(21);

(d) on the basis of the statements in the application, venue is proper;

(e) any will to which the requested appointment relates has been formally or informally probated; but this requirement does not apply to the appointment of a special administrator;

(f) any notice required by section 91A-3-204 has been given;

(g) from the statements in the application, the person whose appointment is sought has priority entitling him to the appointment.

(2) Unless section 91A-3-612 controls, the application must be denied if it indicates that a personal representative who has not filed a written statement of resignation as provided in section 91A-3-610(3) has been appointed in this or another county of this state, that (unless the applicant is the domiciliary personal representative or his nominee) the decedent was not domiciled in this state and that a personal representative whose appointment has not been terminated has been appointed by a court in the state of domicile, or that other requirements of this section have not been met.

Section 91A-3-309. Informal appointment proceedings; clerk not satisfied. If the clerk is not satisfied that a requested informal appointment of a personal representative should be made because of failure to meet the requirements of sections 91A-3-307 and 91A-3-308, or for any other reason, he may decline the application. A declination of informal appointment is not an adjudication and does not preclude appointment in formal proceedings.

Section 91A-3-310. Informal appointment proceedings; notice requirements. The moving party must give notice as described by section 91A-1-401 of his intention to seek an appointment informally: (1) to any person demanding it pursuant to section 91A-3-204; and

(2) to any person having a prior or equal right to appointment not waived in writing and filed with the court. No other notice of an informal appointment proceeding is required.

Section 91A-3-311. Informal appointment proceedings; unavailable in certain cases. If an application for informal appointment indicates the existence of a possible unrevoked testamentary instrument which may relate to property subject to the laws of this state, and which is not filed for probate in this court, the clerk shall decline the application.

FORMAL TESTACY AND APPOINTMENT PROCEEDINGS

Section 91A-3-401. Formal testacy proceedings; nature; when commenced. A formal testacy proceeding is litigation to determine whether a decedent left a valid will. A formal testacy proceeding may be commenced by an interested person filing a petition as described in section 91A-3-402(1) in which he requests that the court, after notice and hearing, enter an order probating a will, or a petition to set aside an informal probate of a will or to prevent informal probate of a will which is the subject of a pending application, or a petition for an order that the decedent died intestate.

A petition may seek formal probate of a will without regard to whether the same or a conflicting will has been informally probated. A formal testacy proceeding may, but need not, involve a request for appointment of a personal representative.

During the pendency of a formal testacy proceeding, the clerk shall not act upon any application for informal probate of any will of the decedent or any application for informal appointment of a personal representative of the decedent.

Unless a petition in a formal testacy proceeding also requests confirmation of the previous informal appointment, a previously appointed personal representative, after receipt of notice of the commencement of a formal probate proceeding, must refrain from exercising his power to make any further distribution of the estate during the pendency of the formal proceeding. A petitioner who seeks the appointment of a different personal representative in a formal proceeding also may request an order restraining the acting personal representative from exercising any of the powers of his office and requesting the appointment of a special administrator. In the absence of a request, or if the request is denied, the commencement of a formal proceeding has no effect on the powers and duties of a previously appointed personal representative other than those relating to distribution.

Section 91A-3-402. Formal testacy or appointment proceedings; petition; contents. (1) Petitions for formal probate of a will, or for adjudication of intestacy with or without request for appointment of a personal representative, must be directed to the court, request a judicial order after notice and hearing and contain further statements as indicated in this section. A petition for formal probate of a will

(a) requests an order as to the testacy of the decedent in relation to a particular instrument which may or may not have been informally probated and determining the heirs,

(b) contains the statements required for informal applications as stated in the five (5) subparagraphs under section 91A-3-301(1), the statements required by subparagraphs (b) and (c) of section 91A-3-301(2), and

(c) states whether the original of the last will of the decedent is in the possession of the court or accompanies the petition.

If the original will is neither in the possession of the court nor accompanies the petition and no authenticated copy of a will probated in another jurisdiction accompanies the petition, the petition also must state the contents of the will, and indicate that it is lost, destroyed, or otherwise unavailable.

(2) A petition for adjudication of intestacy and appointment of an administrator in intestacy must request a judicial finding and order that the decedent left no will and determining the heirs, contain the statements required by (1) and (4) of section 91A-3-301 and indicate whether supervised administration is sought. A petition may request an order determining intestacy and heirs without requesting the appointment of an administrator, in which case, the statements required by subparagraph (b) of section 91A-3-301(4) above may be omitted.

Section 91A-3-403. Formal testacy proceeding; notice of hearing on petition. (1) Upon commencement of a formal testacy proceeding, the court shall fix a time and place of hearing. Notice shall be given in the manner prescribed by section 91A-1-401 by the petitioner to the persons herein enumerated and to any additional person who has filed a demand for notice under section 91A-3-204 of this code.

Notice shall be given to the following persons: the surviving spouse, children, and other heirs of the decedent, the devisees and executors named in any will that is being, or has been, probated, or offered for informal or formal probate in the county, or that is known by the petitioner to have been probated, or offered for informal or formal probate elsewhere, and any personal representative of the decedent whose appointment has not been terminated. Notice may be given to other persons. In addition, the petitioner shall give notice by publication to all unknown persons and to all known persons whose addresses are unknown who have any interest in the matters being litigated.

(2) If it appears by the petition or otherwise that the fact of the death of the alleged decedent may be in doubt, or on the written demand of any interested person, a copy of the notice of the hearing on said petition shall be sent by registered mail to the alleged decedent at his last known address. The court shall direct the petitioner to report the results of, or make and report back concerning, a reasonably diligent search for the alleged decedent in any manner that may seem advisable, including any or all of the following methods:

(a) by inserting in one (1) or more suitable periodicals a notice requesting information from any person having knowledge of the whereabouts of the alleged decedent;

(b) by notifying law enforcement officials and public welfare agencies in appropriate locations of the disappearance of the alleged decedent;

(c) by engaging the services of an investigator. The costs of any search so directed shall be paid by the petitioner if there is no administration or by the estate of the decedent in case there is administration.

Section 91A-3-404. Formal testacy proceedings; written objections to probate. Any party to a formal proceeding who opposes the probate of a will for any reason shall state in his pleadings his objections to probate of the will.

Section 91A-3-405. Formal testacy proceedings; uncontested cases; hearings and proof. If a petition in a testacy proceeding is unopposed, the court may order probate or intestacy on the strength of the pleadings if satisfied that the conditions of section 91A-3-409 have been met, or conduct a hearing in open court and require proof of the matters necessary to support the order sought. If evidence concerning execution of the will is necessary, the affidavit or testimony of one (1) of any attesting witnesses to the instrument is sufficient. If the affidavit or testimony of an attesting witness is not available, execution of the will may be proved by other evidence or affidavit.

Section 91A-3-406. Formal testacy proceedings; contested cases; testimony of attesting witnesses. (1) If evidence concerning execution of an attested will which is not self-proved is necessary in contested cases, the testimony of at least one (1) of the attesting witnesses, if within the state competent and able to testify, is required. Due execution of an attested or unattested will may be proved by other evidence.

(2) If the will is self-proved, compliance with signature requirements for execution is conclusively presumed and other requirements of execution are presumed subject to rebuttal without the testimony of any witness upon filing the will and the acknowledgment and affidavits annexed or attached thereto, unless there is proof of fraud or forgery affecting the acknowledgment or affidavit.

Section 91A-3-407. Formal testacy proceedings; burdens in contested cases. In contested cases, petitioners who seek to establish intestacy have the burden of establishing prima facie proof of death, venue, and heirship. Proponents of a will have the burden of establishing prima facie proof of due execution in all cases, and, if they are also petitioners, prima facie proof of death and venue. Contestants of a will have the burden of establishing lack of testamentary intent or capacity, undue influence, fraud, duress, mistake or revocation. Parties have the ultimate burden of persuasion as to matters with respect to which they have the initial burden of proof. If a will is opposed by the petition for probate of a later will revoking the former, it shall be determined first whether the later will is entitled to probate, and if a will is opposed by a petition for a declaration of intestacy, it shall be determined first whether the will is entitled to probate.

Section 91A-3-408. Formal testacy proceedings; will construction; effect of final order in another jurisdiction. A final order of a court of another state determining testacy, the validity or construction of a will, made in a proceeding involving notice to and an opportunity for contest by all interested persons must be accepted as determinative by the courts of this state if it includes, or is based upon, a finding that the decedent was domiciled at his death in the state where the order was made.

Section 91A-3-409. Formal testacy proceedings; order; foreign will. After the time required for any notice has expired, upon proof of notice, and after any hearing that may be necessary, if the court finds that the testator is dead, venue is proper and that the proceeding was commenced within the limitation prescribed by section 91A-3-108, it shall determine the decedent's domicile at death, his heirs and his state of testacy. Any will found to be valid and unrevoked shall be formally probated. Termination of any previous informal appointment of a personal representative, which may be appropriate in view of the relief requested and findings, is governed by section 91A-3-612. The petition shall be dismissed or appropriate amendment allowed if the court is not satisfied that the alleged decedent is dead. A will from a place which does not provide for probate of a will after death, may be proved for probate in this state by a duly authenticated certificate of its legal custodian that the copy introduced is a true copy and that the will has become effective under the law of the other place.

Section 91A-3-410. Formal testacy proceedings; probate of more than one instrument. If two (2) or more instruments are offered for probate before a final order is entered in a formal testacy proceeding, more than one (1) instrument may be probated if neither expressly revokes the other or contains provisions which work a total revocation by implication. If more than one (1) instrument is probated, the order shall indicate what provisions control in respect to the nomination of an executor, if any. The order may, but need not, indicate how any provisions of a particular instrument are affected by the other instrument. After a final order in a testacy proceeding has been entered, no petition for probate of any other instrument of the decedent may be entertained, except incident to a petition to vacate or modify a previous probate order and subject to the time limits of section 91A-3-412.

Section 91A-3-411. Formal testacy proceedings; partial intestacy. If it becomes evident in the course of a formal testacy proceeding that, though one (1) or more instruments are entitled to be probated, the decedent's estate is or may be partially intestate, the court shall enter an order to that effect.

Section 91A-3-412. Formal testacy proceedings; effect of order; vacation. Subject to appeal and subject to vacation as provided herein and in section 91A-3-413, a formal testacy order under sections 91A-3-409 through 91A-3-411, including an order that the decedent left no valid will and determining heirs, is final as to all persons with respect to all issues concerning the decedent's estate that the court considered or might have considered incident to its rendition relevant to the question of whether the decedent left a valid will, and to the determination of heirs, except that:

(1) the court shall entertain a petition for modification or vacation of its order and probate of another will of the decedent if it is shown that the proponents of the later-offered will were unaware of its existence at the time of the earlier proceeding or were unaware of the earlier proceeding and were given no notice thereof, except by publication.

(2) If intestacy of all or part of the estate has been ordered, the determination of heirs of the decedent may be reconsidered if it is shown that one (1) or more persons were omitted from the determination and it is also shown that the persons were unaware of their relationship to the decedent, were unaware of his death or were given no notice of any proceeding concerning his estate, except by publication.

(3) A petition for vacation under either (1) or (2) above must be filed prior to the earlier of the following time limits:

(a) If a personal representative has been appointed for the estate, the time of entry of any order approving final distribution of the estate, or, if the estate is closed by statement, six (6) months after the filing of the closing statement.

(b) Whether or not a personal representative has been appointed for the estate of the decedent, the time prescribed by section 91A-3-108 when it is no longer possible to initiate an original proceeding to probate a will of the decedent.

(c) Twelve (12) months after the entry of the order sought to be vacated.

(4) The order originally rendered in the testacy proceeding may be modified or vacated, if appropriate under the circumstances, by the order of probate of the later-offered will or the order redetermining heirs.

(5) The finding of the fact of death is conclusive as to the alleged decedent only if notice of the hearing on the petition in the formal testacy proceeding was sent by registered or certified mail addressed to the alleged decedent at his last known address and the court finds that a search under section 91A-3-403(2) was made.

If the alleged decedent is not dead, even if notice was sent and search was made, he may recover estate assets in the hands of the personal representative. In addition to any remedies available to the alleged decedent by reason of any fraud or intentional wrongdoing, the alleged decedent may recover any estate or its proceeds from distributees that is in their hands, or the value of distributions received by them, to the extent that any recovery from distributees is equitable in view of all of the circumstances.

Section 91A-3-413. Formal testacy proceedings; vacation of order for other cause. For good cause shown, an order in a formal testacy proceeding may be modified or vacated within the time allowed for appeal.

Section 91A-3-414. Formal proceedings regarding appointment of personal representative. (1) A formal proceeding for adjudication regarding the priority or qualification of one who is an applicant for appointment as personal representative, or of one who previously has been appointed personal representative in informal proceedings, if an issue concerning the testacy of the decedent is or may be involved, is governed by section 91A-3-402, as well as by this section. In other cases, the petition shall contain or adopt the statements required by section 91A-3-301(1) and describe the question relating to priority or qualification of the personal representative which is to be resolved. If the proceeding precedes any appointment of a personal representative, it shall stay any pending informal appointment proceedings as well as any commenced thereafter. If the proceeding is commenced after appointment, the previously appointed personal representative, after receipt of notice thereof, shall refrain from exercising any power of administration except as necessary to preserve the estate or unless the court orders otherwise.

(2) After notice to interested persons, including all persons interested in the administration of the estate as successors under the applicable assumption concerning testacy, any previously appointed personal representative and any person having or claiming priority for appointment as personal representative, the court shall determine who is entitled to appointment under section 91A-3-203, make a proper appointment and, if appropriate, terminate any prior appointment found to have been improper as provided in cases of removal under section 91A-3-611.

SUPERVISED ADMINISTRATION

Section 91A-3-501. Supervised administration; nature of proceeding. Supervised administration is a single in rem proceeding to secure complete administration and settlement of a decedent's estate under the continuing authority of the court which extends until entry of an order approving distribution of the estate and discharging the personal representative or other order terminating the proceeding. A supervised personal representative is responsible to the court, as well as to the interested parties, and is subject to directions concerning the estate made by the court on its own motion or on the motion of any interested party. Except as otherwise provided in sections 91A-3-501 through 91A-3-505, or as otherwise ordered by the court, a supervised personal representative has the same duties and powers as a personal representative who is not supervised.

Section 91A-3-502. Supervised administration; petition; order. A petition for supervised administration may be filed by any interested person or by a personal representative at any time or the prayer for supervised administration may be joined with a petition in a testacy or appointment proceeding. If the testacy of the decedent and the priority and qualification of any personal representative have not been adjudicated previously, the petition for supervised administration shall include the matters required of a petition in a formal testacy proceeding and the notice requirements and procedures applicable to a formal testacy proceeding apply. If not previously adjudicated, the court shall adjudicate the testacy of the decedent and questions relating to the priority and qualifications of the personal representative in any case involving a request for supervised administration, even though the request for supervised administration may be denied. After notice to interested persons, the court shall order supervised administration of a decedent's estate:

(1) if the decedent's will directs supervised administration, it shall be ordered unless the court finds that circumstances bearing on the need for supervised administration have changed since the execution of the will and that there is no necessity for supervised administration;

(2) if the decedent's will directs unsupervised administration, supervised administration shall be ordered only upon a finding that it is necessary for protection of persons interested in the estate; or

(3) in other cases if the court finds that supervised administration is necessary under the circumstances.

Section 91A-3-503. Supervised administration; effect on other proceedings. (1) The pendency of a proceeding for supervised administration of a decedent's estate stays action on any informal application then pending or thereafter filed.

(2) If a will has been previously probated in informal proceedings, the effect of the filing of a petition for supervised administration is as provided for formal testacy proceedings by section 91A-3-401.

(3) After he has received notice of the filing of a petition for supervised administration, a personal representative who has been appointed previously shall not exercise his power to distribute any estate. The filing of the petition does not affect his other powers and duties unless the court restricts the exercise of any of them pending full hearing on the petition.

Section 91A-3-504. Supervised administration; powers of personal administration. Unless restricted by the court, a supervised personal representative has, without interim orders approving exercise of a power, all powers of personal representatives under this code, but he shall not exercise his power to make any distribution of the estate without prior order of the court. Any other restriction on the power of a personal representative which may be ordered by the court must be endorsed on his letters of appointment and, unless so endorsed, is ineffective as to persons dealing in good faith with the personal representative.

Section 91A-3-505. Supervised administration; interim orders; distribution and closing orders. Unless otherwise ordered by the court, supervised administration is terminated by order in accordance with time restrictions, notices and contents of orders prescribed for proceedings under section 91A-3-1001. Interim orders approving or directing partial distributions or granting other relief may be issued by the court at any time during the pendency of a supervised administration on the application of the personal representative or any interested person.

PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE; APPOINTMENT, CONTROL AND TERMINATION OF AUTHORITY

Section 91A-3-601. Qualification of personal representative. Prior to receiving letters, a personal representative shall qualify by filing with the appointing court any required bond and a statement of acceptance of the duties of the office.

Section 91A-3-602. Acceptance of appointment; consent to jurisdiction. By accepting appointment, a personal representative submits personally to the jurisdiction of the court in any proceeding relating to the estate that may be instituted by any interested person. Notice of any proceeding shall be delivered to the personal representative, or mailed to him by ordinary first class mail at his address as listed in the application or petition for appointment or as thereafter reported to the court and to his address as then known to the petitioner.

Section 91A-3-603. Bond not required without court order; exceptions. No bond is required of a personal representative appointed in informal proceedings, except (1) upon the appointment of a special administrator;

(2) when an executor or other personal representative is appointed to administer an estate under a will containing an express requirement of bond or

(3) when bond is required under section 91A-3-605.

Bond may be required by court order at the time of appointment of a personal representative appointed in any formal proceeding except that bond is not required of a personal representative appointed in formal proceedings if the will relieves the personal representative of bond, unless bond has been requested by an interested party and the court is satisfied that it is desirable. Bond required by any will may be dispensed with in formal proceedings upon determination by the court that it is not necessary. No bond is required of any personal representative who, pursuant to statute, has deposited cash or collateral with an agency of this state to secure performance of his duties.

Section 91A-3-604. Bond amount; security; procedure; reduction. If bond is required and the provisions of the will or order do not specify the amount, unless stated in his application or petition, the person qualifying shall file a statement under oath with the clerk indicating his best estimate of the value of the personal estate of the decedent and of the income expected from the personal and real estate during the next year, and he shall execute and file a bond with the clerk, or give other suitable security, in an amount not less than the estimate. The clerk shall determine that the bond is duly executed by a corporate surety, or one or more individual sureties whose performance is secured by pledge of personal property, mortgage on real property or other adequate security. The clerk may permit the amount of the bond to be reduced by the value of assets of the estate deposited with a domestic financial institution (as defined in section 91A-6-101) in a manner that prevents their unauthorized disposition. On petition of the personal representative or another interested person the court may excuse a requirement of bond, increase or reduce the amount of the bond, release sureties, or permit the substitution of another bond with the same or different sureties.

Section 91A-3-605. Demand for bond by interested person. Any person apparently having an interest in the estate worth in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000), or any creditor having a claim in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000), may make a written demand that a personal representative give bond. The demand must be filed with the clerk and a copy mailed to the personal representative, if appointment and qualification have occurred. Thereupon, bond is required, but the requirement ceases if the person demanding bond ceases to be interested in the estate, or if bond is excused as provided in section 91A-3-603 or 91A-3-604. After he has received notice and until the filing of the bond or cessation of the requirement of bond, the personal representative shall refrain from exercising any powers of his office except as necessary to preserve the estate. Failure of the personal representative to meet a requirement of bond by giving suitable bond within thirty (30) days after receipt of notice is cause for his removal and appointment of a successor personal representative.

Section 91A-3-606. Terms and conditions of bond. (1) The following requirements and provisions apply to any bond required by this part:

(a) Bonds shall name the state as obligee for the benefit of the persons interested in the estate and shall be conditioned upon the faithful discharge by the fiduciary of all duties according to law.

(b) Unless otherwise provided by the terms of the approved bond, sureties are jointly and severally liable with the personal representative and with each other. The address of sureties shall be stated in the bond.

(c) By executing an approved bond of a personal representative, the surety consents to the jurisdiction of the probate court which issued letters to the primary obligor in any proceedings pertaining to the fiduciary duties of the personal representative and naming the surety as a party. Notice of any proceeding shall be delivered to the surety or mailed to him by registered or certified mail at his address as listed with the court where the bond is filed and to his address as then known to the petitioner.

(d) On petition of a successor personal representative, any other personal representative of the same decedent, or any interested person, a proceeding in the court may be initiated against a surety for breach of the obligation of the bond of the personal representative.

(e) The bond of the personal representative is not void after the first recovery but may be proceeded against from time to time until the whole penalty is exhausted.

(2) No action or proceeding may be commenced against the surety on any matter as to which an action or proceeding against the primary obligor is barred by adjudication or limitation.

Section 91A-3-607. Order restraining personal representative. (1) On petition of any person who appears to have an interest in the estate, the court by temporary order may restrain a personal representative from performing specified acts of administration, disbursement, or distribution, or exercise of any powers or discharge of any duties of his office, or make any other order to secure proper performance of his duty, if it appears to the court that the personal representative otherwise may take some action which would jeopardize unreasonably the interest of the applicant or of some other interested person. Persons with whom the personal representative may transact business may be made parties.

(2) The matter shall be set for hearing within ten (10) days unless the parties otherwise agree. Notice as the court directs shall be given to the personal representative and his attorney of record, if any, and to any other parties named defendant in the petition.

Section 91A-3-608. Termination of appointment; general. Termination of appointment of a personal representative occurs as indicated in sections 91A-3-609 to 91A-3-612, inclusive. Termination ends the right and power pertaining to the office of personal representative as conferred by this code or any will, except that a personal representative, at any time prior to distribution or until restrained or enjoined by court order, may perform acts necessary to protect the estate and may deliver the assets to a successor representative. Termination does not discharge a personal representative from liability for transactions or omissions occurring before termination, or relieve him of the duty to preserve assets subject to his control, to account therefor and to deliver the assets. Termination does not affect the jurisdiction of the court over the personal representative, but terminates his authority to represent the estate in any pending or future proceeding.

Section 91A-3-609. Termination of appointment; death or disability. The death of a personal representative or the appointment of a conservator for the estate of a personal representative, terminates his appointment. Until appointment and qualification of a successor or special representative to replace the deceased or protected representative, the representative of the estate of the deceased or protected personal representative, if any, has the duty to protect the estate possessed and being administered by his decedent or ward at the time his appointment terminates, has the power to perform acts necessary for protection and shall account for and deliver the estate assets to a successor or special personal representative upon his appointment and qualification.

Section 91A-3-610. Termination of appointment; voluntary. (1) An appointment of a personal representative terminates as provided in section 91A-3-1003, one (1) year after the filing of a closing statement.

(2) An order closing an estate as provided in section 91A-3-1001 or 91A-3-1002 terminates an appointment of a personal representative.

(3) A personal representative may resign his position by filing a written statement of resignation with the clerk after he has given at least fifteen (15) days written notice to the persons known to be interested in the estate. If no one applies or petitions for appointment of a successor representative within the time indicated in the notice, the filed statement of resignation is ineffective as a termination of appointment and in any event is effective only upon the appointment and qualification of a successor representative and delivery of the assets to him.

Section 91A-3-611. Termination of appointment by removal; cause; procedure. (1) A person interested in the estate may petition for removal of a personal representative for cause at any time. Upon filing of the petition, the court shall fix a time and place for hearing. Notice shall be given by the petitioner to the personal representative, and to other persons as the court may order. Except as otherwise ordered as provided in section 91A-3-607, after receipt of notice of removal proceedings, the personal representative shall not act except to account, to correct maladministration or preserve the estate. If removal is ordered, the court also shall direct by order the disposition of the assets remaining in the name of, or under the control of, the personal representative being removed.

(2) Cause for removal exists when removal would be in the best interests of the estate, or if it is shown that a personal representative or the person seeking his appointment intentionally misrepresented material facts in the proceedings leading to his appointment, or that the personal representative has disregarded an order of the court, has become incapable of discharging the duties of his office, or has mismanaged the estate or failed to perform any duty pertaining to the office. Unless the decedent's will directs otherwise, a personal representative appointed at the decedent's domicile, incident to securing appointment of himself or his nominee as ancillary personal representative, may obtain removal of another who was appointed personal representative in this state to administer local assets.

Section 91A-3-612. Termination of appointment; change of testacy status. Except as otherwise ordered in formal proceedings, the probate of a will subsequent to the appointment of a personal representative in intestacy or under a will which is superseded by formal probate of another will, or the vacation of an informal probate of a will subsequent to the appointment of the personal representative thereunder, does not terminate the appointment of the personal representative although his powers may be reduced as provided in section 91A-3-401. Termination occurs upon appointment in informal or formal appointment proceedings of a person entitled to appointment under the later assumption concerning testacy. If no request for new appointment is made within thirty (30) days after expiration of time for appeal from the order in formal testacy proceedings, or from the informal probate, changing the assumption concerning testacy, the previously appointed personal representative upon request may be appointed personal representative under the subsequently probated will, or as in intestacy as the case may be.

Section 91A-3-613. Successor personal representative. Sections 91A-3-301 through 91A-3-414 govern proceedings for appointment of a personal representative to succeed one whose appointment has been terminated. After appointment and qualification, a successor personal representative may be substituted in all actions and proceedings to which the former personal representative was a party, and no notice, process or claim which was given or served upon the former personal representative need be given to or served upon the successor in order to preserve any position or right the person giving the notice or filing the claim may thereby have obtained or preserved with reference to the former personal representative. Except as otherwise ordered by the court, the successor personal representative has the powers and duties in respect to the continued administration which the former personal representative would have had if his appointment had not been terminated.

Section 91A-3-614. Special administrator; appointment. A special administrator may be appointed:

(1) informally by the clerk on the application of any interested person when necessary to protect the estate of a decedent prior to the appointment of a general personal representative or if a prior appointment has been terminated as provided in section 91A-3-609;

(2) in a formal proceeding by order of the court on the petition of any interested person and finding, after notice and hearing, that appointment is necessary to preserve the estate or to secure its proper administration including its administration in circumstances where a general personal representative cannot or should not act. If it appears to the court that an emergency exists, appointment may be ordered without notice.

Section 91A-3-615. Special administrator; who may be appointed.

(1) If a special administrator is to be appointed pending the probate of a will which is the subject of a pending application or petition for probate, the person named executor in the will shall be appointed if available, and qualified.

(2) In other cases, any proper person may be appointed special administrator.

Section 91A-3-616. Special administrator; appointed informally; powers and duties. A special administrator appointed by the clerk in informal proceedings pursuant to section 91A-3-614(1) has the duty to collect and manage the assets of the estate, to preserve them, to account therefor and to deliver them to the general personal representative upon his qualification. The special administrator has the power of a personal representative under the code necessary to perform his duties.

Section 91A-3-617. Special administrator; formal proceedings; power and duties. A special administrator appointed by order of the court in any formal proceeding has the power of a general personal representative except as limited in the appointment and duties as prescribed in the order. The appointment may be for a specified time, to perform particular acts or on other terms as the court may direct.

Section 91A-3-618. Termination of appointment; special adminis- trator. The appointment of a special administrator terminates in accordance with the provisions of the order of appointment or on the appointment of a general personal representative. In other cases, the appointment of a special administrator is subject to termination as provided in sections 91A-3-608 through 91A-3-611.

DUTIES AND POWERS OF PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES

Section 91A-3-701. Time of accrual of duties and powers. The duties and powers of a personal representative commence upon his appointment. The powers of a personal representative relate back in time to give acts by the person appointed which are beneficial to the estate occurring prior to appointment the same effect as those occurring thereafter. Prior to appointment, a person named executor in a will may carry out written instructions of the decedent relating to his body, funeral and burial arrangements. A personal representative may ratify and accept acts on behalf of the estate done by others where the acts would have been proper for a personal representative.

Section 91A-3-702. Priority among different letters. A person to whom general letters are issued first has exclusive authority under the letters until his appointment is terminated or modified. If, through error, general letters are afterwards issued to another, the first appointed representative may recover any property of the estate in the hands of the representative subsequently appointed, but the acts of the latter done in good faith before notice of the first letters are not void for want of validity of appointment.

Section 91A-3-703. General duties; relation and liability to persons interested in estate; standing to sue. (1) A personal representative is a fiduciary who shall observe the standards of care applicable to trustees under the laws of the state of Montana. A personal representative is under a duty to settle and distribute the estate of the decedent in accordance with the terms of any probated and effective will and this code, and as expeditiously and efficiently as is consistent with the best interests of the estate. He shall use the authority conferred upon him by this code, the terms of the will, if any, and any order in proceedings to which he is party for the best interests of successors to the estate.

(2) A personal representative shall not be surcharged for acts of administration or distribution if the conduct in question was authorized at the time. Subject to other obligations of administration and of this code, an informally probated will is authority to administer and distribute the estate according to its terms. Subject to the provisions of this code, an order of appointment of a personal representative, whether issued in informal or formal proceedings, is authority to distribute apparently intestate assets to the heirs of the decedent if, at the time of distribution, the personal representative is not aware of a pending testacy proceeding, a proceeding to vacate an order entered in an earlier testacy proceeding, a formal proceeding questioning his appointment or fitness to continue, or a supervised administration proceeding. Nothing in this section affects the duty of the personal representative to administer and distribute the estate in accordance with the rights of claimants, the surviving spouse, any minor and dependent children and any pretermitted child of the decedent as described elsewhere in this code.

(3) Except as to proceedings which do not survive the death of the decedent, a personal representative of a decedent domiciled in this state at his death has the same standing to sue and be sued in the courts of this state and the courts of any other jurisdiction as his decedent had immediately prior to death.

Section 91A-3-704. Personal representative to proceed without court order; exception. A personal representative shall proceed expeditiously with the settlement and distribution of a decedent's estate and, except as otherwise specified under this code or ordered in regard to a supervised personal representative, do so without adjudication, order, or direction of the court, but he may invoke the jurisdiction of the court, in proceedings authorized by this code, to resolve questions concerning the estate or its administration.

Section 91A-3-705. Duty of personal representative; information to heirs and devisees. Not later than thirty (30) days after his appointment every personal representative, except any special administrator, shall give information of his appointment to the heirs and devisees, including, if there has been no formal testacy proceeding and if the personal representative was appointed on the assumption that the decedent died intestate, the devisees in any will mentioned in the application for appointment of a personal representative. The information shall be delivered or sent by ordinary mail to each of the heirs and devisees whose address is reasonably available to the personal representative. The duty does not extend to require information to persons who have been adjudicated in a prior formal testacy proceeding to have no interest in the estate. The information shall include the name and address of the personal representative, indicate that it is being sent to persons who have or may have some interest in the estate being administered, indicate whether bond has been filed, and describe the court where papers relating to the estate are on file. The personal representative's failure to give this information is a breach of his duty to the persons concerned but does not affect the validity of his appointment, his powers or other duties. A personal representative may inform other persons of his appointment by delivery or ordinary first class mail.

Section 91A-3-706. Duty of personal representative; supplementary inventory and appraisal; employment of appraiser; copy to department of revenue. Within three (3) months after his appointment, a personal representative, who is not a special administrator or a successor to another representative who has previously discharged this duty, shall prepare and file or mail an inventory, which inventory shall include listing of all property which the decedent owned, had an interest in or control over, individually, in common, or jointly, or otherwise had at the time of his death; or had possessory or dispositive rights over at the time of his death or had disposed of for less than its fair market value within three (3) years of his death; or which was affected by his death for the purpose of inheritance or estate taxes. The inventory shall include a statement of the full and true value of the decedent's interest in every item listed in such inventory. In this connection the personal representative shall appoint at least three (3) qualified and disinterested persons, any two (2) of whom may act, to assist him in ascertaining the fair market value as of the date of the decedent's death of all assets included in the estate. Different persons may be employed to appraise different kinds of assets included in the estate. The names and addresses of any appraiser shall be indicated on the inventory with the item or items he appraised.

The personal representative shall send a copy of the inventory to interested persons who request it, and he shall file the original of the inventory with the court. In any event, a copy of the inventory and statement of value shall be mailed to the department of revenue.

Section 91A-3-707. Duty of personal representative; supplementary inventory; copy to department of revenue. If any property not included in the original inventory comes to the knowledge of a personal representative or if the personal representative learns that the value or description indicated in the original inventory for any item is erroneous or misleading, he shall make a supplementary inventory or appraisal showing the market value as of the date of the decedent's death of the new item or the revised market value or descriptions, and the appraisers or other data relied upon, if any, and file it with the court if the original inventory was filed, or furnish copies thereof or information thereof to persons interested in the new information; and in any case shall mail a copy of it to the department of revenue.

Section 91A-3-708. Duty of personal representative; possession of estate. Except as otherwise provided by a decedent's will and subject to the provisions of section 91-3205, R.C.M. 1947, every personal representative has a right to, and shall take possession or control of, the decedent's property, except that any real property or tangible personal property may be left with or surrendered to the person presumptively entitled thereto unless or until, in the judgment of the personal representative, possession of the property by him will be necessary for purposes of administration. The request by a personal representative for delivery of any property possessed by an heir or devisee is conclusive evidence, in any action against the heir or devisee for possession thereof, that the possession of the property by the personal representative is necessary for purposes of administration. The personal representative shall pay taxes on, and take all steps reasonably necessary for the management, protection and preservation of, the estate in his possession. He may maintain an action to recover possession of property or to determine the title thereto.

Section 91A-3-709. Power to avoid transfers. The property liable for the payment of unsecured debts of a decedent includes all property transferred by him by any means which is in law void or voidable as against his creditors, and subject to prior liens, the right to recover this property, so far as necessary for the payment of unsecured debts of the decedent, is exclusively in the personal representative.

Section 91A-3-710. Improper exercise of power; breach of fiduciary duty. If any exercise of power concerning the estate is improper, the personal representative is liable to interested persons for damage or loss resulting from breach of his fiduciary duty to the same extent as a trustee of an express trust. The rights of purchasers and others dealing with a personal representative shall be determined as provided in sections 91A-3-711 and 91A-3-712.

Section 91A-3-711. Sale, encumbrance or transaction involving conflict of interest; voidable; exceptions. Any sale or encumbrance to the personal representative, his spouse, agent or attorney, or any corporation or trust in which he has a substantial beneficial interest, or any transaction which is affected by a substantial conflict of interest on the part of the personal representative, is voidable by any person interested in the estate except one who has consented after fair disclosure, unless

(1) the will or a contract entered into by the decedent expressly authorized the transaction; or

(2) the transaction is approved by the court after notice to interested persons.

Section 91A-3-712. Persons dealing with personal representatives; protection. A person who in good faith and without notice either assists a personal representative or deals with him for value is protected as if the personal representative properly exercised his power. The fact that a person knowingly deals with a personal representative does not alone require the person to inquire into the existence of a power or the propriety of its exercise. Except for restrictions on powers of supervised personal representatives which are endorsed on letters as provided in section 91A-3-504, no provision in any will or order of court purporting to limit the power of a personal representative is effective except as to persons with actual knowledge thereof. A person is not bound to see to the proper application of estate assets paid or delivered to a personal representative. The protection here expressed extends to instances in which some procedural irregularity or jurisdictional defect occurred in proceedings leading to the issuance of letters, including a case in which the alleged decedent is found to be alive. The protection here expressed is not by substitution for that provided by comparable provisions of the laws relating to commercial transactions and laws simplifying transfers of securities by fiduciaries nor does it in any way limit the provisions of section 91A-3-1010.

Section 91A-3-713. Transactions authorized for personal representatives; exceptions. Except as restricted by this code or otherwise provided by the will or by an order in a formal proceeding and subject to the priorities stated in section 91A-3-902, a personal representative, acting reasonably for the benefit of the interested persons, may properly:

(1) retain assets owned by the decedent pending distribution or liquidation including those in which the representative is personally interested or which are otherwise improper for trust investment;

(2) receive assets from fiduciaries, or other sources;

(3) perform, compromise or refuse performance of the decedent's contracts that continue as obligations of the estate, as he may determine under the circumstances. In performing enforceable contracts by the decedent to convey or lease land, the personal representative, among other possible courses of action, may:

(a) execute and deliver a deed of conveyance for cash payment of all sums remaining due or the purchaser's note for the sum remaining due secured by a mortgage or deed of trust on the land; or

(b) deliver a deed in escrow with directions that the proceeds, when paid in accordance with the escrow agreement, be paid to the successors of the decedent, as designated in the escrow agreement;

(4) satisfy written charitable pledges of the decedent irrespective of whether the pledges constituted binding obligations of the decedent or were properly presented as claims, if in the judgment of the personal representative the decedent would have wanted the pledges completed under the circumstances;

(5) if funds are not needed to meet debts and expenses currently payable and are not immediately distributable, deposit or invest liquid assets of the estate, including moneys received from the sale of other assets, in federally insured interest-bearing accounts, readily marketable secured loan arrangements or other prudent investments which would be reasonable for use by trustees generally;

(6) acquire or dispose of an asset, including land in this or another state, for cash or on credit, at public or private sale; and manage, develop, improve, exchange, partition, change the character of, or abandon an estate asset;

(7) make ordinary or extraordinary repairs or alterations in buildings or other structures, demolish any improvements, raze existing or erect new party walls or buildings;

(8) subdivide, develop or dedicate land to public use; make or obtain the vacation of plats and adjust boundaries; or adjust differences in valuation on exchange or partition by giving or receiving considerations; or dedicate easements to public use without consideration;

(9) enter for any purpose into a lease as lessor or lessee, with or without option to purchase or renew, for a term within or extending beyond the period of administration;

(10) enter into a lease or arrangement for exploration and removal of minerals or other natural resources or enter into a pooling or unitization agreement;

(11) with the consent of the heirs or devisees or the court abandon property when, in the opinion of the personal representative, it is valueless, or is so encumbered, or is in condition that it is of no benefit to the estate;

(12) vote stocks or other securities in person or by general or limited proxy;

(13) pay calls, assessments, and other sums chargeable or accruing against or on account of securities, unless barred by the provisions relating to claims;

(14) hold a security in the name of a nominee or in other form without disclosure of the interest of the estate but the personal representative is liable for any act of the nominee in connection with the security so held;

(15) insure the assets of the estate against damage, loss and liability and himself against liability as to third persons;

(16) borrow money with or without security to be repaid from the estate assets or otherwise; and advance money for the protection of the estate;

(17) with the consent of the heirs or devisees or the court effect a fair and reasonable compromise with any debtor or obligor, or extend, renew or in any manner modify the terms of any obligation owing to the estate. If the personal representative holds a mortgage, pledge or other lien upon property of another person, he may, in lieu of foreclosure, accept a conveyance or transfer of encumbered assets from the owner thereof in satisfaction of the indebtedness secured by lien;

(18) pay taxes, assessments, compensation of the personal representative, and other expenses incident to the administration of the estate;

(19) sell or exercise stock subscription or conversion rights; consent, directly or through a committee or other agent, to the reorganization, consolidation, merger, dissolution, or liquidation of a corporation or other business enterprise;

(20) allocate items of income or expense to either estate income or principal, as permitted or provided by law;

(21) employ persons, including attorneys, auditors, investment advisors, or agents, even if they are associated with the personal representative, to advise or assist the personal representative in the performance of his administrative duties; act without independent investigation upon their recommendations; and instead of acting personally, employ one (1) or more agents to perform any act of administration, whether or not discretionary;

(22) prosecute or defend claims, or proceedings in any jurisdiction for the protection of the estate and of the personal representative in the performance of his duties;

(23) sell, mortgage, or lease any real or personal property of the estate or any interest therein for cash, credit, or for part cash and part credit, and with or without security for unpaid balances provided, however, no personal representative shall without prior court approval in a supervised proceeding, either directly or indirectly purchase any property of the estate he represents, nor shall he be interested in any such sale. All sales shall be fairly conducted and made for the best price obtainable.

(24) continue any unincorporated business or venture in which the decedent was engaged at the time of his death:

(a) in the same business form for a period of not more than four (4) months from the date of appointment of a general personal representative if continuation is a reasonable means of preserving the value of the business including good will;

(b) in the same business form for any additional period of time that may be approved by order of the court in a formal proceeding to which the persons interested in the estate are parties; or

(c) throughout the period of administration if the business is incorporated by the personal representative and if none of the probable distributees of the business who are competent adults object to its incorporation and retention in the estate;

(25) incorporate any business or venture in which the decedent was engaged at the time of his death;

(26) satisfy and settle claims and distribute the estate as provided in this code.

Section 91A-3-714. Final accounting; disposition of copies; further accountings; vouchers; challenges. Before any estate may be finally closed and the personal representative relieved from his duties and obligations thereunder he shall either file with the court or deliver to all interested persons an accounting under oath showing the amount of money received and expended by him, the amount of all claims presented against the estate and the names of the claimants and all other matters necessary to show the state of its affairs. A copy of such account shall also be mailed to the department of revenue. Any interested person at any time during the course of administration of an estate may for good cause shown require further accountings. In rendering any account the personal representative must produce and file vouchers for all charges, debts, claims and expenses which he has paid, which shall be filed with the clerk of court, provided that no voucher shall be required if the item of expenditure does not exceed fifty dollars ($50). Upon the mailing or filing of any such account, any interested person may challenge the same in writing, and if the proceeding is at the time of such challenge informal, the challenge of such account shall be deemed a supervised matter.

Section 91A-3-715. Sale of estate property after delivery of inventory to department of revenue and payment or waiver of taxes; exception. Save upon an order of court obtained after notice and hearing in a supervised proceeding or formal probate, no property of the estate shall be sold unless and until a proper inventory and statement of value has been delivered to the state department of revenue and the tax due the state of Montana has been paid or the department of revenue has waived that tax in connection with the sale of the property.

Section 91A-3-716. Powers and duties of successor personal representative. A successor personal representative has the same power and duty as the original personal representative to complete the administration and distribution of the estate, as expeditiously as possible, but he shall not exercise any power expressly made personal to the executor named in the will.

Section 91A-3-717. Corepresentatives; when joint action required. If two (2) or more persons are appointed corepresentatives and unless the will provides otherwise, the concurrence of all is required on all acts connected with the administration and distribution of the estate. This restriction does not apply when any corepresentative receives and receipts for property due the estate, when the concurrence of all cannot readily be obtained in the time reasonably available for emergency action necessary to preserve the estate, or when a corepresentative has been delegated to act for the others. Persons dealing with a corepresentative if actually unaware that another has been appointed to serve with him or if advised by the personal representative with whom they deal that he has authority to act alone for any of the reasons mentioned herein, are as fully protected as if the person with whom they dealt had been the sole personal representative.

Section 91A-3-718. Powers of surviving personal representative. Unless the terms of the will otherwise provide, every power exercisable by personal corepresentatives may be exercised by the one (1) or more remaining after the appointment of one (1) or more is terminated, and if one (1) of two (2) or more nominated as coexecutors is not appointed, those appointed may exercise all the powers incident to the office.

Section 91A-3-719. Compensation of personal representative. (1) A personal representative is entitled to reasonable compensation for his services. Such compensation shall not exceed three percent (3%) of the first forty thousand dollars ($40,000) of the value of the estate as reported for federal estate tax or state inheritance tax purposes, whichever is larger and two percent (2%) of the value of the estate in excess of forty thousand dollars ($40,000) as reported for federal estate tax or state inheritance tax purposes, whichever is larger.

(2) In proceedings conducted for the termination of joint tenancies, the compensation of the personal representative shall not exceed two percent (2%) of the interest passing.

(3) In proceedings conducted for the termination of a life estate, the compensation allowed the personal representative shall not exceed two percent (2%) of the value of the life estate if it is terminated in connection with a probate or joint tenancy termination. If a life estate is terminated separately, the personal representative's compensation shall not exceed two percent (2%) of the value of the estate, except that it shall not be less than one hundred dollars ($100).

(4) If there is more than one personal representative, only one compensation is allowed.

(5) The court may allow additional compensation for extraordinary services. Such additional compensation shall not be greater than the amount which is allowed for the original compensation.

(6) If the will provides for the compensation of the personal representative and there is no contract with the decedent regarding compensation, the personal representative may renounce the provision before qualifying and be entitled to compensation under the terms of this section. A personal representative also may renounce his right to all or any part of the compensation. A written renunciation of fee may be filed with the court.

Section 91A-3-720. Compensation of attorney. (1) If the services of an attorney are engaged by the personal representative, the compensation of such attorney shall not exceed one and one half (1 ½) times the compensation allowable to the personal representative.

(2) If the services of an attorney are engaged by the personal representative to assist in the termination of joint tenancies, the compensation allowed the attorney shall not exceed three percent (3%) of the interest passing.

(3) If the services of an attorney are engaged in connection with the termination of a life estate, the compensation allowed the attorney shall not exceed three percent (3%) of the value of the life estate if it is terminated in connection with a probate or joint tenancy termination. If a life estate is terminated separately, the attorney's compensation shall not exceed three percent (3%) except that it shall not be less than one hundred dollars ($100).

(4) If the services of more than one attorney are engaged, only one compensation shall be allowed.

(5) In cases where further compensation may be allowed to an attorney, the same must be fixed and determined by the court upon good cause shown after notice and hearing of an application therefor.

Section 91A-3-721. Expenses in estate litigation. If any personal representative or person nominated as personal representative defends or prosecutes any proceeding in good faith, whether successful or not he is entitled to receive from the estate his necessary expenses and disbursements including reasonable attorneys' fees incurred.

Section 91A-3-722. Proceedings for review of employment of agents and compensation of personal representatives and employees of estate; court to set disputed fee. Upon the filing of a motion for settlement of fees by the court filed by an interested person, the personal representative or the person employed by the personal representative and after notice to all interested persons, the propriety of employment of any person by a personal representative including any attorney, auditor, investment advisor or other specialized agent or assistant, the reasonableness of the compensation of any person so employed, or the reasonableness of the compensation determined by the personal representative for his own services, shall be reviewed and determined by the court. In any dispute concerning fees, the court shall set the fee. Any person who has received excessive compensation from an estate for services rendered may be ordered to make appropriate refunds.

CREDITORS' CLAIMS

Section 91A-3-801. Notice to creditors. Unless notice has already been given under this section, a personal representative upon his appointment shall publish a notice once a week for three (3) successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county announcing his appointment and address and notifying creditors of the estate to present their claims within four (4) months after the date of the first publication of the notice or be forever barred, and proof of publication shall be filed with the clerk.

Section 91A-3-802. Statutes of limitations. Unless an estate is insolvent the personal representative, with the consent of all successors, may waive any defense of limitations available to the estate. If the defense is not waived, no claim which was barred by any statute of limitations at the time of the decedent's death shall be allowed or paid. The running of any statute of limitations measured from some other event than death and advertisement for claims against a decedent is suspended during the four (4) months following the decedent's death but resumes thereafter as to claims not barred pursuant to the sections which follow. For purposes of any statute of limitations, the proper presentation of a claim under section 91A-3-804 is equivalent to commencement of a proceeding on the claim.

Section 91A-3-803. Limitations of presentation of claims; exception. (1) All claims against a decedent's estate with the exception of claims founded on tort which arose before the death of the decedent, including claims of the state and any subdivision thereof, whether due or to become due, absolute or contingent, liquidated or unliquidated, founded on contract or other legal basis, if not barred earlier by other statute of limitations, are barred against the estate, the personal representative, and the heirs and devisees of the decedent, unless presented as follows:

(a) within four (4) months after the date of the first publication of notice to creditors if notice is given in compliance with section 91A-3-801; provided, claims barred by the nonclaim statute at the decedent's domicile before the first publication for claims in this state are also barred in this state; or

(b) within three (3) years after the decedent's death, if notice to creditors has not been published.

(2) All claims against a decedent's estate with the exception of claims founded on tort which arise at or after the death of the decedent, including claims of the state and any subdivision thereof, whether due or to become due, absolute or contingent, liquidated or unliquidated, founded on contract or other legal basis, are barred against the estate, the personal representative, and the heirs and devisees of the decedent, unless presented as follows:

(a) a claim based on a contract with the personal representative, within four (4) months after performance by the personal representative is due;

(b) any other claim, within four (4) months after it arises.

(3) Nothing in this section affects or prevents:

(a) any proceeding to enforce any mortgage, pledge, or other lien upon property of the estate; or

(b) to the limits of the insurance protection only, any proceeding to establish liability of the decedent or the personal representative for which he is protected by liability insurance.

Section 91A-3-804. Manner of presentation of claims. Claims against a decedent's estate may be presented as follows:

(1) The claimant shall mail to the personal representative return receipt requested a written statement of the claim indicating its basis, the name and address of the claimant, and the amount claimed, or may file a written statement of the claim, in the form prescribed by rule, with the clerk of the court. The claim is deemed presented on the first to occur of receipt of the written statement of claim by the personal representative, or the filing of the claim with the court. If a claim is not yet due, the date when it will become due shall be stated. If the claim is contingent or unliquidated, the nature of the uncertainty shall be stated. If the claim is secured, the security shall be described. Failure to describe correctly the security, the nature of any uncertainty, and the due date of a claim not yet due does not invalidate the presentation made.

(2) The claimant may commence a proceeding against the personal representative in any court where the personal representative may be subjected to jurisdiction, to obtain payment of his claim against the estate, but the commencement of the proceeding must occur within the time limited for presenting the claim. No presentation of claim is required in regard to matters claimed in proceedings against the decedent which were pending at the time of his death.

(3) If a claim is presented under subsection (1), no proceeding thereon may be commenced more than sixty (60) days after the personal representative has mailed a notice of disallowance; but, in the case of a claim which is not presently due or which is contingent or unliquidated, the personal representative may consent to an extension of the sixty (60) day period, or to avoid injustice the court, on petition, may order an extension of the sixty (60) day period, but in no event shall the extension run beyond the applicable statute of limitations.

Section 91A-3-805. Classification of claims. (1) If the applicable assets of the estate are insufficient to pay all claims in full, the personal representative shall make payment in the following order:

- (a) costs and expenses of administration;
- (b) reasonable funeral expenses;
- (c) debts and taxes with preference under federal law;
- (d) reasonable and necessary medical and hospital expenses of the last illness of the decedent, including compensation of persons attending him;
- (e) debts and taxes with preference under the laws of this state;
- (f) all other claims.

(2) No preference shall be given in the payment of any claim over any other claim of the same class, and a claim due and payable shall not be entitled to a preference over claims not due.

Section 91A-3-806. Allowance of claims. (1) As to claims presented in the manner described in section 91A-3-804 within the time limit prescribed in 91A-3-803, the personal representative may mail a notice to any claimant stating that the claim has been disallowed. If, after allowing or disallowing a claim, the personal representative changes his decision concerning the claim, he shall notify the claimant. The personal representative may not change a disallowance of a claim after the time for the claimant to file a petition for allowance or to commence a proceeding on the claim has run and the claim has been barred. Every claim which is disallowed in whole or in part by the personal representative is barred so far as not allowed unless the claimant files a petition for allowance in the court or commences a proceeding against the personal representative not later than sixty (60) days after the mailing of the notice of disallowance or partial allowance if the notice warns the claimant of the impending bar. Failure of the personal representative to mail notice to a claimant of action on his claim for sixty (60) days after the time for original presentation of the claim has expired has the effect of a notice of allowance.

(2) Upon the petition of the personal representative or of a claimant in a proceeding for the purpose, the court may allow in whole or in part any claim or claims presented to the personal representative or filed with the clerk of the court in due time and not barred by subsection (1) of this section. Notice in this proceeding shall be given to the claimant, the personal representative and those other persons interested in the estate as the court may direct by order entered at the time the proceeding is commenced.

(3) A judgment in a proceeding in another court against a personal representative to enforce a claim against a decedent's estate is an allowance of the claim.

(4) Unless otherwise provided in any judgment in another court entered against the personal representative, allowed claims bear interest at the legal rate for the period commencing sixty (60) days after the time for original presentation of the claim has expired unless based on a contract making a provision for interest, in which case they bear interest in accordance with that provision.

Section 91A-3-807. Payment of claims. (1) Upon the expiration of four (4) months from the date of the first publication of the notice to creditors, the personal representative shall proceed to pay the claims allowed against the estate in the order of priority prescribed, after making provision for homestead, family and support allowances, for claims already presented which have not yet been allowed or whose allowance has been appealed, and for unbarred claims which may yet be presented, including costs and expenses of administration. By petition to the court in a proceeding for the purpose, or by appropriate motion if the administration is supervised, a claimant whose claim has been allowed but not paid as provided herein may secure an order directing the personal representative to pay the claim to the extent that funds of the estate are available for the payment.

(2) The personal representative at any time may pay any just claim which has not been barred, with or without formal presentation, but he is personally liable to any other claimant whose claim is allowed and who is injured by such payment if

(a) the payment was made before the expiration of the time limit stated in subsection (1) and the personal representative failed to require the payee to give adequate security for the refund of any of the payment necessary to pay other claimants; or

(b) the payment was made, due to the negligence or wilful fault of the personal representative, in such manner as to deprive the injured claimant of his priority.

Section 91A-3-808. Individual liability of personal representative.

(1) Unless otherwise provided in the contract, a personal representative is not individually liable on a contract properly entered into in his fiduciary capacity in the course of administration of the estate unless he fails to reveal his representative capacity and identify the estate in the contract.

(2) A personal representative is individually liable for obligations arising from ownership or control of the estate or for torts committed in the course of administration of the estate only if he is personally at fault.

(3) Claims based on contracts entered into by a personal representative in his fiduciary capacity, on obligations arising from ownership or control of the estate or on torts committed in the course of estate administration may be asserted against the estate by proceeding against the personal representative in his fiduciary capacity, whether or not the personal representative is individually liable therefor.

(4) Issues of liability as between the estate and the personal representative individually may be determined in a proceeding for accounting, surcharge or indemnification or other appropriate proceeding.

Section 91A-3-809. Secured claims. Payment of a secured claim is upon the basis of the amount allowed if the creditor surrenders his security; otherwise payment is upon the basis of one of the following:

(1) if the creditor exhausts his security before receiving payment, unless precluded by other law upon the amount of the claim allowed less the fair value of the security; or

(2) if the creditor does not have the right to exhaust his security or has not done so, upon the amount of the claim allowed less the value of the security determined by converting it into money according to the terms of the agreement pursuant to which the security was delivered to the creditor, or by the creditor and personal representative by agreement, arbitration, compromise or litigation.

Section 91A-3-810. Claims not due and contingent on unliquidated claims. (1) If a claim which will become due at a future time or a contingent or unliquidated claim becomes due or certain before the distribution of the estate, and if the claim has been allowed or established by a proceeding, it is paid in the same manner as presently due and absolute claims of the same class.

(2) In other cases the personal representative or, on petition of the personal representative or the claimant in a special proceeding for the purpose, the court may provide for payment as follows:

(a) if the claimant consents, he may be paid the present or agreed value of the claim, taking any uncertainty into account;

(b) arrangement for future payment, or possible payment, on the happening of the contingency or on liquidation may be made by creating a trust, giving a mortgage, obtaining a bond or security from a distributee, or otherwise.

Section 91A-3-811. Counterclaims. In allowing a claim the personal representative may deduct any counterclaim which the estate has against the claimant. In determining a claim against an estate a court shall reduce the amount allowed by the amount of any counterclaims and, if the counterclaims exceed the claim, render a judgment against the claimant in the amount of the excess. A counterclaim, liquidated or unliquidated, may arise from a transaction other than that upon which the claim is based. A counterclaim may give rise to relief exceeding in amount or different in kind from that sought in the claim.

Section 91A-3-812. Execution and levies prohibited. No execution may issue upon nor may any levy be made against any property of the estate under any judgment against a decedent or a personal representative, but this section shall not be construed to prevent the enforcement of mortgages, pledges or liens upon real or personal property in an appropriate proceeding.

Section 91A-3-813. Compromise of claims. When a claim against the estate has been presented in any manner, the personal representative, with the consent of the heirs or devisees or the court may, if it appears for the best interest of the estate, compromise the claim, whether due or not due, absolute or contingent, liquidated or unliquidated.

Section 91A-3-814. Encumbered assets. If any assets of the estate are encumbered by mortgage, pledge, lien, or other security interest, the personal representative may pay the encumbrance or any part thereof, renew or extend any obligation secured by the encumbrance or convey or transfer the assets to the creditor in satisfaction of his lien, in whole or in part, whether or not the holder of the encumbrance has filed a claim, if it appears to be for the best interest of the estate. Payment of an encumbrance does not increase the share of the distributee entitled to the encumbered assets unless the distributee is entitled to exoneration.

Section 91A-3-815. Administration in more than one state; duty of personal representative. (1) All assets of estates being administered in this state are subject to all claims, allowances and charges existing or established against the personal representative wherever appointed.

(2) If the estate either in this state or as a whole is insufficient to cover all family exemptions and allowances determined by the law of the decedent's domicile, prior charges and claims, after satisfaction of the exemptions, allowances and charges, each claimant whose claim has been allowed either in this state or elsewhere in administrations of which the personal representative is aware, is entitled to receive payment of an equal proportion of his claim. If a preference or security in regard to a claim is allowed in another jurisdiction but not in this state, the creditor so benefited is to receive dividends from local assets only upon the balance of his claim after deducting the amount of the benefit.

(3) In case the family exemptions and allowances, prior charges and claims of the entire estate exceed the total value of the portions of the estate being administered separately and this state is not the state of the decedent's last domicile, the claims allowed in this state shall be paid their proportion if local assets are adequate for the purpose, and the balance of local assets shall be transferred to the domiciliary personal representative. If local assets are not sufficient to pay all claims allowed in this state the amount to which they are entitled, local assets shall be marshalled so that each claim allowed in this state is paid its proportion as far as possible, after taking into account all dividends on claims allowed in this state from assets in other jurisdictions.

Section 91A-3-816. Final distribution to domiciliary personal representative. The estate of a nonresident decedent being administered by a personal representative appointed in this state shall, if there is a personal representative of the decedent's domicile willing to receive it, be distributed to the domiciliary personal representative for the benefit of the successors of the decedent unless (1) by virtue of the decedent's will, if any, and applicable choice of law rules, the successors are identified pursuant to the local law of this state without reference to the local law of the decedent's domicile;

(2) the personal representative of this state, after reasonable inquiry, is unaware of the existence or identity of a domiciliary personal representative; or

(3) the court orders otherwise in a proceeding for a closing order under section 91A-3-1001 or incident to the closing of a supervised administration. In other cases, distribution of the estate of a decedent shall be made in accordance with the other parts of this article.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO DISTRIBUTION

Section 91A-3-901. Successors' rights if no administration. In the absence of administration, the heirs and devisees are entitled to the estate in accordance with the terms of a probated will or the laws of intestate succession. Devisees may establish title by the probated will to devised property. Persons entitled to property by homestead allowance, exemption or intestacy may establish title thereto by proof of the decedent's ownership, his death, and their relationship to the decedent. Successors take subject to all charges incident to administration, including the claims of creditors and allowances of surviving spouse and dependent children, and subject to the rights of others resulting from abatement, retainer, advancement, and ademption.

Section 91A-3-902. Distribution; order in which assets appropriated; abatement. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) and except as provided in connection with the share of the surviving spouse who elects to take an elective share, shares of distributees abate, without any preference or priority as between real and personal property, in the following order:

- (a) property not disposed of by the will;
- (b) residuary devisees;
- (c) general devisees;
- (d) specific devisees.

For purposes of abatement, a general devise charged on any specific property or fund is a specific devise to the extent of the value of the property on which it is charged, and upon the failure or insufficiency of the property on which it is charged, a general devise to the extent of the failure or insufficiency. Abatement within each classification is in proportion to the amounts of property each of the beneficiaries would have received if full distribution of the property had been made in accordance with the terms of the will.

(2) If the will expresses an order of abatement, or if the testamentary plan or the express or implied purpose of the devise would be defeated by the order of abatement stated in subsection (1), the shares of the distributees abate as may be found necessary to give effect to the intention of the testator.

(3) If the subject of a preferred devise is sold or used incident to administration, abatement shall be achieved by appropriate adjustments in, or contribution from, other interests in the remaining assets.

Section 91A-3-903. Successor's indebtedness offset against interest; defenses available. The amount of a noncontingent indebtedness of a successor to the estate if due, or its present value if not due, shall be offset against the successor's interest; but the successor has the benefit of any defense which would be available to him in a direct proceeding for recovery of the debt.

Section 91A-3-904. Interest on general pecuniary devise. General pecuniary devises bear interest at the legal rate beginning one (1) year after the first appointment of a personal representative until payment, unless a contrary intent is indicated by the will.

Section 91A-3-905. Penalty clause for contest. A provision in a will purporting to penalize any interested person for contesting the will or instituting other proceedings relating to the estate is unenforceable if probable cause exists for instituting proceedings.

Section 91A-3-906. Distribution in kind; valuation; method. (1) Unless a contrary intention is indicated by the will, the distributable assets of a decedent's estate shall be distributed in kind to the extent possible through application of the following provisions:

(a) A specific devisee is entitled to distribution of the thing devised to him, and a spouse or child who has selected particular assets of an estate as provided in section 91A-2-402 shall receive the items selected.

(b) Any homestead or family allowance or devise payable in money may be satisfied by value in kind provided

(i) the person entitled to the payment has not demanded payment in cash;

(ii) the property distributed in kind is valued at fair market value as of the date of its distribution, and

(iii) no residuary devisee has requested that the asset in question remain a part of the residue of the estate.

(c) For the purpose of valuation under paragraph (b) securities regularly traded on recognized exchanges, if distributed in kind, are valued at the price for the last sale of like securities traded on the business day prior to distribution, or if there was no sale on that day, at the median between amounts bid and offered at the close of that day. Assets consisting of sums owed the decedent or the estate by solvent debtors as to which there is no known dispute or defense are valued at the sum due with accrued interest or discounted to the date of distribution. For assets which do not have readily ascertainable values, a valuation as of a date not more than thirty (30) days prior to the date of distribution, if otherwise reasonable, controls. For purposes of facilitating distribution, the personal representative may ascertain the value of the assets as of the time of the proposed distribution in any reasonable way, including the employment of qualified appraisers, even if the assets may have been previously appraised.

(d) The residuary estate shall be distributed in kind if there is no objection to the proposed distribution and it is practicable to distribute undivided interests. In other cases, residuary property may be converted into cash for distribution.

(2) After the probable charges against the estate are known, the personal representative may mail or deliver a proposal for distribution to all persons who have a right to object to the proposed distribution. The right of any distributee to object to the proposed distribution on the basis of the kind or value of asset he is to receive, if not waived earlier in writing, terminates if he fails to object in writing received by the personal representative within thirty (30) days after mailing or delivery of the proposal.

Section 91A-3-907. Distribution in kind; evidence. If distribution in kind is made, the personal representative shall execute an instrument or deed of distribution assigning, transferring or releasing the assets to the distributee as evidence of the distributee's title to the property.

Section 91A-3-908. Distribution; right or title of distributee. Proof that a distributee has received an instrument or deed of distribution of assets in kind, or payment in distribution, from a personal representative, is conclusive evidence that the distributee has succeeded to the interest of the estate in the distributed assets, as against all persons interested in the estate, except that the personal representative may recover the assets or their value if the distribution was improper.

Section 91A-3-909. Improper distribution; liability of distributee. Unless the distribution or payment no longer can be questioned because of adjudication, estoppel, or limitation, a distributee of property improperly distributed or paid, or a claimant who was improperly paid, is liable to return the property improperly received and its income since distribution if he has the property. If he does not have the property, then he is liable to return the value as of the date of disposition of the property improperly received and its income and gain received by him.

Section 91A-3-910. Purchasers from distributees protected. If property distributed in kind or a security interest therein is acquired by a purchaser, or lender, for value from a distributee who has received an instrument or deed of distribution from the personal representative, the purchaser or lender takes title free of any claims of the estate and incurs no personal liability to the estate, whether or not the distribution was proper. To be protected under this provision, a purchaser or lender need not inquire whether a personal representative acted properly in making the distribution in kind.

Section 91A-3-911. Partition for purpose of distribution. When two (2) or more heirs or devisees are entitled to distribution of undivided interests in any real or personal property of the estate, the personal representative or one (1) or more of the heirs or devisees may petition the court prior to the formal or informal closing of the estate, to make partition. After notice to the interested heirs or devisees, the court shall partition the property in the same manner as provided by the law for civil actions of partition. The court may direct the personal representative to sell any property which cannot be partitioned without prejudice to the owners and which cannot conveniently be allotted to any one party.

Section 91A-3-912. Private agreements among successors to decedent binding on personal representative. Subject to the rights of creditors and taxing authorities, competent successors may agree among themselves to alter the interests, shares, or amounts to which they are entitled under the will of the decedent, or under the laws of intestacy, in any way that they provide in a written contract executed by all who are affected by its provisions. The personal representative shall abide by the terms of the agreement subject to his obligation to administer the estate for the benefit of creditors, to pay all taxes and costs of administration, and to carry out the responsibilities of his office for the benefit of any successors of the decedent who are not parties. Personal representatives of decedents' estates are not required to see to the performance of trusts if the trustee thereof is another person who is willing to accept the trust. Accordingly, trustees of a testamentary trust are successors for the purposes of this section. Nothing herein relieves trustees of any duties owed to beneficiaries of trusts.

Section 91A-3-913. Distribution to trustee. (1) Before distributing to a trustee, the personal representative may require that the trust be registered if the state in which it is to be administered provides for registration and that the trustee inform the beneficiaries as provided in section 91A-7-303.

(2) If the trust instrument does not excuse the trustee from giving bond, the personal representative may petition the appropriate court to require that the trustee post bond if he apprehends that distribution might jeopardize the interests of persons who are not able to protect themselves, and he may withhold distribution until the court has acted.

(3) No inference of negligence on the part of the personal representative shall be drawn from his failure to exercise the authority conferred by subsections (1) and (2).

Section 91A-3-914. Disposition of unclaimed assets. (1) If an heir, devisee or claimant cannot be found, the personal representative shall distribute the share of the missing person to his conservator, if any, otherwise to the department of revenue to be deposited in the state escheat fund as provided in chapter 5, Title 91, R.C.M. 1947, as amended.

(2) Any person having any claim to a share deposited in the state escheat fund under the provisions of this code shall follow the procedures set out in sections 91-501 through 91-526, concerning escheated estates to claim such share.

Section 91A-3-915. Distribution to person under disability. A personal representative may discharge his obligation to distribute to any person under legal disability by distributing to his conservator, or any other person authorized by this code or otherwise to give a valid receipt and discharge for the distribution.

Section 91A-3-916. Apportionment of estate taxes. (1) For purposes of this section:

(a) "estate" means the gross estate of a decedent as determined for the purpose of federal estate tax and the estate tax payable to this state;

(b) "person" means any individual, partnership, association, joint stock company, corporation, government, political subdivision, governmental agency, or local governmental agency;

(c) "person interested in the estate" means any person entitled to receive, or who has received, from a decedent or by reason of the death of a decedent any property or interest therein included in the decedent's estate. It includes a personal representative, conservator, and trustee;

(d) "state" means any state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico;

(e) "tax" means the federal estate tax and any additional inheritance, estate or death taxes imposed by the laws of any state and interest and penalties imposed in addition to the tax;

(f) "fiduciary" means personal representative or trustee.

(2) Unless the will otherwise provides, the tax shall be apportioned among all persons interested in the estate. The apportionment is to be made in the proportion that the value of the interest of each person interested in the estate bears to the total value of the interests of all persons interested in the estate. The values used in determining the tax are to be used for that purpose. If the decedent's will directs a method of apportionment of tax different from the method described in this code, the method described in the will controls.

(3)(a) The court in which venue lies for the administration of the estate of a decedent, on petition for the purpose may determine the apportionment of the tax.

(b) If the court finds that it is inequitable to apportion interest and penalties in the manner provided in subsection (2), because of special circumstances, it may direct apportionment thereof in the manner it finds equitable.

(c) If the court finds that the assessment of penalties and interest assessed in relation to the tax is due to delay caused by the negligence of the fiduciary, the court may charge him with the amount of the assessed penalties and interest.

(d) In any action to recover from any person interested in the estate the amount of the tax apportioned to the person in accordance with this code the determination of the court in respect thereto shall be prima facie correct.

(4)(a) The personal representative or other person in possession of the property of the decedent required to pay the tax may withhold from any property distributable to any person interested in the estate, upon its distribution to him, the amount of tax attributable to his interest. If the property in possession of the personal representative or other person required to pay the tax and distributable to any person interested in the estate is insufficient to satisfy the proportionate amount of the tax determined to be due from the person, the personal representative or other person required to pay the tax may recover the deficiency from the person interested in the estate. If the property is not in the possession of the personal representative or the other person required to pay the tax, the personal representative or the other person required to pay the tax may recover from any person interested in the estate the amount of the tax apportioned to the person in accordance with this act.

(b) If property held by the personal representative is distributed prior to final apportionment of the tax, the distributee shall provide a bond or other security for the apportionment liability in the form and amount prescribed by the personal representative.

(5)(a) In making an apportionment, allowances shall be made for any exemptions granted, any classification made of persons interested in the estate and for any deductions and credits allowed by the law imposing the tax.

(b) Any exemption or deduction allowed by reason of the relationship of any person to the decedent or by reason of the purposes of the gift inures to the benefit of the person bearing such relationship or receiving the gift; but if an interest is subject to a prior present interest which is not allowable as a deduction, the tax apportionable against the present interest shall be paid from principal.

(c) Any deduction for property previously taxed and any credit for gift taxes or death taxes of a foreign country paid by the decedent or his estate inures to the proportionate benefit of all persons liable to apportionment.

(d) Any credit for inheritance, succession or estate taxes or taxes in the nature thereof applicable to property or interests includable in the estate, inures to the benefit of the persons or interests chargeable with the payment thereof to the extent proportionately that the credit reduces the tax.

(e) To the extent that property passing to or in trust for a surviving spouse or any charitable, public or similar gift or devise is not an allowable deduction for purposes of the tax solely by reason of an inheritance tax or other death tax imposed upon and deductible from the property, the property is not included in the computation provided for in subsection (2) hereof, and to that extent no apportionment is made against the property. The sentence immediately preceding does not apply to any case if the result would be to deprive the estate of a deduction otherwise allowable under section 2053(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, of the United States, relating to deduction for state death taxes on transfers for public, charitable, or religious uses.

(6) No interest in income and no estate for years or for life or other temporary interest in any property or fund is subject to apportionment as between the temporary interest and the remainder. The tax on the temporary interest and the tax, if any, on the remainder is chargeable against the corpus of the property or funds subject to the temporary interest and remainder.

(7) Neither the personal representative nor other person required to pay the tax is under any duty to institute any action to recover from any person interested in the estate the amount of the tax apportioned to the person until the expiration of the three (3) months next following final determination of the tax. A personal representative or other person required to pay the tax who institutes the action within a reasonable time after the three (3) months' period is not subject to any liability or surcharge because any portion of the tax apportioned to any person interested in the estate was collectable at a time following the death of the decedent but thereafter became uncollectable. If the personal representative or other person required to pay the tax cannot collect from any person interested in the estate the amount of the tax apportioned to the person, the amount not recoverable shall be equitably apportioned among the other persons interested in the estate who are subject to apportionment.

(8) A personal representative acting in another state or a person required to pay the tax domiciled in another state may institute an action in the courts of this state and may recover a proportionate amount of the federal estate tax, of an estate tax payable to another state or of a death duty due by a decedent's estate to another state, from a person interested in the estate who is either domiciled in this state or who owns property in this state subject to attachment or execution. For the purposes of the action the determination of apportionment by the court having jurisdiction of the administration of the decedent's estate in the other state is prima facie correct.

CLOSING ESTATES

Section 91A-3-1001. Formal proceedings terminating administration; testate or intestate; order of general protection. (1) A personal representative or any interested person may petition for an order of complete settlement of the estate. The personal representative may petition at any time, and any other interested person may petition after one (1) year from the appointment of the original personal representative except that no petition under this section may be entertained until the time for presenting claims which arose prior to the death of the decedent has expired. The petition may request the court to determine testacy, if not previously determined, to consider the final account or compel or approve an accounting and distribution, to construe any will or determine heirs and adjudicate the final settlement and distribution of the estate. After notice to all interested persons and hearing the court may enter an order or orders, on appropriate conditions, determining the persons entitled to distribution of the estate, and, as circumstances require, approving settlement and directing or approving distribution of the estate and discharging the personal representative from further claim or demand of any interested person.

(2) If one (1) or more heirs or devisees were omitted as parties in, or were not given notice of, a previous formal testacy proceeding, the court, on proper petition for an order of complete settlement of the estate under this section, and after notice to the omitted or unnotified persons and other interested parties determined to be interested on the assumption that the previous order concerning testacy is conclusive as to those given notice of the earlier proceeding, may determine testacy as it affects the omitted persons and confirm or alter the previous order of testacy as it affects all interested persons as appropriate in the light of the new proofs. In the absence of objection by an omitted or unnotified person, evidence received in the original testacy proceeding shall constitute prima facie proof of due execution of any will previously admitted to probate, or of the fact that the decedent left no valid will if the prior proceedings determined this fact.

Section 91A-3-1002. Formal proceedings terminating testate administration; order construing will without adjudicating testacy. A personal representative administering an estate under an informally probated will or any devisee under an informally probated will may petition for an order of settlement of the estate which will not adjudicate the testacy status of the decedent. The personal representative may petition at any time, and a devisee may petition after one (1) year, from the appointment of the original personal representative, except that no petition under this section may be entertained until the time for presenting claims which arose prior to the death of the decedent has expired. The petition may request the court to consider the final account or compel or approve an accounting and distribution, to construe the will and adjudicate final settlement and distribution of the estate. After notice to all devisees and the personal representative and hearing, the court may enter an order or orders, on appropriate conditions, determining the persons entitled to distribution of the estate under the will, and, as circumstances require, approving settlement and directing or approving distribution of the estate and discharging the personal representative from further claim or demand of any devisee who is a party to the proceeding and those he represents. If it appears that a part of the estate is intestate, the proceedings shall be dismissed or amendments made to meet the provisions of section 91A-3-1001.

Section 91A-3-1003. Closing estates by sworn statement of personal representative. (1) Unless prohibited by order of the court and except for estates being administered in supervised administration proceedings, a personal representative may close an estate by filing with the court no earlier than six (6) months after the date of original appointment of a general personal representative for the estate, a verified statement stating that he, or a prior personal representative whom he has succeeded, has or have:

(a) published notice to creditors as provided by section 91A-3-801 and that the first publication occurred more than six (6) months prior to date of the statement;

(b) fully administered the estate of the decedent by making payment, settlement or other disposition of all claims which were presented, expenses of administration and estate, inheritance and other death taxes, except as specified in the statement, and that the assets of the estate have been distributed to the persons entitled. If any claims remain undischarged, the statement shall state whether the personal representative has distributed the estate subject to possible liability with the agreement of the distributees or it shall state in detail other arrangements which have been made to accommodate outstanding liabilities; and

(c) sent a copy thereof to all distributees of the estate and to all creditors or other claimants of whom he is aware whose claims are neither paid nor barred and has furnished a full account in writing of his administration to the distributees whose interests are affected thereby.

(d) Complied with the provisions of section 91A-3-1004.

(2) If no proceedings involving the personal representative are pending in the court one (1) year after the closing statement is filed, the appointment of the personal representative terminates.

Section 91A-3-1004. Department of revenue certificate showing taxes paid; prerequisite of closing estate. In all probate proceedings under this code before final distribution to successors is made and before any petition is granted under sections 91A-3-1001, 91A-3-1002, or 91A-3-1003, there shall have been filed with the clerk a certificate from the department of revenue stating that any inheritance tax due on the assets of the estate has been paid. This section shall not prohibit such partial distribution as may become necessary in the course of administration.

Section 91A-3-1005. Liability of distributees to claimants. After assets of an estate have been distributed and subject to section 91A-3-1007, an undischarged claim not barred may be prosecuted in a proceeding against one (1) or more distributees. No distributee shall be liable to claimants for amounts in excess of the value of his distribution as of the time of distribution. As between distributees, each shall bear the cost of satisfaction of unbarred claims as if the claim had been satisfied in the course of administration. Any distributee who shall have failed to notify other distributees of the demand made upon him by the claimant in sufficient time to permit them to join in any proceeding in which the claim was asserted against him loses his right of contribution against other distributees.

Section 91A-3-1006. Limitations on proceedings against personal representative. Unless previously barred by adjudication and except as provided in the closing statement, the rights of successors and of creditors whose claims have not otherwise been barred against the personal representative for breach of fiduciary duty are barred unless a proceeding to assert the same is commenced within six (6) months after the filing of the closing statement. The rights thus barred do not include rights to recover from a personal representative for fraud, misrepresentation, or inadequate disclosure related to the settlement of the decedent's estate.

Section 91A-3-1007. Limitations on actions and proceedings against distributees. Unless previously adjudicated in a formal testacy proceeding or in a proceeding settling the accounts of a personal representative or otherwise barred, the claim of any claimant to recover from a distributee who is liable to pay the claim, and the right of any heir or devisee, or of a successor personal representative acting in their behalf, to recover property improperly distributed or the value thereof from any distributee is forever barred at the later of three (3) years after the decedent's death; or one (1) year after the time of distribution thereof. This section does not bar an action to recover property or value received as the result of fraud.

Section 91A-3-1008. Certificate discharging liens securing fiduciary performance. After his appointment has terminated, the personal representative, his sureties, or any successor of either, upon the filing of a verified application showing, so far as is known by the applicant, that no action concerning the estate is pending in any court, is entitled to receive a certificate from the clerk that the personal representative appears to have fully administered the estate in question. The certificate evidences discharge of any lien on any property given to secure the obligation of the personal representative in lieu of bond or any surety, but does not preclude action against the personal representative or the surety.

Section 91A-3-1009. Subsequent administration. If other property of the estate is discovered after an estate has been settled and the personal representative discharged or after one (1) year after a closing statement has been filed, the court upon petition of any interested person and upon notice as it directs may appoint the same or a successor personal representative to administer the subsequently discovered estate. If a new appointment is made, unless the court orders otherwise, the provisions of this code apply as appropriate; but no claim previously barred may be asserted in the subsequent administration.

Section 91A-3-1010. Lien of state on estate property for unpaid inheritance taxes. All property which is affected by the death of the decedent and on which inheritance, estate or death taxes are due under the laws of this state is subject to the lien of the state of Montana until such taxes have been paid. This lien follows all property sold in the course of administration or distributed under this code until such time as all inheritance taxes have been paid and a receipt showing payment thereof has been filed with the clerk of court, subject to applicable statutes of limitations on state inheritance tax liens. The department of revenue may issue a consent to transfer any real or personal property in the estate of a decedent free of the lien for unpaid inheritance taxes upon proper application and under such rules and regulations as the department shall prescribe provided that such transfer shall not jeopardize payment of the inheritance taxes due.

COMPROMISE OF CONTROVERSIES

Section 91A-3-1101. Effect of approval of agreements involving trusts, inalienable interests, or interests of third persons. A compromise of any controversy as to admission to probate of any instrument offered for formal probate as the will of a decedent, the construction, validity, or effect of any probated will, the rights or interests in the estate of the decedent, of any successor, or the administration of the estate, if approved in a formal proceeding in the court for that purpose, is binding on all the parties thereto including those unborn, unascertained or who could not be located. An approved compromise is binding even though it may affect a trust or an inalienable interest. A compromise does not impair the rights of creditors or of taxing authorities who are not parties to it.

Section 91A-3-1102. Procedure for securing court approval of compromises. The procedure for securing court approval of a compromise is as follows: (1) The terms of the compromise shall be set forth in an agreement in writing which shall be executed by all competent persons and parents acting for any minor child having beneficial interests or having claims which will or may be affected by the compromise. Execution is not required by any person whose identity cannot be ascertained or whose whereabouts is unknown and cannot reasonably be ascertained.

(2) Any interested person, including the personal representative or a trustee, then may submit the agreement to the court for its approval and for execution by the personal representative, the trustee of every affected testamentary, trust, and other fiduciaries and representatives.

(3) After notice to all interested persons or their representatives, including the personal representative of the estate and all affected trustees of trusts, the court, if it finds that the contest or controversy is in good faith and that the effect of the agreement upon the interests of persons represented by fiduciaries or other representatives is just and reasonable, shall make an order approving the agreement and directing all fiduciaries under its supervision to execute the agreement. Minor children represented only by their parents may be bound only if their parents join with other competent persons in execution of the compromise. Upon the making of the order and the execution of the agreement, all further disposition of the estate is in accordance with the terms of the agreement.

PROCEDURE FOR COLLECTION OF PERSONAL PROPERTY BY
TERMINATION OF JOINT TENANCIES AND LIFE ESTATES, AND SUMMARY ADMINISTRATION PROCEDURE FOR SMALL ESTATES

Section 91A-1-1201. Collection of personal property by affidavit. (1) Thirty (30) days after the death of a decedent, any person indebted to the decedent or having possession of tangible personal property or an instrument evidencing a debt, obligation, stock or chose in action belonging to the decedent shall make payment of the indebtedness or deliver the tangible personal property or an instrument evidencing a debt, obligation, stock or chose in action to a person claiming to be the successor of the decedent upon being presented an affidavit made by or on behalf of the successor stating that:

(a) the value of the entire estate, wherever located, less liens and encumbrances, does not exceed fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500);

(b) thirty (30) days have elapsed since the death of the decedent;

(c) no application or petition for the appointment on a personal representative is pending or has been granted in any jurisdiction; and

(d) the claiming successor is entitled to payment or delivery of the property.

(2) A transfer agent of any security shall change the registered ownership on the books of a corporation from the decedent to the successor or successors upon the presentation of an affidavit as provided in subsection (1).

Section 91A-3-1202. Effect of affidavit. The person paying, delivering, transferring, or issuing personal property or the evidence thereof pursuant to affidavit is discharged and released to the same extent as if he dealt with a personal representative of the decedent. He is not required to see to the application of the personal property or evidence thereof or to inquire into the truth of any statement in the affidavit. If any person to whom an affidavit is delivered refuses to pay, deliver, transfer, or issue any personal property or evidence thereof, it may be recovered or its payment, delivery, transfer, or issuance compelled upon proof of their right in a proceeding brought for the purpose by or on behalf of the persons entitled thereto. Any person to whom payment, delivery, transfer or issuance is made is answerable and accountable therefor to any person representative of the estate or to any other person having a superior right.

Section 91A-3-1203. Small estates; summary administrative procedure. If it appears from the inventory and appraisal that the value of the net distributable estate does not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500), or the value of the entire estate, less liens and encumbrances, does not exceed homestead allowance, exempt property, family allowance, costs and expenses of administration, reasonable funeral expenses, and reasonable and necessary medical and hospital expenses of the last illness of the decedent, the personal representative, without giving notice to creditors, may immediately disburse and distribute the estate to the persons entitled thereto and file a closing statement as provided in section 91A-3-1202.

Section 91A-3-1204. Small estates; closing by sworn statement of personal representative. (1) Unless prohibited by order of the court and except for estates being administered by supervised personal representatives, a personal representative may close an estate administered under the summary procedures of section 91A-3-1201 by filing with the court, at any time after disbursement and distribution of the estate, a verified statement stating that:

(a) to the best knowledge of the personal representative, the value of the net distributable estate did not exceed one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500), or the value of the entire estate, less liens and encumbrances, did not exceed homestead allowance, exempt property, family allowance, costs and expenses of administration, reasonable funeral expenses, and reasonable, necessary medical and hospital expenses of the last illness of the decedent;

(b) the personal representative has fully administered the estate by payment of inheritance taxes and by disbursing and distributing it to the persons entitled thereto; and

(c) the personal representative has sent a copy of the closing statement to all distributees of the estate and to all creditors or other claimants of whom he is aware whose claims are neither paid nor barred and has furnished a full account in writing of his administration to the distributees whose interests are affected.

(2) If no actions or proceedings involving the personal representative are pending in the court one (1) year after the closing statement is filed, the appointment of the personal representative terminates.

(3) A closing statement filed under this section has the same effect as one filed under section 91A-3-1005.

Section 91A-3-1205. Procedures for termination of joint tenancies and life estates. (1) If the inventory in an estate asserts that all or any part of the property listed therein was held by the decedent in joint tenancy or that the decedent held a life estate in any of the property listed, or for any other reason a determination of inheritance tax is required, the personal representative shall file with the department of revenue copies of the instruments by which each such joint tenancy or life estate was created or other interest requiring determination of inheritance tax came into being or other evidence of the existence of such joint tenancy or life estate or other property interest requiring the determination of inheritance tax. The department of revenue shall examine the documents and shall determine the existence of each asserted joint tenancy, life estate or other property interest requiring a determination of inheritance tax.

(2) If it shall be determined that all of the property listed in the inventory was held in joint tenancy or was held by the decedent as a life estate or requires the determination of inheritance tax, or any combination thereof, the department of revenue shall issue its certificate showing that all such property was in joint tenancy or was held as a life estate or requires only the determination of inheritance tax, and stating the names of the surviving owners, remaindermen or possessors thereof or persons entitled to an interest therein. The certificate shall also contain an interlocutory certificate by the department of revenue as to the inheritance tax, if any, due the state of Montana by reason of the death of the decedent. The certificate shall be mailed to the clerk of the appropriate court and to the personal representative. If no dispute exists as to the amount of tax due, if any, the tax shall be paid as provided in the inheritance tax laws of this state. Upon the filing of the receipt showing payment of the tax, the clerk of court shall issue a certificate stating that the joint tenancies or life estates are terminated or other interest in property requiring determination of inheritance tax is properly vested, specifically describing the property and designating the surviving owners or possessors, or persons entitled to an interest therein. This certificate may be filed in the office of the clerk and recorder of any county in which any such property is located.

(3) (a) If not all the property in the inventory was joint tenancy or life estate property or property requiring only the determination of inheritance tax, the department of revenue shall:

(i) determine the inheritance tax, if any, due to the state of Montana by reason of the death of the decedent and mail its interlocutory certificate to the clerk of the appropriate court and to the personal representative, showing the amount of tax so determined;

(ii) determine what property listed in the inventory was joint tenancy or life estate property or property requiring only the determination of inheritance tax and mail to the clerk of the appropriate court and to the personal representative its certificate describing such joint tenancy and life estate property or property requiring only the determination of inheritance tax and naming the surviving owners or possessors thereof or persons entitled to an interest therein.

(b) If the value of the property not in joint tenancy or held by the decedent as a life estate or requiring only the determination of inheritance tax does not exceed the maximum for summary administration, the personal representative shall proceed under the summary procedure as to the non-joint tenancy or life estate property which requires more than just the determination of inheritance tax shall pay any inheritance tax and shall file with the appropriate clerk and recorder a certified copy of the department of revenue's list of joint tenancy property.

(c) If the value of the property not held in joint tenancy or as a life estate and not held as property requiring only a determination of inheritance tax does not permit a summary procedure, the personal representative shall proceed under the applicable statutes for administration and distribution and shall include in his decree or instrument of final distribution the list of such joint tenancy or life estate property or property requiring determination of inheritance tax, listing the surviving owners or possessors thereof or persons entitled to an interest therein. Such decree or instrument of final distribution shall be deemed a termination of the joint tenancy or life estate or vesting of the property interest.

(4) If disputes exist as to tax computation, they shall be resolved as provided under the laws applicable to the determination of inheritance taxes.

FOREIGN PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES; ANCILLARY ADMINISTRATION DEFINITIONS

Section 91A-4-101. Definitions. In this article:

(1) "Local administration" means administration by a personal representative appointed in this state pursuant to appointment proceedings described in article III.

(2) "Local personal representative" includes any personal representative appointed in this state pursuant to appointment proceedings described in article III and excludes foreign personal representatives who acquire the power of a local personal representative pursuant to section 91A-4-205.

(3) "Resident creditor" means a person domiciled in, or doing business in this state, who is, or could be, a claimant against an estate of a nonresident decedent.

POWERS OF FOREIGN PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES

Section 91A-4-201. Filing letters and inventory with local district court; copy to department of revenue. (1) The domiciliary foreign personal representative of the estate of a nonresident decedent who wishes to receive payment and delivery as described in section 91A-4-204 or to exercise the powers over assets described in section 91A-4-207 shall file in duplicate with a district court in this state in a county in which property belonging to the decedent is located authenticated copies of his appointment and of any official bond he has given, an inventory and appraisal of the property of the nonresident decedent located in this state, which inventory shall contain the information prescribed in section 91A-3-706, and an affidavit stating

(a) the date of death of the nonresident decedent, and

(b) that no local administration or application or petition therefor is pending in this state.

(2) Upon receiving the information required by subsection one (1), the clerk of court shall issue a certificate to the domiciliary foreign personal representative identifying him as having registered with the district court and stating the name and date of death of the decedent.

(3) The clerk shall also immediately forward a copy of the appointment, affidavit and inventory and appraisal required by subsection (1) to the department of revenue.

Section 91A-4-202. Determination of inheritance taxes; certificate of department of revenue showing taxes paid, waived or bond posted. (1) The department of revenue shall determine what inheritance tax, if any, is owing on the property of the nonresident decedent located in this state and shall send notice of the tax owing to the domiciliary foreign personal representative and to the clerk of court.

(2) Upon payment of the inheritance tax due, or if no tax is owing, the department of revenue shall issue a certificate to the domiciliary foreign personal representative indicating that inheritance taxes either are not owing or have been paid and shall send a copy of the certificate to the clerk of court.

(3) The department may issue an order waiving inheritance taxes on a particular item of property under such terms and circumstances as the department shall determine.

(4) Upon the posting by the domiciliary foreign personal representative of satisfactory bond, the department may issue a certificate indicating that bond has been posted sufficient to secure any inheritance tax due on the in-state property of the nonresident decedent. This certificate may be issued at any time after the filing of the inventory with the clerk of court.

Section 91A-4-203. Right to inspect estate assets for inventory. Any person holding any property of a nonresident decedent, including any instrument evidencing a debt, obligation, stock or chose in action, shall permit the domiciliary foreign personal representative of the nonresident decedent to inspect and appraise the property for purposes of completing the inventory and appraisal called for in section 91A-4-201(1) upon being presented with proof of his appointment and an affidavit made by or on behalf of the representative stating

- (1) the date of death of the nonresident decedent,
- (2) that no local administration or application or petition therefor is pending in this state, and
- (3) that the domiciliary foreign personal representative is entitled to make such inspection and appraisal.

Section 91A-4-204. Payment of debt and delivery of property to domiciliary foreign personal representative without local administration. At any time after the expiration of sixty (60) days from the death of a nonresident decedent, any person indebted to the estate of the nonresident decedent or having possession or control of personal property, or of an instrument evidencing a debt, obligation, stock or chose in action belonging to the estate of the nonresident decedent may pay the debt, deliver the personal property, or the instrument evidencing the debt, obligation, stock or chose in action, to the domiciliary foreign personal representative of the nonresident decedent upon being presented with a certificate from the clerk of the court for the county where the domiciliary foreign personal representative has filed his affidavit as described in section 91A-4-201 and a certificate from the department of revenue, as described in section 91A-4-202.

Section 91A-4-205. Payment on delivery discharges. Payment or delivery made in good faith on the basis of the certificate of the clerk of court and the certificate of the department of revenue releases the debtor or person having possession of the personal property to the same extent as if payment or delivery had been made to a local personal representative.

Section 91A-4-206. Resident creditor notice; court order. (1) Payment or delivery under section 91A-4-204 may not be made if a resident creditor of the nonresident decedent has notified the debtor of the nonresident decedent or the person having possession of the personal property belonging to the nonresident decedent that the debt should not be paid nor the property delivered to the domiciliary foreign personal representative.

(2) In cases under subsection (1) the foreign personal representative must seek an order of the court in which he has filed his affidavit to obtain payment or delivery unless the notification by the resident creditor is withdrawn.

Section 91A-4-207. Powers of domiciliary foreign personal representative generally; powers as special administrator. (1) Except as limited by section 91A-4-206, a domiciliary foreign personal representative who has complied with sections 91A-4-201 and 91A-4-202, may exercise as to assets in this state all powers of a local personal representative and may maintain actions and proceedings in this state subject to any conditions imposed upon nonresident parties generally.

(2) A domiciliary foreign personal representative who has complied with all the requirements of section 91A-4-201(1) except for the filing of an inventory and appraisal, may, when necessary to protect the estate of the decedent and upon appointment by the clerk of court, exercise the powers of a special administrator described in sections 91A-3-614 through 91A-3-618.

Section 91A-4-208. Powers of representatives in transition. The power of a domiciliary foreign personal representative under section 91A-4-204 or 91A-4-207 shall be exercised only if there is no administration or application therefor pending in this state. An application or petition for local administration of the estate terminates the power of the foreign personal representative to act under section 91A-4-207, but the local court may allow the foreign personal representative to exercise limited powers to preserve the estate. No person who, before receiving actual notice of a pending local administration, has changed his position in reliance upon the powers of a foreign personal representative shall be prejudiced by reason of the application or petition for, or grant of, local administration. The local personal representative is subject to all duties and obligations which have accrued by virtue of the exercise of the powers by the foreign personal representative and may be substituted for him in any action or proceedings in this state.

Section 91A-4-209. Ancillary and other local administrations; provisions governing. In respect to a nonresident decedent, the provisions of this code govern (1) proceedings, if any, in a court of this state for probate of the will, appointment, removal, supervision, and discharge of the local personal representative, and any other order concerning the estate; and

(2) the status, powers, duties and liabilities of any local personal representative and the rights of claimants, purchasers, distributees and others in regard to a local administration.

JURISDICTION OVER FOREIGN REPRESENTATIVES

Section 91A-4-301. Jurisdiction by act of foreign personal representative. A foreign personal representative by doing any of the acts described in sections 91A-4-201 through 91A-4-207, or by doing any act as a personal representative in this state that would have given the state jurisdiction over him as an individual, submits himself personally to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state in any proceeding relating to the estate.

Jurisdiction which arises solely from receiving payment of money or taking delivery of personal property is limited to the money or value of personal property collected.

Section 91A-4-302. Jurisdiction by act of decedent. In addition to jurisdiction conferred by section 91A-4-301, a foreign personal representative is subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state to the same extent that his decedent was subject to jurisdiction immediately prior to death.

Section 91A-4-303. Service on foreign personal representative. (1) Service of process may be made upon the foreign personal representative by registered or certified mail, addressed to his last reasonably ascertainable address, requesting a return receipt signed by addressee only. Notice by ordinary first class mail is sufficient if registered or certified mail service to the addressee is unavailable. Service may be made upon a foreign personal representative in the manner in which service could have been made under other laws of this state on either the foreign personal representative or his decedent immediately prior to death.

(2) If service is made upon a foreign personal representative as provided in subsection (1), he shall be allowed at least thirty (30) days within which to appear or respond.

JUDGMENTS AND PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVE

Section 91A-4-401. Effect of adjudication for or against personal representative. An adjudication rendered in any jurisdiction in favor of or against any personal representative of the estate is as binding on the local personal representative as if he were a party to the adjudication.

PROTECTION OF PERSONS UNDER DISABILITY AND THEIR PROPERTY GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 91A-5-101. Definitions and use of terms. Unless otherwise apparent from the context, in this code:

(1) "incapacitated person" means any person who is impaired by reason of mental illness, mental deficiency, physical illness or disability, advanced age, chronic use of drugs, chronic intoxication, or other cause (except minority) to the extent that he lacks sufficient understanding or capacity to make or communicate responsible decisions concerning his person;

(2) "protective proceeding" means a proceeding under the provisions of section 91A-5-401 to determine that a person cannot effectively manage or apply his estate to necessary ends, either because he lacks the ability or is otherwise inconvenienced, or because he is a minor, and to secure administration of his estate by a conservator or other appropriate relief;

(3) "protected person" means a minor or other person for whom a conservator has been appointed or other protective order has been made;

(4) "ward" means a person for whom a guardian has been appointed. A "minor ward" is a minor for whom a guardian has been appointed solely because of minority.

Section 91A-5-102. Jurisdiction of subject matter; consolidation of proceedings. (1) The court has jurisdiction over protective proceedings and guardianship proceedings.

(2) When both guardianship and protective proceedings as to the same person are commenced or pending in the same court, the proceedings may be consolidated.

Section 91A-5-103. Facility of payment or agreement. Any person under a duty to pay or deliver money or personal property to a minor may perform this duty, in amounts not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000) per annum, by paying or delivering the money or property to:

(1) the minor, if he has attained the age of eighteen (18) years or is married;

(2) any person having the care and custody of the minor with whom the minor resides;

(3) a guardian of the minor; or

(4) a financial institution incident to a deposit in a federally insured savings account in the sole name of the minor and giving notice of the deposit to the minor.

This section does not apply if the person making payment or delivery has actual knowledge that a conservator has been appointed or proceedings for appointment of a conservator of the estate of the minor are pending. The persons, other than the minor or any financial institution under (4) above, receiving money or property for a minor, are obligated to apply the money to the support and education of the minor, but may not pay themselves except by way of reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses for goods and services necessary for the minor's support. Any excess sums shall be preserved for future support of the minor and any balance not so used and any property received for the minor must be turned over to the minor when he attains majority. Persons who pay or deliver in accordance with provisions of this section are not responsible for the proper application thereof.

Section 91A-5-104. Delegation of powers by parent or guardian. A parent or a guardian of a minor or incapacitated person, by a properly executed power of attorney, may delegate to another person, for a period not exceeding six (6) months, any of his powers regarding care, custody, or property of the minor child or ward, except his power to consent to marriage or adoption of a minor ward.

GUARDIANS OF MINORS

Section 91A-5-201. Status of guardian of minor; general. A person becomes a guardian of a minor by acceptance of a testamentary appointment or upon appointment by the court. The guardianship status continues until terminated, without regard to the location from time to time of the guardian and minor ward.

Section 91A-5-202. Testamentary appointment of guardian of minor. The parent of a minor may appoint by will a guardian of an unmarried minor. Subject to the right of the minor under section 91A-5-203, a testamentary appointment becomes effective upon filing the guardian's acceptance in the court in which the will is probated, if before acceptance, both parents are dead or the surviving parent is adjudged incapacitated. If both parents are dead, an effective appointment by the parent who died later has priority. This state recognizes a testamentary appointment effected by filing the guardian's acceptance under a will probated in another state which is the testator's domicile. Upon acceptance of appointment, written notice of acceptance must be given by the guardian to the minor and to the person having his care or to his nearest adult relations.

Section 91A-5-203. Objection by minor of fourteen (14) or older to testamentary appointment. A minor of fourteen (14) or more years may prevent an appointment of his testamentary guardian from becoming effective, or may cause a previously accepted appointment to terminate, by filing with the court in which the will is probated a written objection to the appointment before it is accepted or within thirty (30) days after notice of its acceptance. An objection may be withdrawn. An objection does not preclude appointment by the court in a proper proceeding of the testamentary nominee, or any other suitable person.

Section 91A-5-204. Court appointment of guardian of minor; conditions for appointment. The court may appoint a guardian for an unmarried minor if all parental rights of custody have been terminated or suspended by circumstances or prior court order. A guardian appointed by will as provided in section 91A-5-202 whose appointment has not been prevented or nullified under 91A-5-203 has priority over any guardian who may be appointed by the court but the court may proceed with an appointment upon a finding that the testamentary guardian has failed to accept the testamentary appointment within thirty (30) days after notice of the guardianship proceeding.

Section 91A-5-205. Court appointment of guardian of minor; venue. The venue for guardianship proceedings for a minor is in the place where the minor resides or is present.

Section 91A-5-206. Court appointment of guardian of minor; qualifications; priority of guardian's nominee. The court may appoint as guardian any person whose appointment would be in the best interests of the minor. The court shall appoint a person nominated by the minor, if the minor is fourteen (14) years of age or older, unless the court finds the appointment contrary to the best interests of the minor.

Section 91A-5-207. Court appointment of guardian of minor; procedure. (1) Notice of the time and place of hearing of a petition for the appointment of a guardian of a minor is to be given by the petitioner in the manner prescribed by section 91A-1-401 to:

- (a) the minor, if he is fourteen (14) or more years of age;
- (b) the person who has had the principal care and custody of the minor during the sixty (60) days preceding the date of the petition; and
- (c) any living parent of the minor.

(2) Upon hearing, if the court finds that a qualified person seeks appointment, venue is proper, the required notices have been given, the requirements of section 91A-5-204 have been met, and the welfare and best interests of the minor will be served by the requested appointment, it shall make the appointment. In other cases the court may dismiss the proceedings, or make any other disposition of the matter that will best serve the interest of the minor.

(3) If necessary, the court may appoint a temporary guardian, with the status of an ordinary guardian of a minor, but the authority of a temporary guardian shall not last longer than six (6) months.

(4) If, at any time in the proceeding, the court determines that the interests of the minor are or may be inadequately represented, it may appoint an attorney to represent the minor, giving consideration to the preference of the minor if the minor is fourteen (14) years of age or older.

Section 91A-5-208. Consent to service by acceptance of appointment; notice. By accepting a testamentary or court appointment as guardian, a guardian submits personally to the jurisdiction of the court in any proceeding relating to the guardianship that may be instituted by any interested person. Notice of any proceeding shall be delivered to the guardian, or mailed to him by ordinary mail at his address as listed in the court records and to his address as then known to the petitioner. Letters of guardianship must indicate whether the guardian was appointed by will or by court order.

Section 91A-5-209. Powers and duties of guardian of minor. A guardian of a minor has the powers and responsibilities of a parent who has not been deprived of custody of his minor and unemancipated child, except that a guardian is not legally obligated to provide from his own funds for the ward and is not liable to third persons by reason of the parental relationship for acts of the ward. In particular, and without qualifying the foregoing, a guardian has the following powers and duties:

(1) He must take reasonable care of his ward's personal effects and commence protective proceedings if necessary to protect other property of the ward.

(2) He may receive money payable for the support of the ward to the ward's parent, guardian or custodian under the terms of any statutory benefit or insurance system, or any private contract, devise, trust, conservatorship or custodianship. He also may receive money or property of the ward paid or delivered by virtue of section 91A-5-103. Any sums so received shall be applied to the ward's current needs for support, care and education. He must exercise due care to conserve any excess for the ward's future needs unless a conservator has been appointed for the estate of the ward, in which case excess shall be paid over at least annually to the conservator. Sums so received by the guardian are not to be used for compensation for his services except as approved by order of court or as determined by a duly appointed conservator other than the guardian. A guardian may institute proceedings to compel the performance by any person of a duty to support the ward or to pay sums for the welfare of the ward.

(3) The guardian is empowered to facilitate the ward's education, social, or other activities and to authorize medical or other professional care, treatment, or advice. A guardian is not liable by reason of this consent for injury to the ward resulting from the negligence or acts of third persons unless it would have been illegal for a parent to have consented. A guardian may consent to the marriage or adoption of his ward.

(4) A guardian must report the condition of his ward and of the ward's estate which has been subject to his possession or control, as ordered by court on petition of any person interested in the minor's welfare or as required by court rule.

Section 91A-5-210. Termination of appointment of guardian; general. A guardian's authority and responsibility terminates upon the death, resignation or removal of the guardian or upon the minor's death, adoption, marriage or attainment of majority, but termination does not affect his liability for prior acts, nor his obligation to account for funds and assets of his ward. Resignation of a guardian does not terminate the guardianship until it has been approved by the court. A testamentary appointment under an informally probated will terminates if the will is later denied probate in a formal proceeding.

Section 91A-5-211. Proceedings subsequent to appointment; venue. (1) The court where the ward resides has concurrent jurisdiction with the court which appointed the guardian, or in which acceptance of a testamentary appointment was filed, over resignation, removal, accounting and other proceedings relating to the guardianship.

(2) If the court located where the ward resides is not the court in which acceptance of appointment is filed, the court in which proceedings subsequent to appointment are commenced shall in all appropriate cases notify the other court, in this or another state, and after consultation with that court determine whether to retain jurisdiction or transfer the proceedings to the other court, whichever is in the best interest of the ward. A copy of any order accepting a resignation or removing a guardian shall be sent to the court in which acceptance of appointment is filed.

Section 91A-5-212. Resignation or removal proceedings. (1) Any person interested in the welfare of a ward, or the ward, if fourteen (14) or more years of age, may petition for removal of a guardian on the ground that removal would be in the best interest of the ward. A guardian may petition for permission to resign. A petition for removal or for permission to resign may, but need not, include a request for appointment of a successor guardian.

(2) After notice and hearing on a petition for removal or for permission to resign, the court may terminate the guardianship and make any further order that may be appropriate.

(3) If, at any time in the proceeding, the court determines that the interests of the ward are, or may be, inadequately represented, it may appoint an attorney to represent the minor, giving consideration to the preference of the minor if the minor is fourteen (14) or more years of age.

GUARDIANS OF INCAPACITATED PERSONS

Section 91A-5-301. Testamentary appointment of guardian for incapacitated person. (1) The parent of an incapacitated person may by will appoint a guardian of the incapacitated person. A testamentary appointment by a parent becomes effective when, after having given seven (7) days prior written notice of his intention to do so to the incapacitated person and to the person having his care or to his nearest adult relative, the guardian files acceptance of appointment in the court in which the will is informally or formally probated, if prior thereto, both parents are dead or the surviving parent is adjudged incapacitated. If both parents are dead, an effective appointment by the parent who died later has priority unless it is terminated by the denial of probate in formal proceedings.

(2) The spouse of a married incapacitated person may by will appoint a guardian of the incapacitated person. The appointment becomes effective when, after having given seven (7) days prior written notice of his intention to do so to the incapacitated person and to the person having his care or to his nearest adult relative, the guardian files acceptance of appointment in the court in which the will is informally or formally probated. An effective appointment by a spouse has priority over an appointment by a parent unless it is terminated by the denial of probate in formal proceedings.

(3) This state shall recognize a testamentary appointment effected by filing acceptance under a will probated at the testator's domicile in another state.

(4) On the filing with the court in which the will was probated of written objection to the appointment by the person for whom a testamentary appointment of guardian has been made, the appointment is terminated. An objection does not prevent appointment by the court in a proper proceeding of the testamentary nominee or any other suitable person upon an adjudication of incapacity in proceedings under the sections 91A-5-302 through 91A-5-313, inclusive.

Section 91A-5-302. Venue. The venue for guardianship proceedings for an incapacitated person is in the place where the incapacitated person resides or is present. If the incapacitated person is admitted to an institution pursuant to order of a court of competent jurisdiction, venue is also in the county in which that court sits.

Section 91A-5-303. Procedure for court appointment of a guardian of an incapacitated person. (1) The incapacitated person or any person interested in his welfare may petition for a finding of incapacity and appointment of a guardian.

(2) Upon the filing of a petition, the court shall set a date for hearing on the issues of incapacity and unless the allegedly incapacitated person has counsel of his own choice, it shall appoint an appropriate official or attorney to represent him in the proceeding, who shall have the powers and duties of a guardian ad litem. The person alleged to be incapacitated shall be examined by a physician appointed by the court who shall submit his report in writing to the court and be interviewed by a visitor sent by the court. The visitor also shall interview the person seeking appointment as guardian, and visit the present place of abode of the person alleged to be incapacitated and the place it is proposed that he will be detained or reside if the requested appointment is made and submit his report in writing to the court. The person alleged to be incapacitated is entitled to be present at the hearing in person, and to see or hear all evidence bearing upon his condition. He is entitled to be present by counsel, to present evidence, to cross-examine witnesses, including the court-appointed physician and the visitor, and to trial by jury. The issue may be determined at a closed hearing without a jury if the person alleged to be incapacitated or his counsel so requests.

Section 91A-5-304. Findings; order of appointment. The court may appoint a guardian as requested if it is satisfied that the person for whom a guardian is sought is incapacitated and that the appointment is necessary or desirable as a means of providing continuing care and supervision of the person of the incapacitated person. Alternatively, the court may dismiss the proceeding or enter any other appropriate order.

Section 91A-5-305. Acceptance of appointment; consent to jurisdiction. By accepting appointment, a guardian submits personally to the jurisdiction of the court in any proceeding relating to the guardianship that may be instituted by any interested person. Notice of any proceeding shall be delivered to the guardian or mailed to him by ordinary mail at his address as listed in the court records and to his address as then known to the petitioner.

Section 91A-5-306. Termination of guardianship for incapacitated person. The authority and responsibility of a guardian for an incapacitated person terminates upon the death of the guardian or ward, the determination of incapacity of the guardian, or upon removal or resignation as provided in section 91A-5-307. Testamentary appointment under an informally probated will terminates if the will is later denied probate in a formal proceeding. Termination does not affect his liability for prior acts nor his obligation to account for funds and assets of his ward.

Section 91A-5-307. Removal or resignation of guardian; termination of incapacity. (1) On petition of the ward or any person interested in his welfare, the court may remove a guardian and appoint a successor if in the best interests of the ward. On petition of the guardian, the court may accept his resignation and make any other order which may be appropriate.

(2) An order adjudicating incapacity may specify a minimum period, not exceeding one year, during which no petition for an adjudication that the ward is no longer incapacitated may be filed without special leave. Subject to this restriction, the ward or any person interested in his welfare may petition for an order that he is no longer incapacitated, and for removal or resignation of the guardian. A request for this order may be made by informal letter to the court or judge and any person who knowingly interferes with transmission of this kind of request to the court or judge may be adjudged guilty of contempt of court.

(3) Before removing a guardian, accepting the resignation of a guardian, or ordering that a ward's incapacity has terminated, the court, following the same procedures to safeguard the rights of the ward as apply to a petition for appointment of a guardian, may send a visitor to the residence of the present guardian and to the place where the ward resides or is detained, to observe conditions and report in writing to the court.

Section 91A-5-308. Visitor in guardianship proceedings. A visitor is, with respect to guardianship proceedings, a person who is trained in law, nursing or social work and is an officer, employee or special appointee of the court with no personal interest in the proceedings.

Section 91A-5-309. Notices in guardianship proceedings. (1) In a proceeding for the appointment or removal of a guardian of an incapacitated person other than the appointment of a temporary guardian or temporary suspension of a guardian, notice of hearing shall be given to each of the following:

(a) the ward or the person alleged to be incapacitated and his spouse, parents and adult children;

(b) any person who is serving as his guardian, conservator or who has his care and custody; and

(c) in case no other person is notified under (a), at least one (1) of his closest adult relatives, if any can be found.

(2) Notice shall be served personally on the alleged incapacitated person, and his spouse and parents if they can be found within the state. Notice to the spouse and parents, if they cannot be found within the state, and to all other persons except the alleged incapacitated person shall be given as provided in section 91A-1-401. Waiver of notice by the person alleged to be incapacitated is not effective unless he attends the hearing or his waiver of notice is confirmed in an interview with the visitor. Representation of the alleged incapacitated person by a guardian ad litem is not necessary.

Section 91A-5-310. Temporary guardians. If an incapacitated person has no guardian and an emergency exists, the court may exercise the power of a guardian pending notice and hearing. If an appointed guardian is not effectively performing his duties and the court further finds that the welfare of the incapacitated person requires immediate action, it may, with or without notice, appoint a temporary guardian for the incapacitated person for a specified period not to exceed six (6) months. A temporary guardian is entitled to the care and custody of the ward and the authority of any permanent guardian previously appointed by the court is suspended so long as a temporary guardian has authority. A temporary guardian may be removed at any time. A temporary guardian shall make any report the court requires. In other respects the provisions of this code concerning guardians apply to temporary guardians.

Section 91A-5-311. Who may be guardian; priorities. (1) Any competent person or a suitable institution may be appointed guardian of an incapacitated person.

(2) Persons who are not disqualified have priority for appointment as guardian in the following order:

(a) the spouse of the incapacitated person;

(b) an adult child of the incapacitated person;

(c) a parent of the incapacitated person, including a person nominated by will or other writing signed by a deceased parent;

(d) any relative of the incapacitated person with whom he has resided for more than six (6) months prior to the filing of the petition;

(e) a person nominated by the person who is caring for him or paying benefits to him.

Section 91A-5-312. General powers and duties of guardian. (1) A guardian of an incapacitated person has the same powers, rights and duties respecting his ward that a parent has respecting his unemancipated minor child except that a guardian is not liable to third persons for acts of the ward solely by reason of the parental relationship. In particular, and without qualifying the foregoing, a guardian has the following powers and duties, except as modified by order of the court:

(a) to the extent that it is consistent with the terms of any order by a court of competent jurisdiction relating to detention or commitment of the ward, he is entitled to custody of the person of his ward and may establish the ward's place of abode within or without this state.

(b) If entitled to custody of his ward he shall make provision for the care, comfort and maintenance of his ward and, whenever appropriate, arrange for his training and education. Without regard to custodial rights of the ward's person, he shall take reasonable care of his ward's clothing, furniture, vehicles and other personal effects and commence protective proceedings if other property of his ward is in need of protection.

(c) A guardian may give any consents or approvals that may be necessary to enable the ward to receive medical or other professional care, counsel, treatment or service.

(d) If no conservator for the estate of the ward has been appointed, he may:

(i) institute proceedings to compel any person under a duty to support the ward or to pay sums for the welfare of the ward to perform his duty;

(ii) receive money and tangible property deliverable to the ward and apply the money and property for support, care and education of the ward; but, he may not use funds from his ward's estate for room and board which he, his spouse, parent, or child have furnished the ward unless a charge for the service is approved by order of the court made upon notice to at least one (1) of the next of kin of the incompetent ward, if notice is possible. He must exercise care to conserve any excess for the ward's needs.

(e) A guardian is required to report the condition of his ward and of the estate which has been subject to his possession or control, as required by the court or court rule.

(f) If a conservator has been appointed, all of the ward's estate received by the guardian in excess of those funds expended to meet current expenses for support, care, and education of the ward must be paid to the conservator for management as provided in this code, and the guardian must account to the conservator for funds expended.

(2) Any guardian of one for whom a conservator also has been appointed shall control the custody and care of the ward, and is entitled to receive reasonable sums for his services and for room and board furnished to the ward as agreed upon between him and the conservator, provided the amounts agreed upon are reasonable under the circumstances. The guardian may request the conservator to expend the ward's estate by payment to third persons or institutions for the ward's care and maintenance.

Section 91A-5-313. Proceedings subsequent to appointment; venue. (1) The court where the ward resides has concurrent jurisdiction with the court which appointed the guardian, or in which acceptance of a testamentary appointment was filed, over resignation, removal, accounting and other proceedings relating to the guardianship.

(2) If the court located where the ward resides is not the court in which acceptance of appointment is filed, the court in which proceedings subsequent to appointment are commenced shall in all appropriate cases notify the other court, in this or another state, and after consultation with that court determine whether to retain jurisdiction or transfer the proceedings to the other court, whichever may be in the best interest of the ward. A copy of any order accepting a resignation or removing a guardian shall be sent to the court in which acceptance of appointment is filed.

PROTECTION OF PROPERTY OF PERSONS UNDER DISABILITY AND MINORS

Section 91A-5-401. Protective proceedings. Upon petition and after notice and hearing in accordance with the provisions of this part, the court may appoint a conservator or make other protective order for cause as follows:

(1) Appointment of a conservator or other protective order may be made in relation to the estate and affairs of a minor if the court determines that a minor owns money or property that requires management or protection which cannot otherwise be provided, has or may have business affairs which may be jeopardized or prevented by his minority, or that funds are needed for his support and education and that protection is necessary or desirable to obtain or provide funds.

(2) Appointment of a conservator or other protective order may be made in relation to the estate and affairs of a person if the court determines that

(a) the person is unable to manage his property and affairs effectively for reasons such as mental illness, mental deficiency, physical illness or disability, advanced age, chronic use of drugs, chronic intoxication, confinement, detention by a foreign power, or disappearance; and

(b) the person has property which will be wasted or dissipated unless proper management is provided, or that funds are needed for the support, care and welfare of the person or those entitled to be supported by him and that protection is necessary or desirable to obtain or provide funds.

Section 91A-5-402. Protective proceedings; jurisdiction of affairs of protected persons. After the service of notice in a proceeding seeking the appointment of a conservator or other protective order and until termination of the proceeding, the court in which the petition is filed has:

(1) exclusive jurisdiction to determine the need for a conservator or other protective order until the proceedings are terminated;

(2) exclusive jurisdiction to determine how the estate of the protected person which is subject to the laws of this state shall be managed, expended or distributed to or for the use of the protected person or any of his dependents;

(3) concurrent jurisdiction to determine the validity of claims against the person or estate of the protected person and his title to any property or claim.

Section 91A-5-403. Venue. Venue for proceedings under this part is:

(1) in the place in this state where the person to be protected resides whether or not a guardian has been appointed in another place; or

(2) if the person to be protected does not reside in this state, in any place where he has property.

Section 91A-5-404. Original petition for appointment or protective order. (1) The person to be protected, any person who is interested in his estate, affairs or welfare including his parent, guardian, or custodian, or any person who would be adversely affected by lack of effective management of his property and affairs may petition for the appointment of a conservator or for other appropriate protective order.

(2) The petition shall set forth to the extent known, the interest of the petitioner; the name, age, residence and address of the person to be protected; the name and address of his guardian, if any; the name and address of his nearest relative known to the petitioner; a general statement of his property with an estimate of the value thereof, including any compensation, insurance, pension or allowance to which he is entitled; and the reason why appointment of a conservator or other protective order is necessary. If the appointment of a conservator is requested, the petition also shall set forth the name and address of the person whose appointment is sought and the basis of his priority for appointment.

Section 91A-5-405. Notice. (1) On a petition for appointment of a conservator or other protective order, the person to be protected and his spouse or, if none, his parents, must be served personally with notice of the proceeding at least fourteen (14) days before the date of hearing if they can be found within the state, or, if they cannot be found within the state, they must be given notice in accordance with section 91A-1-401. Waiver by the person to be protected is not effective unless he attends the hearing or, unless minority is the reason for the proceeding, waiver is confirmed in an interview with the visitor.

(2) Notice of a petition for appointment of a conservator or other initial protective order, and of any subsequent hearing, must be given to any person who has filed a request for notice under section 91A-5-406 and to interested persons and other persons as the court may direct. Except as otherwise provided in (1), notice shall be given in accordance with section 91A-1-401.

Section 91A-5-406. Protective proceedings; request for notice; interested person. Any interested person who desires to be notified before any order is made in a protective proceeding may file with the clerk a request for notice subsequent to payment of any fee required by statute or court rule. The clerk shall mail a copy of the demand to the conservator if one has been appointed. A request is not effective unless it contains a statement showing the interest of the person making it and his address, or that of his attorney, and is effective only as to matters occurring after the filing. Any governmental agency paying or planning to pay benefits to the person to be protected is an interested person in protective proceedings.

Section 91A-5-407. Procedure concerning hearing and order on original petition. (1) Upon receipt of a petition for appointment of a conservator or other protective order because of minority, the court shall set a date for hearing on the matters alleged in the petition. If, at any time in the proceeding, the court determines that the interests of the minor are or may be inadequately represented, it may appoint an attorney to represent the minor, giving consideration to the choice of the minor if fourteen (14) years of age or older. A lawyer appointed by the court to represent a minor has the powers and duties of a guardian ad litem.

(2) Upon receipt of a petition for appointment of a conservator or other protective order for reasons other than minority, the court shall set a date for hearing.

Unless the person to be protected has counsel of his own choice, the court must appoint a lawyer to represent him who then has the powers and duties of a guardian ad litem. If the alleged disability is mental illness, mental deficiency, physical illness or disability, advanced age, chronic use of drugs, or chronic intoxication, the court may direct that the person to be protected be examined by a physician designated by the court, preferably a physician who is not connected with any institution in which the person is a patient or is detained. The court may send a visitor to interview the person to be protected. The visitor may be a guardian ad litem or an officer or employee of the court.

(3) After hearing, upon finding that a basis for the appointment of a conservator or other protective order has been established, the court shall make an appointment or other appropriate protective order.

Section 91A-5-408. Permissible court orders. The court has the following powers which may be exercised directly or through a conservator in respect to the estate and affairs of protected persons:

(1) While a petition for appointment of a conservator or other protective order is pending and after preliminary hearing and without notice to others, the court has power to preserve and apply the property of the person to be protected as may be required for his benefit or the benefit of his dependents.

(2) After hearing and upon determining that a basis for an appointment or other protective order exists with respect to a minor without other disability, the court has all those powers over the estate and affairs of the minor which are or might be necessary for the best interests of the minor, his family and members of his household.

(3) After hearing and upon determining that a basis for an appointment or other protective order exists with respect to a person for reasons other than minority, the court has, for the benefit of the person and members of his household, all the powers over his estate and affairs which he could exercise if present and not under disability, except the power to make a will. These powers include, but are not limited to, power to make gifts, to convey or release his contingent and expectant interests in property including marital property rights and any right of survivorship incident to joint tenancy or tenancy by the entirety, to exercise or release his powers as trustee, personal representative, custodian for minors, conservator, or donee of a power of appointment, to enter into contracts, to create revocable or irrevocable trusts of property of the estate which may extend beyond his disability or life, to exercise options of the disabled person to purchase securities or other property, to exercise his rights to elect options and change beneficiaries under insurance and annuity policies and to surrender the policies for their cash value, to exercise his right to an elective share in the estate of his deceased spouse and to renounce any interest by testate or intestate succession or by inter vivos transfer.

(4) The court may exercise or direct the exercise of, its authority to exercise or release powers of appointment of which the protected person is donee, to renounce interests, to make gifts in trust or otherwise exceeding twenty percent (20%) of any year's income of the estate or to change beneficiaries under insurance and annuity policies, only if satisfied, after notice and hearing, that it is in the best interests of the protected person, and that he either is incapable of consenting or has consented to the proposed exercise of power.

(5) An order made pursuant to this section determining that a basis for appointment of a conservator or other protective order exists, has no effect on the capacity of the protected person.

Section 91A-5-409. Protective arrangements and single transactions authorized. (1) If it is established in a proper proceeding that a basis exists as described in section 91A-5-401 for affecting the property and affairs of a person the court, without appointing a conservator, may authorize, direct or ratify any transaction necessary or desirable to achieve any security, service, or care arrangement meeting the foreseeable needs of the protected person. Protective arrangements include, but are not limited to, payment, delivery, deposit or retention of funds or property, sale, mortgage, lease or other transfer of property, entry into an annuity contract, a contract for life care, a deposit contract, a contract for training and education, or addition to or establishment of a suitable trust.

(2) When it has been established in a proper proceeding that a basis exists as described in section 91A-5-401 for affecting the property and affairs of a person the court, without appointing a conservator, may authorize, direct or ratify any contract, trust or other transaction relating to the protected person's financial affairs or involving his estate if the court determines that the transaction is in the best interests of the protected person.

(3) Before approving a protective arrangement or other transaction under this section, the court shall consider the interests of creditors and dependents of the protected person and, in view of his disability, whether the protected person needs the continuing protection of a conservator. The court may appoint a special conservator to assist in the accomplishment of any protective arrangement or other transaction authorized under this section who shall have the authority conferred by the order and serve until discharged by order after report to the court of all matters done pursuant to the order of appointment.

Section 91A-5-410. Who may be appointed conservator; priorities.

(1) The court may appoint an individual, or a corporation with general power to serve as trustee, as conservator of the estate of a protected person. The following are entitled to consideration for appointment in the order listed:

(a) a conservator, guardian of property or other like fiduciary appointed or recognized by the appropriate court of any other jurisdiction in which the protected person resides;

(b) an individual or corporation nominated by the protected person if he is fourteen (14) or more years of age and has, in the opinion of the court, sufficient mental capacity to make an intelligent choice;

(c) the spouse of the protected person;

(d) an adult child of the protected person;

(e) a parent of the protected person, or a person nominated by the will of a deceased parent;

(f) any relative of the protected person with whom he has resided for more than six (6) months prior to the filing of the petition;

(g) a person nominated by the person who is caring for him or paying benefits to him.

(2) A person in priorities (a), (c), (d), (e), or (f) may nominate in writing a person to serve in his stead. With respect to persons having equal priority, the court is to select the one who is best qualified of those willing to serve. The court, for good cause, may pass over a person having priority and appoint a person having less priority or no priority.

Section 91A-5-411. Bond. The court may require a conservator to furnish a bond conditioned upon faithful discharge of all duties of the trust according to law, with sureties as it shall specify. Unless otherwise directed, the bond shall be in the amount of the aggregate capital value of the property of the estate in his control plus one (1) year's estimated income minus the value of securities deposited under arrangements requiring an order of the court for their removal and the value of any land which the fiduciary, by express limitation of power, lacks power to sell or convey without court authorization. The court in lieu of sureties on a bond, may accept other security for the performance of the bond, including a pledge of securities or a mortgage of land.

Section 91A-5-412. Terms and requirements of bond. (1) The following requirements and provisions apply to any bond required under section 91A-5-411:

(a) unless otherwise provided by the terms of the approved bond, sureties are jointly and severally liable with the conservator and with each other;

(b) by executing an approved bond of a conservator, the surety consents to the jurisdiction of the court which issued letters to the primary obligor in any proceeding pertaining to the fiduciary duties of the conservator and naming the surety as a party defendant. Notice of any proceeding shall be delivered to the surety or mailed to him by registered or certified mail at his address as listed with the court where the bond is filed and to his address as then known to the petitioner;

(c) on petition of a successor conservator or any interested person, a proceeding may be initiated against a surety for breach of the obligation of the bond of the conservator;

(d) the bond of the conservator is not void after the first recovery but may be proceeded against from time to time until the whole penalty is exhausted.

(2) No proceeding may be commenced against the surety on any matter as to which an action or proceeding against the primary obligor is barred by adjudication or limitation.

Section 91A-5-413. Acceptance of appointment; consent to jurisdiction. By accepting appointment, a conservator submits personally to the jurisdiction of the court in any proceeding relating to the estate that may be instituted by any interested person. Notice of any proceeding shall be delivered to the conservator, or mailed to him by registered or certified mail at his address as listed in the petition for appointment or as thereafter reported to the court and to his address as then known to the petitioner.

Section 91A-5-414. Compensation and expenses. If not otherwise compensated for services rendered, any visitor, lawyer, physician, conservator or special conservator appointed in a protective proceeding is entitled to reasonable compensation from the estate.

Section 91A-5-415. Death, resignation or removal of conservator. The court may remove a conservator for good cause, upon notice and hearing, or accept the resignation of a conservator. A conservator so appointed succeeds to the title and powers of his predecessor.

Section 91A-5-416. Petitions for orders subsequent to appointment. (1) Any person interested in the welfare of a person for whom a conservator has been appointed may file a petition in the appointing court for an order

(a) requiring bond or security or additional bond or security, or reducing bond,

(b) requiring an accounting for the administration of the trust,

(c) directing distribution,

(d) removing the conservator and appointing a temporary or successor conservator, or

(e) granting other appropriate relief.

(2) A conservator may petition the appointing court for instructions concerning his fiduciary responsibility.

(3) Upon notice and hearing, the court may give appropriate instructions or make any appropriate order.

(4) For purposes of this section, any person, institution or agency which is furnishing or supplying any money for support or care of a person for whom a conservator has been appointed is a person interested in the welfare of such protected person.

Section 91A-5-417. Conservator to act as fiduciary. In the exercise of his powers, a conservator is to act as a fiduciary and shall observe the standards of care applicable to trustees.

Section 91A-5-418. Inventory and records. Within ninety (90) days after his appointment, every conservator shall prepare and file with the appointing court a complete inventory of the estate of the protected person together with his oath or affirmation that it is complete and accurate so far as he is informed. The conservator shall provide a copy thereof to the protected person if he can be located, has attained the age of fourteen (14) years, and has sufficient mental capacity to understand these matters, and to any parent or guardian with whom the protected person resides. The conservator shall keep suitable records of his administration and exhibit the same on request of any interested person.

Section 91A-5-419. Accounts. Every conservator must account to the court for his administration of the trust upon his resignation or removal, and at other times as the court may direct. On termination of the protected person's minority or disability, a conservator may account to the court, or he may account to the former protected person or his personal representative. Subject to appeal or vacation within the time permitted, an order, made upon notice and hearing, allowing an intermediate account of a conservator, adjudicates as to his liabilities concerning the matters considered in connection therewith; and an order, made upon notice and hearing, allowing a final account adjudicates as to all previously unsettled liabilities of the conservator to the protected person or his successors relating to the conservatorship. In connection with any account, the court may require a conservator to submit to a physical check of the estate in his control, to be made in any manner the court may specify.

Section 91A-5-420. Conservators; title by appointment. The appointment of a conservator vests in his title as trustee to all property of the protected person, presently held or thereafter acquired, including title to any property theretofore held for the protected person by custodians or attorneys in fact. The appointment of a conservator is not a transfer or alienation within the meaning of general provisions of any federal or state statute or regulation, insurance policy, pension plan, contract, will or trust instrument, imposing restrictions upon or penalties for transfer or alienation by the protected person of his rights or interest, but this section does not restrict the ability of persons to make specific provision by contract or dispositive instrument relating to a conservator.

Section 91A-5-421. Recording conservator's letters. Letters of conservatorship are evidence of transfer of all assets of a protected person to the conservator. An order terminating a conservatorship is evidence of transfer of all assets of the estate from the conservator to the protected person, or his successors. Subject to the requirements of general statutes governing the filing or recordation of documents of title to land or other property, letters of conservatorship, and orders terminating conservatorships, may be filed or recorded to give record notice of title as between the conservator and the protected person.

Section 91A-5-422. Sale, encumbrance or transaction involving conflict of interest; voidable; exceptions. Any sale or encumbrance to a conservator, his spouse, agent or attorney, or any corporation or trust in which he has a substantial beneficial interest, or any transaction which is affected by a substantial conflict of interest is voidable unless the transaction is approved by the court after notice to interested persons and others as directed by the court.

Section 91A-5-423. Persons dealing with conservators; protection. A person who in good faith either assists a conservator or deals with him for value in any transaction other than those requiring a court order as provided in section 91A-5-408, is protected as if the conservator properly exercised the power. The fact that a person knowingly deals with a conservator does not alone require the person to inquire into the existence of a power or the propriety of its exercise, except that restrictions on powers of conservators which are endorsed on letters as provided in section 91A-5-426 are effective as to third persons. A person is not bound to see to the proper application of estate assets paid or delivered to a conservator. The protection here expressed extends to instances in which some procedural irregularity or jurisdictional defect occurred in proceedings leading to the issuance of letters. The protection here expressed is not by substitution for that provided by comparable provisions of the laws relating to commercial transactions and laws simplifying transfers of securities by fiduciaries.

Section 91A-5-424. Powers of conservator in administration. (1) A conservator has all of the powers conferred herein and any additional powers conferred by law on trustees in this state. In addition, a conservator of the estate of an unmarried minor under the age of eighteen (18) years, as to whom no one has parental rights, has the duties and powers of a guardian of a minor described in section 91A-5-209 until the minor attains the age of eighteen (18) or marries, but the parental rights so conferred on a conservator do not preclude appointment of a guardian as provided by sections 91A-5-201 through 91A-5-212, inclusive.

(2) A conservator has power without court authorization or confirmation, to invest and reinvest funds of the estate as would a trustee.

(3) A conservator, acting reasonably in efforts to accomplish the purpose for which he was appointed, may act without court authorization or confirmation, to

(a) collect, hold and retain assets of the estate including land in another state, until, in his judgment, disposition of the assets should be made, and the assets may be retained even though they include an asset in which he is personally interested;

(b) receive additions to the estate;

(c) continue or participate in the operation of any business or other enterprise;

(d) acquire an undivided interest in an estate asset in which the conservator, in any fiduciary capacity, holds an undivided interest;

(e) invest and reinvest estate assets in accordance with subsection (2);

(f) deposit estate funds in a bank including a bank operated by the conservator;

(g) acquire or dispose of an estate asset including land in another state for cash or on credit, at public or private sale; and to manage, develop, improve, exchange, partition, change the character of, or abandon an estate asset;

(h) make ordinary or extraordinary repairs or alterations in buildings or other structures, to demolish any improvements, to raze existing or erect new party walls or buildings;

(i) subdivide, develop, or dedicate land to public use; to make or obtain the vacation of plats and adjust boundaries; to adjust differences in valuation on exchange or to partition by giving or receiving considerations; and to dedicate easements to public use without consideration;

(j) enter for any purpose into a lease as lessor or lessee with or without option to purchase or renew for a term within or extending beyond the term of the conservatorship;

(k) enter into a lease or arrangement for exploration and removal of minerals or other natural resources or enter into a pooling or unitization agreement;

(l) grant an option involving disposition of an estate asset, to take an option for the acquisition of any asset;

(m) vote a security, in person or by general or limited proxy;

(n) pay calls, assessments, and any other sums chargeable or accruing against or on account of securities;

(o) sell or exercise stock subscription or conversion rights; to consent, directly or through a committee or other agent, to the reorganization, consolidation, merger, dissolution, or liquidation of a corporation or other business enterprise;

(p) hold a security in the name of a nominee or in other form without disclosure of the conservatorship so that title to the security may pass by delivery, but the conservator is liable for any act of the nominee in connection with the stock so held;

(q) insure the assets of the estate against damage or loss, and the conservator against liability with respect to third persons;

(r) borrow money to be repaid from estate assets or otherwise; to advance money for the protection of the estate or the protected person, and for all expenses, losses, and liability sustained in the administration of the estate or because of the holding or ownership of any estate assets and the conservator has a lien on the estate as against the protected person for advances so made;

(s) pay or contest any claim; to settle a claim by or against the estate or the protected person by compromise, arbitration, or otherwise; and to release, in whole or in part, any claim belonging to the estate to the extent that the claim is uncollectible;

(t) pay taxes, assessments, compensation of the conservator, and other expenses incurred in the collection, care, administration and protection of the estate;

(u) allocate items of income or expense to either estate income or principal, as provided by law, including creation of reserves out of income for depreciation, obsolescence, or amortization, or for depletion in mineral or timber properties;

(v) pay any sum distributable to a protected person or a dependent of the person who is a minor or incompetent, without liability to the conservator, by paying the sum to the distributee or by paying the sum for the use of the distributee either to his guardian or if none, to a relative or other person with custody of his person;

(w) employ persons, including attorneys, auditors, investment advisors, or agents, even though they are associated with the conservator to advise or assist him in the performance of his administrative duties; to act upon their recommendation without independent investigation; and instead of acting personally, to employ one (1) or more agents to perform any act of administration, whether or not discretionary;

(x) prosecute or defend actions, claims or proceedings in any jurisdiction for the protection of estate assets and of the conservator in the performance of his duties; and

(y) execute and deliver all instruments which will accomplish or facilitate the exercise of the powers vested in the conservator.

Section 91A-5-425. Distributive powers and duties of conservator.

(1) A conservator may expend or distribute income or principal of the estate without court authorization or confirmation for the support, education, care or benefit of the protected person and his dependents in accordance with the following principles:

(a) The conservator is to consider recommendations relating to the appropriate standard of support, education and benefit for the protected person made by a parent or guardian, if any. He may not be surcharged for sums paid to persons or organizations actually furnishing support, education or care to the protected person pursuant to the recommendations of a parent or guardian of the protected person unless he knows that the parent or guardian is deriving personal financial benefit therefrom, including relief from any personal duty of support, or unless the recommendations are clearly not in the best interests of the protected person.

(b) The conservator is to expend or distribute sums reasonably necessary for the support, education, care or benefit of the protected person with due regard to

(i) the size of the estate, the probable duration of the conservatorship and the likelihood that the protected person, at some future time, may be fully able to manage his affairs and the estate which has been conserved for him;

(ii) the accustomed standard of living of the protected person and members of his household;

(iii) other funds or sources used for the support of the protected person.

(c) The conservator may expend funds of the estate for the support of persons legally dependent on the protected person and others who are members of the protected person's household who are unable to support themselves, and who are in need of support.

(d) Funds expended under this subsection may be paid by the conservator to any person, including the protected person to reimburse for expenditures which the conservator might have made, or in advance for services to be rendered to the protected person when it is reasonable to expect that they will be performed and where advance payments are customary or reasonably necessary under the circumstances.

(2) If the estate is ample to provide for the purposes implicit in the distributions authorized by the preceding subsections, a conservator for a protected person other than a minor has power to make gifts to charity and other objects as the protected person might have been expected to make in amounts which do not exceed in total for any year twenty percent (20%) of the income from the estate.

(3) When a minor who has not been adjudged disabled under section 91A-5-401(2) attains his majority, his conservator, after meeting all prior claims and expenses of administration, shall pay over and distribute all funds and properties to the former protected person as soon as possible.

(4) When the conservator is satisfied that a protected person's disability (other than minority) has ceased, the conservator, after meeting all prior claims and expenses of administration, shall pay over and distribute all funds and properties to the former protected person as soon as possible.

(5) If a protected person dies, the conservator shall deliver to the court for safekeeping any will of the deceased protected person which may have come into his possession, inform the executor or a beneficiary named therein that he has done so, and retain the estate for delivery to a duly appointed personal representative of the decedent or other persons entitled thereto. If after forty (40) days from the death of the protected person no other person has been appointed personal representative and no application or petition for appointment is before the court, the conservator may apply to exercise the powers and duties of a personal representative so that he may proceed to administer and distribute the decedent's estate without additional or further appointment. Upon application for an order granting the powers of a personal representative to a conservator, after notice to any person demanding notice under section 91A-3-204 and to any person nominated executor in any will of which the applicant is aware, the court may order the conferral of the power upon determining that there is no objection, and endorse the letters of the conservator to note that the formerly protected person is deceased and that the conservator has acquired all of the powers and duties of a personal representative. The making and entry of an order under this section shall have the effect of an order of appointment of a personal representative as provided in section 91A-3-308 and sections 91A-3-601 through 91A-3-1010, inclusive, except that estate in the name of the conservator, after administration, may be distributed to the decedent's successors without prior retransfer to the conservator as personal representative.

Section 91A-5-426. Enlargement or limitation of powers of conservator. Subject to the restrictions in section 91A-5-408(4), the court may confer on a conservator at the time of appointment or later, in addition to the powers conferred on him by sections 91A-5-424 and 91A-5-425, any power which the court itself could exercise under sections 91A-5-408(2) and 91A-5-408(3). The court may, at the time of appointment or later, limit the powers of a conservator conferred by the court, and may at any time relieve him of any limitation. If the court limits any power conferred on the conservator by section 91A-5-424 or section 91A-5-425, the limitation shall be endorsed upon his letters of appointment.

Section 91A-5-427. Preservation of estate plan. In investing the estate, and in selecting assets of the estate for distribution under subsections (1) and (2) of section 91A-5-425, in utilizing powers of revocation or withdrawal available for the support of the protected person, and exercisable by the conservator or the court, the conservator and the court should take into account any known estate plan of the protected person, including his will, any revocable trust of which he is settlor, and any contract, transfer or joint ownership arrangement with provisions for payment or transfer of benefits or interests at his death to another or others which he may have originated. The conservator may examine the will of the protected person.

Section 91A-5-428. Claims against protected person; enforcement. (1) A conservator must pay from the estate all just claims against the estate and against the protected person arising before or after the conservatorship upon their presentation and allowance. A claim may be presented by either of the following methods:

(a) the claimant may deliver or mail to the conservator a written statement of the claim indicating its basis, the name and address of the claimant and the amount claimed;

(b) the claimant may file a written statement of the claim, in the form prescribed by rule, with the clerk of the court and deliver or mail a copy of the statement to the conservator.

A presented claim is allowed if it is not disallowed by written statement mailed by the conservator to the claimant within sixty (60) days after its presentation. A claim is deemed presented on the first to occur of receipt of the written statement of claim by the conservator, or the filing of the claim with the court. The presentation of a claim tolls any statute of limitation relating to the claim until thirty (30) days after its disallowance.

(2) A claimant whose claim has not been paid may petition the court for determination of his claim at any time before it is barred by the applicable statute of limitation, and, upon due proof, procure an order for its allowance and payment from the estate. If a proceeding is pending against a protected person at the time of appointment of a conservator or is initiated against the protected person thereafter, the moving party must give notice of the proceeding to the conservator if the outcome is to constitute a claim against the estate.

(3) If it appears that the estate in conservatorship is likely to be exhausted before all existing claims are paid, preference is to be given to prior claims for the care, maintenance and education of the protected person or his dependents and existing claims for expenses of administration.

Section 91A-5-429. Individual liability of conservator. (1) Unless otherwise provided in the contract, a conservator is not individually liable on a contract properly entered into in his fiduciary capacity in the course of administration of the estate unless he fails to reveal his representative capacity and identify the estate in the contract.

(2) The conservator is individually liable for obligations arising from ownership or control of property of the estate or for torts committed in the course of administration of the estate only if he is personally at fault.

(3) Claims based on contracts entered into by a conservator in his fiduciary capacity, on obligations arising from ownership or control of the estate, or on torts committed in the course of administration of the estate may be asserted against the estate by proceeding against the conservator in his fiduciary capacity, whether or not the conservator is individually liable therefor.

(4) Any question of liability between the estate and the conservator individually may be determined in a proceeding for accounting, surcharge, or indemnification, or other appropriate proceeding or action.

Section 91A-5-430. Termination of conservatorship. The protected person, his personal representative, the conservator or any other interested person may petition the court to terminate the conservatorship. A protected person seeking termination is entitled to the same rights and procedures as in an original proceeding for a protective order. The court, upon determining after notice and hearing that the minority or disability of the protected person has ceased, may terminate the conservatorship. Upon termination, title to assets of the estate passes to the former protected person or to his successors subject to provision in the order for expenses of administration or to conveyances from the conservator to the former protected persons or his successors, to evidence the transfer.

Section 91A-5-431. Payment of debt and delivery of property to foreign conservator without local proceedings. Any person indebted to a protected person, or having possession of property or of an instrument evidencing a debt, stock or chose in action belonging to a protected person may pay or deliver to a conservator, guardian of the estate or other like fiduciary appointed by a court of the state or residence of the protected person, upon being presented with proof of his appointment and an affidavit made by him or on his behalf stating:

(1) that no protective proceeding relating to the protected person is pending in this state; and

(2) that the foreign conservator is entitled to payment or to receive delivery.

If the person to whom the affidavit is presented is not aware of any protective proceeding pending in this state, payment or delivery in response to the demand and affidavit discharges the debtor or possessor.

POWERS OF ATTORNEY

Section 91A-5-501. When power of attorney not affected by disability. Whenever a principal designates another his attorney in fact or agent by a power of attorney in writing and the writing contains the words "This power of attorney shall not be affected by disability of the principal," or "This power of attorney shall become effective upon the disability of the principal," or similar words showing the intent of the principal that the authority conferred shall be exercisable notwithstanding his disability, the authority of the attorney in fact or agent is exercisable by him as provided in the power on behalf of the principal notwithstanding later disability or incapacity of the principal at law or later uncertainty as to whether the principal is dead or alive. All acts done by the attorney in fact or agent pursuant to the power during any period of disability or incompetence or uncertainty as to whether the principal is dead or alive have the same effect and inure to the benefit of and bind the principal or his heirs, devisees and personal representative as if the principal were alive, competent and not disabled. If a conservator thereafter is appointed for the principal, the attorney in fact or agent, during the continuance of the appointment, shall account to the conservator rather than the principal. The conservator has the same power the principal would have had if he were not disabled or incompetent to revoke, suspend or terminate all or any part of the power of attorney or agency.

Section 91A-5-502. Other powers of attorney not revoked until notice of death or disability. (1) The death, disability, or incompetence of any principal who has executed a power of attorney in writing other than a power as described by section 91A-5-501, does not revoke or terminate the agency as to the attorney in fact, agent or other person who, without actual knowledge of the death, disability, or incompetence of the principal, acts in good faith under the power of attorney or agency. Any action so taken, unless otherwise invalid or unenforceable, binds the principal and his heirs, devisees, and personal representatives.

(2) An affidavit, executed by the attorney in fact or agent stating that he did not have, at the time of doing an act pursuant to the power of attorney, actual knowledge of the revocation or termination of the power of attorney by death, disability or incompetence, is, in the absence of fraud, conclusive proof of the nonrevocation or nontermination of the power at that time. If the exercise of the power requires execution and delivery of any instrument which is recordable, the affidavit when authenticated for record is likewise recordable.

(3) This section shall not be construed to alter or affect any provision for revocation or termination contained in the power of attorney.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section 91A-6-101. Provisions for payment or transfer at death.

(1) Any of the following provisions in an insurance policy, contract of employment, bond, mortgage, promissory note, deposit agreement, pension plan, trust agreement, conveyance or any other written instrument effective as a contract, gift, conveyance, or trust is deemed to be nontestamentary, and this code does not invalidate the instrument or any provision:

(a) that money or other benefits theretofore due to, controlled or owned by a decedent shall be paid after his death to a person designated by the decedent in either the instrument or a separate writing, including a will, executed at the same time as the instrument or subsequently;

(b) that any money due or to become due under the instrument shall cease to be payable in event of the death of the promisee or the promisor before payment or demand; or

(c) that any property which is the subject of the instrument shall pass to a person designated by the decedent in either the instrument or a separate writing, including a will, executed at the same time as the instrument or subsequently.

(a) the code applies to any wills of decedents dying thereafter;

(b) the code applies to any proceedings in court then pending or thereafter commenced regardless of the time of the death of decedent except to the extent that in the opinion of the court the former procedure should be made applicable in a particular case in the interest of justice or because of infeasibility of application of the procedure of this code;

Section 4. There is hereby enacted a new section, to be placed in chapter 44, Title 91, R.C.M. 1947, reading as follows:

91-4468. Personal representative to furnish information — department to determine tax — appeal. The personal representative, or should the personal representative fail to do so, any interested person, shall make application to the state department of revenue for determination of any tax due upon the estate of a decedent. The applicant shall furnish to the department of revenue the inventory and appraisement required by section 91A-3-706 of this act and of any supplemental inventory under section 91A-3-707 of this act together with a statement, under oath or affirmation, of any property owned by the decedent at the time of his death situated outside of this state and without its jurisdiction, and, further, shall furnish the department with the final accounting of such personal representative as provided by section 91A-3-714 of this act. If the decedent died testate, the personal representative shall likewise furnish the department with a certified copy of the last will of the decedent. If the decedent died intestate, the personal representative shall provide the department with a sworn statement setting forth the names, ages, and residences of the heirs at law of decedent. In all cases, the personal representative shall set forth the proportion of the entire estate inherited by or devised to each of said persons, and the relation, if any, which each devisee, heir, or transferee sustained to the decedent or person from whom the transfer was made. The information so provided shall not be binding upon the department in case it believes the same to be erroneous or untrue. From the information so furnished the department and such other information as it may be able to obtain with reference thereto, the department shall, with reasonable diligence, proceed to ascertain and determine the amount of tax, if any, due under the provisions of the inheritance tax laws of the state of Montana, and a copy of such determination shall be mailed to the personal representative and to the clerk of the appropriate district court. If no tax is due, the department shall likewise so inform the clerk of district court and the personal representative. Upon receipt of notice from the department of the amount of tax due or that no tax is due, the personal representative shall notify all persons having a beneficial interest in said estate as promptly as may be. Should the personal representative or any person affected by the determination of inheritance tax feel aggrieved by the department's determination, he may, within sixty (60) days after the filing of the copy of such determination with the clerk of district court, appeal the determination to the appropriate district court, by serving upon the department his objections to such determination and by filing such notice, after so serving the same, in the office of the clerk of such court. The court shall set a day for hearing such appeal upon ten (10) days' notice to all interested parties, and at the time and place set shall hear the appeal, upon all papers and records which may be properly presented before it, and shall as soon as possible thereafter issue its order determining the amount of such inheritance tax, if it finds a tax to be due.

"91-4417. Powers of representative in collection and payment of tax — collection from devisees. Every personal representative shall have full power to sell so much of the property of the decedent as will enable him to pay such tax in the same manner as he might be entitled by law to do for the payment of the debts of the testator or intestate. Any such personal representative, having in charge or in trust any property for distribution, subject to such tax, shall deduct the tax therefrom; and within thirty days therefrom shall pay over the same to the county treasurer, as herein provided. If such property be not in money, he shall collect the tax thereon upon the appraised value thereof, from the person entitled thereto. He shall not deliver or be compelled to deliver any specific property subject to tax under this law, to any person until he shall have collected the tax thereon. If any such devise shall be charged upon or payable out of real property, the heir or devisee shall deduct such tax therefrom and pay it to the personal representative, and the tax shall remain a lien or charge on such real property for the period provided in section 91-4415, and the payment thereof shall be enforced by the personal representative, in the same manner that payment of the devise might be enforced, or by the attorney general under section 91-4440. If any such devise shall be given in money to any such person for a limited period, the personal representative shall retain the tax upon the whole amount, but if it be not in money, and agreement as to apportionment cannot be reached by him with the devisee or devisees affected, he shall make application to the appropriate court to make an apportionment if the case require it, of the sum to be paid into the hands of such devisees, and for such further order relative thereto as the case may require, such application being treated as a supervised proceeding."

"91-4423. Jurisdiction of district court. The district court of every county of the state having jurisdiction to grant letters testamentary or of administration upon the estate of a decedent whose property is chargeable with any tax under the inheritance tax laws, or to appoint a trustee of such estate or any part thereof, or to give ancillary letters thereon, shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine all questions arising under the provisions of the inheritance tax laws, and to do any act in relation thereto authorized by law to be done by a district court in other matters or proceedings coming within its jurisdiction; and if two or more district courts shall be entitled to exercise any such jurisdiction, the district court first acquiring jurisdiction hereunder, shall retain the same to the exclusion of every other district court."

"91-4437. Court order determining tax — contents. When the district court shall be required to make a determination of the value of any estate which is taxable under the inheritance tax laws, and of the tax to which it is liable, an order shall be entered by the court determining the same, which order shall include a statement of (a) the date of death of the decedent, (b) the gross value of the real and personal property of such estate, stating the principal items thereof, (c) the deductions therefrom allowed by the court, (d) the names and relationship of the persons entitled to receive the same, with the amount received by each, (e) the rates and amounts of inheritance tax for which each such person is liable, and the total amount of tax to be paid, (f) a statement of the amount of interest or penalty due, if any. Such order shall be substantially in the form prescribed by the state department of revenue. A copy of the same shall be delivered or mailed to the county treasurer, the administrator or executor, and the state department of revenue, and no final judgment shall be entered in such estates until due proof is filed with the court that such copies have been so delivered or mailed, and receipts are filed with such court showing the payment of all such taxes, or proof is filed showing that the bond authorized by section 91-4419 has been given."

"91-4438. Rehearing within sixty days. When an appraisal, assessment, or determination of tax is made by a district court the attorney general, state department of revenue, public administrator, county attorney, or any person dissatisfied with the appraisal or assessment and determination of such tax may apply for a rehearing thereof before the district court within sixty (60) days from the fixing, assessing and determination of the tax by the district court as herein provided on filing a written notice which shall state the grounds of the application for a rehearing. The rehearing shall be upon the records, proceedings, and proofs had and taken on the hearing as herein provided unless additional or newly discovered evidence be alleged therefor, and a new trial shall not be had or granted unless specially ordered by the district court."

Section 10. Section 91-4448, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"91-4448. Forms and blanks. The state department of revenue shall prescribe such forms and prepare such blanks as may be necessary in inheritance tax proceedings; and such blanks shall be printed at the expense of the state and furnished to each district court or the clerk thereof upon the request of the judge or clerk thereof."

Section 11. Section 91-4467, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"91-4467. Purpose of act — limitation on application. The purpose of this act is to provide a simplified procedure of removing the inheritance tax lien which attaches upon the death of a grantor where the transfer is from husband to wife, or wife to husband, and where the total value of the real property so transferred does not exceed the value of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), at the time of death; provided, however, this act shall not apply to other transfers of property under the Inheritance Tax Act."

Section 12. Section 91-4411, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"91-4411. Estate tax. (a) In addition to the inheritance taxes hereinabove imposed, an estate tax is hereby imposed upon the transfer of the estate of every decedent leaving an estate which is subject to the federal estate tax imposed by the United States of America under the applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code and which has, in whole or in part, a taxable situs in this state. The tax hereby imposed upon the transfer of each such estate shall be equal to the maximum tax credit allowable for state death taxes against the federal estate tax imposed with respect to the portion of the decedent's estate having a taxable situs in this state, less the inheritance taxes, if any, due this state, it being the purpose and intent of this section to impose only such additional taxes hereunder as may be necessary to give this state the full benefit of the maximum tax credit allowable against the federal estate tax imposed with respect to a decedent's estate which has a taxable situs in this state. If only a portion of a decedent's estate has a taxable situs in this state, such maximum tax credit shall be determined by multiplying the entire amount of the credit allowable against the federal estate tax for state death taxes by the percentage which the value of the portion of the decedent's estate which has a taxable situs in this state bears to the value of the entire estate. The tax imposed herein shall be collected by the several county treasurers or the department of revenue for deposit with the state treasurer and distributed as hereafter provided. For the purpose of this tax, the taxable situs of property shall be the same as the taxable situs for inheritance tax purposes.

(b) When payable. The estate tax shall be payable to the county treasurer of the county in which such estate is being probated at the same time, or times, at which the United States tax is payable and shall bear interest, if any, at the same rate and for the same period as such United States tax.

(c) Liability. Administrators, executors, trustees and grantees under a conveyance, made during the grantor's life and taxable hereunder, shall be liable for such taxes with interest, until the same have been paid.

(d) Lien. Said taxes and interest shall be, and remain, a lien on the property for a period of ten (10) years from the date of death, unless sooner paid.

(e) Extension of time. The district court of the county in which such estate is being probated may, for cause shown, extend the time of payment of said tax whenever the circumstances of the case require.

(f) Duplicate returns. It shall be the duty of the personal representative of the estate of any decedent, whose estate may be subject to the payment of a United States estate tax, to file duplicates of the United States estate tax returns with the district court of the county in which such estate is being probated and with the department of revenue. He shall also file with such court and with the department a certificate or other evidence from the bureau of internal revenue showing the amount of the United States estate tax as computed by that department. The department of revenue shall enter an order determining such state estate tax and the amount thereof so due and payable. Any person in interest aggrieved by such determination shall have the same right to apply for district court determination and of rehearing and appeal as is now provided for in the determination of inheritance taxes.

(g) Intent of subdivisions (a) to (h). It is hereby declared to be the intent and purpose of subdivisions (a) to (h) to obtain for this state the benefit of the credit allowed under the provisions of said Internal Revenue Code, to the extent that this state may be entitled by the provisions of said act, by imposing additional taxes and the same shall be liberally construed to effect this purpose.

(h) Provisions applicable. The provisions of sections 91-4401 to 91-4456, inclusive, relating to the tax on inheritances and transfers, shall apply to the taxes imposed by subdivisions (a) to (h), in so far as the same are applicable and not in conflict with the provisions hereof."

"91-3406. Claims for less than nominal value. If the personal repre- sentative pays any claim for less than its nominal value, he is only entitled to charge in his account the amount he actually paid."

"91-612. Moneys of estates in hands of public administrator, deposit and payment of — escheated estates fund. It is the duty of every public administrator, as soon as he receives the same, to deposit with the county treasurer of the county in which probate proceedings are pending, all moneys of the estate, and such moneys may be drawn upon the order of the personal representative, countersigned by a district judge, when required for the purposes of administration. It is the duty of the county treasurer to receive and safely keep all such moneys, and pay them out upon the order of the personal representative, when countersigned by a district judge, and not otherwise, and to keep an account with such estate of all moneys received and paid to him; and for the safekeeping and payment of all such moneys, as herein provided, the said treasurer and his sureties are liable upon his official bond. The moneys thus deposited may, upon order of the court or judge, be invested, pending the proceedings, in securities of the United States, or of this state, when such investment is for the best interests of the estate. At the final settlement of any estate, if there be no heirs or other claimants thereof, the district judge shall make an order directing the administrator to sell all property belonging to the estate and pay the proceeds to the county treasurer, who shall credit the same and all other moneys belonging to said estate to the escheated estates fund, and the county treasurer shall forthwith remit all of said money to the department of revenue with a statement as to the estates to which the money belongs, which remittance shall be treated as provided in chapter 5, Title 91, R.C.M. 1947, as amended."

Section 15. Section 91-131, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"91-131. Mortgage not a revocation of will. A charge or encumbrance upon any estate, for the purpose of securing the payment of money or the performance of any covenant or agreement, is not a revocation of any will relating to the same estate which was previously executed."

Section 16. Section 91-1106, R.C.M. 1947, is amended to read as follows:

"91-1106. Costs and expenses — by whom paid. When the validity or probate of a will is contested through court action the fees and expenses must be paid by the party contesting the validity or probate of the will, if the will in probate is confirmed. If the probate is revoked, the costs must be paid by the party who resisted the revocation, or out of the property of the decedent, as the court directs."

Section 17. There is a new section to be numbered 91A-6-103, R.C.M. 1947, which reads as follows:

91A-6-103. Terms include personal representative. Where in the codes of the state of Montana the terms "administrator," "administrator with the will annexed," "executor" or a combination of such terms are used, such terms shall be deemed to include, unless the context clearly requires to the contrary, the term "personal representative."

Definition and calculation of average number belonging (ANB). The term "average number belonging" or "ANB" shall mean the average number of regularly enrolled, full-time pupils attending the public schools of a district. (1) more than one school of a district, other than a junior high school in an elementary district which has been approved and accredited as a junior high school, is located within the incorporated limits of a city or town, the average number belonging of such schools shall be based on the aggregate of all the regularly enrolled, full-time pupils attending such schools located within the incorporated limits of a city or town;

(2) a junior high school which has been approved and accredited as a junior high school is located within the incorporated limits of a city or town in which a high school is located, all of the regularly enrolled, full-time pupils of the junior high school shall be considered as high school district pupils for the purposes of calculating the average number belonging of the high schools located within the incorporated limits of such city or town; or

(3) a school has not been accredited by the board of education, the regularly enrolled, full-time pupils attending the nonaccredited school shall not be eligible for average number belonging calculation purposes, nor will an average number belonging for the nonaccredited school be used in determining the foundation program for such district."

The number of hours in a school week may be reduced, in an emergency, with the approval of the board of public education."

(2) The appropriations made by subsection (1) of this section to the academic support programs of the units of the university system are to be used by the libraries of the various units only for the acquisition of printed, typewritten, handwritten, mimeographed or processed works which are bound or portfolioed, hard bound or paper bound and which can be classified, catalogued or otherwise prepared for library use, including bound periodical volumes and non-periodical government documents.

Section 14. The provisions set forth in this section are limitations on the appropriations made in this act, provided, however, that these limitations do not apply to the distribution of public funds under the superintendent of public instruction. It is the purpose of the legislature in enacting this bill only to appropriate funds and to restrict and limit by its provisions the amount and conditions under which the appropriations can be expended. Except as otherwise provided in this act, the expenditures of appropriations are hereby subject to the following general and specific provisions:

(1) All expenditures of funds appropriated by this act for purpose of travel, transportation, and vacation and sick leave are subject to the provisions of law expressed in Title 59, R.C.M. 1947.

(2) All expenditures of funds appropriated by this act for the purchase of property, materials and supplies are subject to the provisions of law expressed in Title 82, chapter 19, R.C.M. 1947.

(3) All expenditures of funds appropriated by this act shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section 82-109, R.C.M. 1947, which specifies that expenditures shall be applied against nongeneral fund moneys before general fund moneys.

(4) All moneys collected or received by agencies subject to this act from any source whatsoever, including federal grants for research and operations, shall be deposited in the state treasury pursuant to the provisions of Title 79, R.C.M. 1947, except that the department of administration may, pursuant to section 79-603, R.C.M. 1947, permit any agency subject to this act to retain in its possession moneys that would otherwise be deposited in the state treasury.

(5) All expenditures of funds appropriated by this act shall be reported and accounted for in accordance with procedures and systems established by the department of administration pursuant to section 82-110, R.C.M. 1947.

Section 15. This act is effective upon passage and approval.

HOUSE BILL NO. 747

AN ACT TO APPROPRIATE MONEYS TO VARIOUS STATE AGEN-

CIES FOR THE BIENNIUM ENDING JUNE 30, 1975; PROVIDING FOR OTHER MATTERS RELATING TO THE APPROPRIATIONS; AND PROVIDING AN EFFECTIVE DATE.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. For the purposes of this act, unless otherwise stated:

(1) "Agency" includes all state offices, departments, divisions, boards, commissions, councils, committees, institutions, university units, and other entities or instrumentalities of state government.

(2) "Program" means a segment that includes a combination of planned efforts to provide a service.

(3) "Approved budget amendment" means approval by the governor, or his designated representative, of a request submitted through the budget bureau to:

(a) obtain financing for a new or expanded program from funds which were not available for consideration by the legislative assembly but which have become available from a source other than state's general fund; or

(b) transfer appropriations, including general fund appropriations, between programs within a state agency; or

(c) expend remaining balances of the first fiscal year appropriations, including general fund appropriations, during the second fiscal year of the biennium.

Section 2. The appropriations contained in this act are intended to provide only necessary and ordinary expenditures for the year for which the appropriations are made. Except for amounts subject to accrual at the end of each fiscal year, the unexpended balance of any appropriation shall revert to the fund from which it was appropriated. In case of necessity, an appropriation not expended during the first fiscal year of the biennium may be expended during the second fiscal year by approved budget amendment.

Section 3. The appropriations in this act are intended to provide for all expenditures for:

(1) personal services;

(2) all other ordinary and necessary expenditures for the operation of the agency and the program to which the appropriation applies;

(3) repairs and maintenance, other than major alterations of existing buildings; and

(4) the purchase or replacement of capital items other than expenditures for the construction, improvement, or furnishing of buildings or purchase of buildings or land unless specifically authorized.

Section 4. Financing for new or expanded programs from sources other than general fund may be made available by approved budget amendment.

Section 5. Each agency shall submit to the budget bureau, on or before July 1 of each fiscal year, an operational plan within the limits of appropriations which includes the position and salary of all officers and employees. The salary of the chief administrator of each agency shall be determined by the appointing authority. Informational copies of operational plan changes shall be submitted to the budget bureau for review.

Section 6. No new program may be established and no existing program may be expanded beyond the scope of the programs approved by the legislative assembly in the 1975 biennial budget, unless the new program or the program expansion and its method of financing is approved by the governor, or his designated representative after presentation through the budget bureau.

Section 7. Transfers of appropriated funds between programs of an agency may be made only by an approved budget amendment.

Section 8. If the operation of a state agency is financed by an appropriation or appropriations from the general fund as well as by appropriation from other sources, the funds provided by appropriation from the general fund shall be decreased by the amount that the funds received from other sources exceeds the amount from other sources appropriated by the legislature in the 1975 biennial budget, provided that:

- (1) the decrease does not jeopardize the receipt of the funds to be received from other sources; and
- (2) this section shall not apply to any excess funds if they are to be expended for a new or expanded program approved by the governor, or his designated representative upon a request submitted to him through the budget bureau.

Section 9. When an agency receives federal funds as a reimbursement for the cost of administering a federal program and this cost was financed by a general fund appropriation, the federal funds shall be deposited into the general fund unless usage of the federal funds is restricted by federal provisions.

Section 10. The governor may reduce any appropriation by not more than fifteen percent (15%) except appropriations for:

- (1) payment of interest and retirement of the state debt;
- (2) operation of the legislature;
- (3) public schools;
- (4) the judiciary; or
- (5) salaries of public officers, during their term of office.

Section 11. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act.

Section 12. The following moneys are appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1975:

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | Fiscal YearEnding6/30/74 | Fiscal YearEnding6/30/75 |

| The purpose of this appropriation is to provide a general state employeesalary adjustment effective January 1, 1974. All state employees, withthe exception of those employees whose salaries are set by law, are to beincluded. All state employees shall receive a salary increase of thirtydollars ($30) per month, prorated for less than full-time employment. Inaddition, all state employees shall receive a two percent (2%) salaryincrease as of July 1, 1974. This salary adjustment shall apply only foremployees of record as of the date of passage and approval of this act.Administration of the appropriation is assigned to the budget bureau,department of administration, for distribution. All distribution calcu-lations will be based on operational plans submitted by offices or depart-ments on file with the budget bureau as of December 1, 1973, forexecutive branch agencies, and salary information available as of Decem-ber 1, 1973, for legislative and judicial branch agencies. This generalstate employee salary adjustment is intended in lieu of all forthcoming,broad-based salary increases in the 1975 biennium. |                                         |                                         |

Informational copies of operational plan changes shall be submitted to the budget bureau for review.

Section 6. No new program may be established and no existing program may be expanded beyond the scope of the programs approved by the legislative assembly in the 1975 biennial budget, unless the new program or the program expansion and its method of financing is approved by the governor, or his designated representative after presentation through the budget bureau.

Section 7. Transfers of appropriated funds between programs of an agency may be made only by an approved budget amendment.

Section 8. If the operation of a state agency is financed by an appropriation or appropriations from the general fund as well as by appropriation from other sources, the funds provided by appropriation from the general fund shall be decreased by the amount that the funds received from other sources exceeds the amount from other sources appropriated by the legislature in the 1975 biennial budget, provided that:

(1) the decrease does not jeopardize the receipt of the funds to be received from other sources; and

(2) this section shall not apply to any excess funds if they are to be expended for a new or expanded program approved by the governor, or his designated representative upon a request submitted to him through the budget bureau.

Section 9. When an agency receives federal funds as a reimbursement for the cost of administering a federal program and this cost was financed by a general fund appropriation, the federal funds shall be deposited into the general fund unless usage of the federal funds is restricted by federal provisions.

Section 10. The governor may reduce any appropriation by not more than fifteen percent (15%) except appropriations for:

- (1) payment of interest and retirement of the state debt;
- (2) operation of the legislature;
- (3) public schools;
- (4) the judiciary; or
- (5) salaries of public officers, during their term of office.

Section 11. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act.

Section 12. The following moneys are appropriated for the biennium ending June 30, 1975:

(3) "Approved budget amendment" means approval by the governor, or his designated representative, of a request submitted through the budget bureau for executive branch agencies; approval by the respective legislative committees for legislative branch agencies, to:

(a) obtain financing for a new or expanded program from funds which were not available for consideration by the legislative assembly but which have become available from a source other than state's general fund; or

(b) transfer appropriations, including general fund appropriations, between programs within a state agency; or

(c) expend remaining balances of the first fiscal year appropriations, including general fund appropriations, during the second fiscal year of the biennium.

Section 2. The appropriations contained in this act are intended to provide only necessary and ordinary expenditures for the year for which the appropriations are made. Except for amounts subject to accrual at the end of each fiscal year, the unexpended balance of any appropriation shall revert to the fund from which it was appropriated. In case of necessity, an appropriation not expended during the first fiscal year of the biennium may be expended during the second fiscal year by approved budget amendment.

Section 3. The appropriations in this act are intended to provide for all expenditures for:

(1) the full time service of three (3) auditors to assist the administrator of the utility division and to assist the administrator of the transportation division of the commission; one (1) engineer to assist the administrator of the utility division of the commission; the full time service of one (1) court reporter; and the full time service of one (1) legal stenographer;

The salary of the chief administrator of each agency shall be determined by the appointing authority. Informational copies of operational plan changes shall be submitted to the budget bureau for review.

Section 6. No new program may be established and no existing program may be expanded beyond the scope of the programs approved by the legislative assembly in the 1975 biennial budget, unless the new program or the program expansion and its method of financing is approved by means of an approved budget amendment.

Section 7. Transfers of appropriated funds between programs of an agency may be made only by an approved budget amendment.

Section 8. If the operation of a state agency is financed by an appropriation or appropriations from the general fund as well as by appropriation from other sources, the funds provided by appropriation from the general fund shall be decreased by the amount that the funds received from other sources exceeds the amount from other sources appropriated by the legislature in the 1975 biennial budget, provided that:

(1) the decrease does not jeopardize the receipt of the funds to be received from other sources; and

(2) this section shall not apply to any excess funds if they are to be expended for a new or expanded program approved by means of an approved budget amendment.

Section 9. When an agency receives federal funds as reimbursement for the cost of administering a federal program and this cost was financed by a general fund appropriation, the federal funds shall be deposited into the general fund unless usage of the federal fund is restricted by federal provisions.

Section 1. For the purposes of this act, unless otherwise stated:

(1) "Agency" includes all state offices, departments, divisions, boards, commissions, councils, committees, institutions, university units, and other entities or instrumentalities of state government.

(2) "Program" means a segment that includes a combination of planned efforts to provide a service.

(3) "Approved budget amendment" means approval by the governor, or his designated representative, of a request submitted through the budget bureau to:

(a) obtain financing for a new or expanded program from funds which were not available for consideration by the legislative assembly but which have become available from a source other than state's general fund; or

(b) transfer appropriations, including general fund appropriations, between programs within a state agency; or

(c) expend remaining balances of the first fiscal year appropriations, including general fund appropriations, during the second fiscal year of the biennium.

Section 2. The appropriations contained in this act are intended to provide only necessary and ordinary expenditures for the year for which the appropriations are made. Except for amounts subject to accrual at the end of each fiscal year, the unexpended balance of any appropriation shall revert to the fund from which it was appropriated. In case of necessity, an appropriation not expended during the first fiscal year of the biennium may be expended during the second fiscal year by approved budget amendment.

Section 3. The appropriations in this act are intended to provide for all expenditures for:

(1) personal services;

(2) all other ordinary and necessary expenditures for the operation of the agency and the program to which the appropriation applies;

(3) repairs and maintenance, other than major alterations of existing buildings; and

(4) the purchase or replacement of capital items other than expenditures for the construction, improvement, or furnishing of buildings or purchase of buildings or land unless specifically authorized.

Section 4. Financing for new or expanded programs from sources other than general fund may be made available by approved budget amendment.

Section 5. Each agency shall submit to the budget bureau, on or before July 1 of each fiscal year, an operational plan within the limits of appropriations which includes the position and salary of all officers and employees. The salary of the chief administrator of each agency shall be determined by the appointing authority. Informational copies of operational plan changes shall be submitted to the budget bureau for review.

Section 6. No new program may be established and no existing program may be expanded beyond the scope of the programs approved by the legislative assembly in the 1975 biennial budget, unless the new program or the program expansion and its method of financing is approved by the governor, or his designated representative after presentation through the budget bureau.

Section 7. Transfers of appropriated funds between programs of an agency may be made only by an approved budget amendment.

Section 8. If the operation of a state agency is financed by an appropriation or appropriations from the general fund as well as by appropriation from other sources, the funds provided by appropriation from the general fund shall be decreased by the amount that the funds received from other sources exceeds the amount from other sources appropriated by the legislature in the 1975 biennial budget, provided that:

(1) the decrease does not jeopardize the receipt of the funds to be received from other sources; and

(2) this section shall not apply to any excess funds if they are to be expended for a new or expanded program approved by the governor, or his designated representative upon a request submitted to him through the budget bureau.

Section 9. When an agency receives federal funds as a reimbursement for the cost of administering a federal program and this cost was financed by a general fund appropriation, the federal funds shall be deposited into the general fund unless usage of the federal funds is restricted by federal provisions.

Section 10. The governor may reduce any appropriation by not more than fifteen percent (15%) except appropriations for:

- (1) payment of interest and retirement of the state debt;
- (2) operation of the legislature;
- (3) public schools;
- (4) the judiciary; or
- (5) salaries of public officers, during their term of office.

Section 11. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Montana:

Section 1. For the purposes of this act, unless otherwise stated:

(1) "Agency" includes all state offices, departments, divisions, boards, commissions, councils, committees, institutions, university units, and other entities or instrumentalities of state government.

(2) "Program" means a segment that includes a combination of planned efforts to provide a service.

(3) "Approved budget amendment" means approval by the governor, or his designated representative, of a request submitted through the budget bureau for executive branch agencies; approval by the chief justice of the supreme court for judicial branch agencies; and approval by the respective legislative committees for legislative branch agencies, to:

(a) obtain financing for a new or expanded program from funds which were not available for consideration by the legislative assembly but which have become available from a source other than state's general fund; or

(b) transfer appropriations, including general fund appropriations, between programs within a state agency; or

(c) expend remaining balances of the first fiscal year appropriations, including general fund appropriations, during the second fiscal year of the biennium.

Section 2. The appropriations contained in this act are intended to provide only necessary and ordinary expenditures for the year for which the appropriations are made. Except for amounts subject to accrual at the end of each fiscal year, the unexpended balance of any appropriation shall revert to the fund from which it was appropriated. In case of necessity, an appropriation not expended during the first fiscal year of the biennium may be expended during the second fiscal year by approved budget amendment.

Section 3. The appropriations in this act are intended to provide for all expenditures for:

(1) personal services;

(2) all other ordinary and necessary expenditures for the operation of the agency and the program to which the appropriation applies;

(3) repairs and maintenance, other than major alterations of existing buildings; and

(4) the purchase or replacement of capital items other than expenditures for the construction, improvement, or furnishing of buildings or purchase of buildings or land unless specifically authorized.

Section 4. Financing for new or expanded programs from sources other than general fund may be made available by approved budget amendment.

Section 5. Each executive branch agency shall submit to the budget bureau, on or before July 1 of each fiscal year, an operational plan within the limits of appropriations which includes the position and salary of all officers and employees. The salary of the chief administrator of each agency shall be determined by the appointing authority. Informational copies of operational plan changes shall be submitted to the budget bureau for review.

Section 6. No new program may be established and no existing program may be expanded beyond the scope of the programs approved by the legislative assembly in the 1975 biennial budget, unless the new program or the program expansion and its method of financing is approved by means of an approved budget amendment.

Section 7. Transfers of appropriated funds between programs of an agency may be made only by an approved budget amendment.

Section 8. If the operation of a state agency is financed by an appropriation or appropriations from the general fund as well as by appropriation from other sources, the funds provided by appropriation from the general fund shall be decreased by the amount that the funds received from other sources exceeds the amount from other sources appropriated by the legislature in the 1975 biennial budget, provided that:

(1) the decrease does not jeopardize the receipt of the funds to be received from other sources; and

(2) this section shall not apply to any excess funds if they are to be expended for a new or expanded program approved by means of an approved budget amendment.

Section 9. When an agency receives federal funds as a reimbursement for the cost of administering a federal program and this cost was financed by a general fund appropriation, the federal funds shall be deposited into the general fund unless usage of the federal funds is restricted by federal provisions.

Section 10. The governor may reduce any appropriation by not more than fifteen percent (15%) except appropriations for:

- (1) payment of interest and retirement of the state debt;
- (2) operation of the legislature;
- (3) public schools;
- (4) the judiciary; or
- (5) salaries of public officers, during their term of office.

Section 11. In addition to the amounts specifically appropriated by this act, there is hereby appropriated to the legislative auditor for the legislative audit program that amount that state agency heads agree to provide for audits from their available non-general fund resources.

Section 12. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act.

(1) "Agency" includes all state offices, departments, divisions, boards, commissions, councils, committees, institutions, university units, and other entities or instrumentalities of state government.

(2) "Program" means a segment that includes a combination of planned efforts to provide a service.

(3) "Approved budget amendment" means approval by the governor, or his designated representative, of a request submitted through the budget bureau for executive branch agencies; approval by the chief justice of the supreme court for judicial branch agencies; and approval by the respective legislative committees for legislative branch agencies, to:

(a) obtain financing for a new or expanded program from funds which were not available for consideration by the legislative assembly but which have become available from a source other than state's general fund; or

(b) transfer appropriations, including general fund appropriations, between programs within a state agency; or

(c) Expend remaining balances of the first fiscal year appropriations, including general fund appropriations, during the second fiscal year of the biennium.

Section 2. The appropriations contained in this act are intended to provide only necessary and ordinary expenditures for the year for which the appropriations are made. Except for amounts subject to accrual at the end of each fiscal year, the unexpended balance of any appropriation shall revert to the fund from which it was appropriated. In case of necessity, an appropriation not expended during the first fiscal year of the biennium may be expended during the second fiscal year by approved budget amendment.

Section 3. The appropriations in this act are intended to provide for all expenditures for:

Informational copies of operational plan changes shall be submitted to the budget bureau for review.

Section 6. No new program may be established and no existing program may be expended beyond the scope of the programs approved by the legislative assembly in the 1975 biennial budget, unless the new program or the program expansion and its method of financing is approved by means of an approved budget amendment.

Section 7. Transfers of appropriated funds between programs of an agency may be made only by an approved budget amendment.

Section 8. If the operation of a state agency is financed by an appropriation or appropriations from the general fund as well as by appropriation from other sources, the funds provided by appropriation from the general fund shall be decreased by the amount that the funds received from other sources exceeds the amount from other sources appropriated by the legislature in the 1975 biennial budget, provided that:

(1) the decrease does not jeopardize the receipt of the funds to be received from other sources; and

(2) this section shall not apply to any excess funds if they are to be expended for a new or expanded program approved by means of an approved budget amendment.

Section 9. When an agency receives federal funds as a reimbursement for the cost of administering a federal program and this cost was financed by a general fund appropriation, the federal funds shall be deposited into the general fund unless usage of the federal funds is restricted by federal provisions.

Section 10. The governor may reduce any appropriation by not more than fifteen percent (15%) except appropriations for:

- (1) payment of interest and retirement of the state debt;
- (2) operation of the legislature;
- (3) public schools;
- (4) the judiciary; or
- (5) salaries of public officers, during their term of office.

Section 11. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act.

season is an infant technology in need of intensive research concerning hail suppression and rainfall augmentation, and

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 63

TO ACHIEVE THE EQUALITY OF THE SEXES UNDER THE LAWS OF MONTANA, AND TO REPORT THEIR FINDINGS AND THEIR PROPOSALS FOR CHANGES IN THE LAW TO THE 1975 SESSION OF THE FORTY-FOURTH MONTANA LEGISLATURE.

WHEREAS, article II, section 4, of the Montana constitution prohibits discrimination against any person in the exercise of his civil or political rights on account of sex, and

WHEREAS, principles of democratic government and the proper respect due both sexes require that both the rights and responsibilities of citizenship be assumed equally by men and women, and

WHEREAS, numerous statutes currently exist in the Revised Codes of Montana 1947, which distinguish between persons on the basis of sex in terms of their rights and responsibilities under the law, and

WHEREAS, these statutes distinguishing between persons on the basis of sex are in many cases interrelated with many substantive laws and procedures necessary to the effective functioning of state and local government, and

WHEREAS, care and study are required to eliminate discriminatory provisions of the Revised Codes of Montana 1947, while preserving the essential features of these laws.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is requested to appoint a select committee of five (5) members and that the Committee on Committees in the Senate is requested to appoint a select committee of five (5) members to meet jointly during the period between the close of the final session of the Forty-third Legislature and the opening of the first session of the Forty-fourth Legislature, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the joint select committee report the results of its study and its recommendations for changes in the existing law together with proposed legislation to effect these changes to the Senate and the House of Representatives no later than 5 p.m. on the fifth legislative day of the 1975 session of the Forty-fourth Legislature.

WHEREAS, many of these abandoned well markers in Montana stand in lands where the surface is devoted to agricultural uses; and

WHEREAS, the standing pipe markers disrupt sound agricultural land management by establishing weed patches interfering with irrigation, and posing a hazard to crop spraying; and

WHEREAS, alternate methods of marking abandoned wells below plow depth, or at least not above ground levels, would adequately protect the public interest in those actively farmed areas.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the Secretary of the Interior of the United States is urged to propose an appropriate amendment to Title 30, Code of Federal Regulations, section 221.22, to delete the requirement that each abandoned oil or gas well be marked by a pipe standing at least four (4) feet above ground level, when the land involved is in agricultural use.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that if a notice of proposed rule making is issued by the Secretary of the Interior in response to this resolution, that the Montana Commissioner of Agriculture and the director of Natural Resources and Conservation are urged to participate in the rule making process and to further the policies declared in this resolution.

CHAPTER 5

Motions

5-1. When a motion is made it shall be restated by the presiding officer, and, if requested by the presiding officer or a member, shall be reduced to writing and read aloud. A motion may be withdrawn by the member making it at any time before it is amended or voted upon.

5-2. When a question is under debate no motion may be made except the following privileged and subsidiary motions which have precedence in the order listed:

- (1) To adjourn

- (5) To lay on the table
- (6) For the previous question
- (7) To postpone to a day certain
- (8) To refer or commit
- (9) To amend
- (10) To postpone indefinitely.

A question may be indefinitely postponed by a majority roll call vote of all members present and voting. When a bill or resolution is postponed indefinitely, it is finally rejected and may not be acted upon again during the biennium except upon a motion of reconsideration made pursuant to rule 5-4.

5-3. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted under color of amendment or substitute.

5-4. Any member may, on the day the vote was taken or on the next day the house in which the action was taken is in session, move to reconsider the question. A motion to reconsider may not be withdrawn after such next legislative day without the unanimous consent of the house concerned, and thereafter any member may call it up for consideration; however, a motion to reconsider made after the fifty-fourth day of the session shall be disposed of when made. A motion to recall a bill from the other house constitutes notice to reconsider, and shall be acted on as a motion to reconsider. A motion to reconsider or to recall a bill from the other house may be made only under order of business No. 6, and under that order of business takes precedence over all motions except motions to recess or adjourn.

5-5. When a motion to reconsider is laid on the table, a two-thirds majority is required to take it from the table. When a motion to reconsider fails, the question is finally and conclusively settled.

5-6. (1) Except as provided in subsection (2) of this rule, the effect of moving the previous question, if adopted, is to close debate immediately, to prevent the moving of amendments or other subsidiary motions, and to bring to vote promptly the immediately pending main question and the adhering subsidiary motions, whether on appeal or otherwise.

(2) When the previous question is ordered on any debatable question on which there has been no debate, the question may be debated for one-half hour, one half of such time to be given to the proponents and one half to the opponents.

5-7. A call of the house is not in order after the previous question is ordered, unless it appears upon an actual count by the presiding officer that a quorum is not present.

5-8. The following motions are not debatable:

- (1) To adjourn
- (2) For a call of the house
- (3) To recess
- (4) For parliamentary inquiry

- (13) A decision of the presiding officer, unless appealed or unless he submits the question to the house for advice or decision
- (14) All incidental motions, such as motions relating to voting or other questions of a general procedural nature.

5-9. A member may move to divide a question if it includes two or more propositions so distinct in substance that if one thing is taken away a substantive question will remain.

5-10. No more than one amendment and no more than one substitute motion may be made to a motion. This rule permits the main motion and two modifying motions.

CHAPTER 6

A.—Form of Bills—Definition of Resolutions—General Provisions

6-1. The only types of instruments other than bills which may be introduced in either house of the legislature are:

(1) A simple resolution, which is a formalized motion passed by one house only and which bears the heading "House Resolution" or "Senate Resolution." It may be used to amend the rules of one house or to express the desire, opinion, sympathy or request of the house adopting it. It does not require three readings or a roll call vote. A member offering a simple resolution may read it in his place before introduction. When a simple resolution has been introduced, it shall be referred to a committee. Final action shall be taken on the Committee of the Whole report. The transmittal of copies of simple resolutions is the responsibility of the chief clerk or secretary of the house of origin.

(2) A joint resolution must be adopted by both houses and need not be approved by the governor. It may be used to express desire, opinion, sympathy or request of the legislature, to amend the joint rules, and to ratify or propose amendments to the United States Constitution. A joint resolution shall also be used to propose amendments to the Constitution of Montana, which shall be considered as provided in Article XIV, Section 8 of the Montana Constitution. If a joint resolution goes beyond a mere recommendation or expression of opinion, or does not relate to a subject solely within the competence of the legislature, it is subject to veto by the governor. Except as otherwise provided in these rules or the Constitution of the State of Montana, a joint resolution is treated in all respects as a bill.

6-2. Bills shall be typewritten on paper eight and one-half by eleven inches with 25 numbered lines, and shall be introduced in quadruplicate. Pica type and a good black ribbon must be used. Bills shall be numbered at the foot of each page and shall have white covers of a substantial material. In sections amending existing statutes, matter to be stricken out shall be indicated with a line through the words or part to be deleted, and new matter shall be underlined. A key showing the numbers of sections of the most recent Revised Codes of Montana repealed or amended in a bill shall immediately precede the title. Introduced bills will be introduced on white paper and distributed to legislators.

6-3. No bill, except general appropriation bills, and bills for the codification and general revision of the laws, shall contain more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in the title. The enacting clause of every law shall be as follows: "Be it enacted by the legislature of the state of Montana."

6-4. The general appropriation bills shall embrace nothing but appropriations for the ordinary expenses of the legislative, executive and judicial departments of the state, interest on public debt and for public schools. All other appropriations shall be made by separate bills, each embracing but one subject. (Montana Constitution, Art. V, Sec. 11 (4))

6-5. Every statute, unless a different time is prescribed therein, takes effect on the first day of July of the year of its passage and approval. Every joint resolution, unless a different time is prescribed therein, takes effect from its passage. (Sections 43-507 and 43-509, R.C.M. 1947)

B.—Introduction

6-6. Bills will be checked by the staff of the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council prior to consideration by a committee of the legislature, for proper format, style, and legal form. A stamp will be affixed to the bill cover and initialed indicating this review. If such stamp is not affixed at the time the bill is delivered to the appropriate committee chairman, the chairman shall cause the bill to be transmitted to the Legislative Services Division for such review. Members should make every effort to present proposed bills to the Division in advance of introduction of the bill. Bills will be entered on the automated bill drafting equipment and typed to facilitate a more rapid reproduction. If a bill is not so entered prior to introduction, it will not be considered by any committee until it has been so entered.

A bill may be introduced by endorsing it with the name of a member or committee and presenting it to the chief clerk or secretary in quadruplicate. Bills, joint resolutions, and simple resolutions shall be numbered consecutively in each biennium in separate series in the order of their receipt.

Bills may be pre-filed, numbered and pre-printed prior to a legislative session. This will be the responsibility of the staff of the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council. Actual signatures may appear on the face of the pre-filed bill or signatures may be obtained on a consent form from the Legislative Services Division. Additional sponsors may be added at the time of introduction on the first legislative day, on motion of the chief sponsor. These names will be forwarded to the Legislative Services Division to be included on the face of the bill following standing committee approval.

6-7. During the first session of any legislature bills may be introduced at any time before final adjournment of the session. No bill, however, introduced after 5 p.m. on the eighteenth legislative day of the first session, except revenue bills, appropriation bills and substitute bills will be considered, save in committee, during that session by the house in which it was introduced, without the consent of that house, or, if so considered and transmitted to the other house, by that house without the consent thereof.

All bill drafting requests must be submitted to the Legislative Council staff by 5 p.m. of the fourteenth legislative day of the first session. Any request received after that time will not be prepared for introduction before 5 p.m. on the eighteenth day. To be considered during the first session revenue bills must be introduced by 5 p.m. on the twenty-fifth legislative day. Bills not considered and acted upon during the first session shall carry over with the same status to any other session of the legislature during the biennium, and shall be then considered and acted upon. During any session of the biennium other than the first session, all bills except revenue bills, appropriation bills and substitute bills must be introduced by 5 p.m. of the tenth legislative day; and all bill drafting requests must be submitted to the Legislative Council staff by 5 p.m. on the sixth legislative day. Any request received after that time will not be prepared for introduction before 5 p.m. on the tenth legislative day. Revenue bills at such sessions following the first session of the biennium must be introduced by 5 p.m. of the fifteenth legislative day.

Joint Resolutions affecting rules adopted in the Montana Administrative Code may be introduced and transmitted at any time during a session;

6-8. During either regular session, no bill may be introduced or received in a house after that house has finally rejected a bill during that biennium designed to accomplish the same purpose save upon approval by the rules committee of the house in which the bill is offered for introduction or reception, nor may any such bill be introduced or received in a house at any special session, unless an emergency exists which in the opinion of the governor or of the members requesting a special session requires the introduction or reception of such bill, and the existence of the emergency and such opinion is set forth in the governor's call or the members' request for a special session.

Failure to override a veto does not constitute final rejection.

6-9. A committee must unanimously consent to the introduction of a committee bill.

C.—First Reading and Commitment

6-10. No motion affecting a bill is in order on its first reading except as provided in Joint Rule 6-6.

Upon introduction or reception of a bill, the chief clerk of the house or the secretary of the senate shall publicly post upon a listing that bill by a summary of its title in the house of origin and by a summary of its title and by its history in the second house, together with a notation of the committee to which it has been assigned, and such posting shall constitute the first reading of the bill.

6-11. No bill shall be considered or become a law unless referred to a committee and returned therefrom.

6-12. Upon introduction or reception of a bill, it shall be referred to a committee by the presiding officer.

D.—Amendments and Substitute Bills

6-14. No law shall be revised or amended, or the provisions thereof extended by reference to its title only, but so much thereof as is revised, amended or extended shall be re-enacted and published at length.

6-15. No law shall be passed except by bill, and no bill shall be so altered or amended on its passage through either house as to change its original purpose. (Montana Constitution Art. V., Sec. 11(1))

6-16. A committee may recommend that every clause in a bill be changed and that entirely new matter be substituted so long as the new matter is relevant to the title and subject of the original bill. A substitute bill shall be considered as an amendment and not as a new bill.

6-17. The proper form of reporting a substitute bill by a committee is to propose amendments to strike out all of the bill following the enacting clause and to substitute the new bill, recommending also any necessary changes in the title. If a committee report recommending a substitute for a bill originating in the other house is adopted, the substitute bill shall be printed.

6-18. Amendments to a bill by the second house shall not be further amended by the house in which the bill originated, but must either be accepted or rejected. If the amendments are rejected, a conference committee may be requested by the house in which the bill originated.

6-19. If a majority of a house recommends the passage of a bill originating in that house after it has been returned from a committee, not less than six hundred copies of the bill shall be printed on canary paper with all amendments incorporated into the printed copies. Bills referred to the bills committee of the house of origin for printing must be reported within three days unless further time is granted by that house.

E.—Engrossing and Enrolling

6-20. When a bill has been reported favorably by committee of the whole of the house of origin and the report has been adopted, the bill shall be engrossed under the direction of the bills committee, and when reported correctly engrossed by the committee shall be placed on the calendar for third reading on the succeeding legislative day. Committee of the whole amendments shall be included in the engrossed bill. Copies of the engrossed bill to be distributed to legislators will be reproduced on blue paper. If a bill is unamended, contains no clerical errors, and is neatly written, it may be engrossed without retyping.

6-21. When a bill has passed both houses it shall be enrolled by the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council as an act of the legislature under the direction of the bills committee of the house of origin. An original and three duplicate typewritten copies of the bill shall be enrolled, free from all corrections and errors, with a margin of two inches at the top and one inch on each side, with twenty-five unnumbered lines to the page. In sections amending existing statutes new matter shall be underlined, and matter stricken with a line through it shall be omitted. The typewriting shall be done with a black record ribbon, pica type, on paper 8-½ inches wide and 11 inches long. The original and two copies only of the bill shall be red lined. The history of the bill shall also be enrolled and placed in back of the bill in a white manuscript cover, upon which is written the number of the bill and the title.

When the enrolling has been completed, the bill shall be examined by the author and the bills committee and reported correctly enrolled.

The correctly enrolled bill shall be delivered to the presiding officer of the house in which the bill originated. The presiding officer shall announce from the rostrum, the announcement to be entered in the journal, the specific bills to be signed by him and shall designate a time when such bill shall be signed, and he shall sign the original and two copies of each bill delivered to him not later than the next legislative day after it has been reported correctly enrolled, unless the bill is delivered on the last legislative day in which event it shall be signed that day. The fact of signing shall be entered upon the journal no later than the next legislative day. At any time after the report of a bill correctly enrolled and before the signing, if a member signifies his desire to examine the bill, he shall be permitted to do so. The bill shall then be transmitted to the other house where the same procedure shall be followed.

The original and two copies signed by the presiding officer of each house shall be presented by the bills committee to the governor. The bills committee shall take a receipt from the governor and shall report to the house the day and hour of such presentation, which shall be entered in the journal. The original and the unsigned copy shall be filed with the secretary of state. Signed copies with chapter numbers assigned pursuant to Section 82-2209, shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court and the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council.

F.—Second Reading—Committee of the Whole

6-22. All bills which have been reported by a committee, accepted by the house concerned and printed, shall be posted on the calendar for consideration by committee of the whole. The sergeants-at-arms of the respective houses shall record the time each bill is received and the time the bill is placed on members' desks. Until the forty-eighth legislative day, one day must elapse between the time a committee approved bill is placed on the members' desks and consideration by committee of the whole. Bills shall be arranged on the calendar in numerical order unless they are companion bills or are otherwise ordered by the house or committee of the whole of the house concerned.

6-23. Every bill considered in committee of the whole shall be read by a summary of its title and by its history and considered section by section.

6-24. Prior to adoption of a committee of the whole report, a member may move to segregate a bill. If the motion prevails, the bill remains on second reading.

6-25. When a committee of the whole report on a bill is rejected the bill shall remain on second reading.

6-26. Either house may resolve itself into a committee of the whole by approval of a motion for that purpose. So far as may be applicable, the rules governing each house shall be observed when that house resolves itself into a committee of the whole, except as follows:

(1) The only motions in order are: to amend; to recommend passage or nonpassage; to recommend concurrence or nonconcurrence; to indefinitely postpone; to pass consideration; to rise; to rise and report; and to rise and report progress and ask leave to sit again.

(2) The committee may not appoint subcommittees.

(3) The committee may not punish its members for misconduct, but may report disorder to the house concerned.

(4) Unless otherwise prescribed by either house before going into committee of the whole, a member may speak as often as he is recognized and for as long each time as is allowed in debate in the particular house.

6-27. After a committee of the whole has been formed, the presiding officer shall appoint a chairman to preside. Upon resuming the chair, the presiding officer shall receive the report of the chairman of the committee and the house shall take action on the report.

G.—Third Reading—Governor's Veto

6-28. No bill shall become a law except by vote of a majority of all the members present in each house, nor unless on its final passage the vote be taken by ayes and noes, and the names of those voting be entered on the journal. (Montana Constitution, Art. V, Sec. 11(1) and (2))

6-29. Every bill shall be read three times prior to passage, either by title or by summary of title as provided in these rules. The first reading shall be as prescribed in Joint Rule 6-10; the second prior to debate in committee of the whole; and the third, which shall be by complete title, prior to final passage. No bill shall receive more than one reading on the same day except on the last legislative day. No amendment may be offered on the third reading.

6-30. (1) Each bill passed by the legislature, except bills proposing amendments to the Montana Constitution, bills ratifying proposed amendments to the United States Constitution, resolutions, and referendum measures of the legislature, shall be submitted to the governor for his signature. If he does not sign or veto the bill within five days after its delivery to him if the legislature is in session or within 25 days if the legislature is adjourned, it shall become a law. The governor shall return a vetoed bill to the legislature with a statement of his reasons therefor.

(2) The governor may return any bill to the legislature with his recommendation for amendment. If the legislature passes the bill in accordance with the governor's recommendation, it shall again return the bill to the governor for his reconsideration. The governor shall not return a bill for amendment a second time.

(3) If after receipt of a veto message, two-thirds of the members present approve the bill, it shall become law.

(4) If the legislature is not in session when the governor vetoes a bill, he shall return the bill with his reasons therefor to the legislature as provided by law. The legislature may reconvene to reconsider any bill so vetoed.

(5) The governor may veto items in appropriation bills, and in such instances the procedure shall be the same as upon veto of an entire bill. (Montana Constitution, Art. VI, Sec. 10)

6-31. Upon receipt of a veto message the presiding officer shall read the message. After the reading a member may move that the governor's veto shall be overridden. A vote on the motion shall be determined by roll call. If two-thirds of the members present vote "aye" the veto is overridden. If two-thirds of the members present do not vote "aye" the veto is sustained.

6-32. If the governor returns a bill to the originating house with his recommendations for amendment, such house shall reconsider the bill under its rules relating to amendment offered in committee of the whole. The bill is then subject to the following procedures:

(a) The originating house shall transmit to the second house, for consideration under its rules relating to amendments in committee of the whole, the bill and the originating house's approval or disapproval of the governor's recommendations.

(b) If both houses approve the governor's recommendations the bill shall be returned to the governor for his reconsideration.

(c) If both houses disapprove the governor's recommendations the bill shall be returned to the governor for his reconsideration.

(d) If one house disapproves the governor's recommendations and the other house approves, then either house may request a conference committee which may be a free conference committee.

(i) If both houses adopt a conference committee report, the bill in accordance with the report shall be returned to the governor for his reconsideration.

(ii) If a conference committee fails to reach agreement or if its report is not adopted by both houses the governor's recommendations shall be considered not approved and the bill shall be returned to the governor for further consideration.

H.—Transmittal of Bills

6-33. Each house shall transmit to the other with any bill all relevant papers. When a house bill is transmitted from the house of representatives to the senate, the secretary of the senate shall give a dated receipt for the bill to the chief clerk of the house. When a senate bill is transmitted to the house of representatives, the chief clerk of the house shall give a dated receipt to the secretary of the senate.

6-34. During the first session of any legislature no bills, except for appropriation bills, revenue bills and amendments considered by joint committee need to be acted upon (save for reference to a committee by the presiding officer) if transmitted from one house to the other after the fortieth legislative day, but shall be held pending in the house to which it is transmitted unless two-thirds of the members present and voting shall determine that the bill shall be acted upon, and, if so held, it shall be acted upon at a subsequent session during the biennium. Amendments, except to appropriation bills and revenue bills, shall likewise be deferred for consideration if transmitted during the first session and after the fifty-third legislative day thereof. At the second regular session of any legislature no bills, other than appropriation bills, revenue bills and amendments considered by joint committee, may be received by the second house after the fortieth legislative day, unless received by two-thirds of the members present and voting; and no amendments, except to appropriation bills and revenue bills may be received by the second house after the fifty-third legislative day, unless received by two-thirds of the members present and voting.

6-35. When a bill has received its third reading or has been rejected, the house that considered the bill shall immediately transmit it to the other house with notice of its action.

6-36. All bills reported out of a committee of the legislature having an effect on the revenues, expenditures, or fiscal liability of the state, except appropriation measures carrying specific dollar amounts, shall include a fiscal note incorporating an estimate of such effect. The Legislative Council staff shall indicate at the top of each bill prepared for introduction that a fiscal note may be necessary under this rule. Fiscal notes shall be requested by the presiding officer of either house, who shall determine the need for the note at the time of introduction, based on the Legislative Council staff recommendation.

The state budget director, in cooperation with the agency or agencies affected by the bill, is responsible for the preparation of the fiscal note and shall return the same within six (6) days, unless further time is granted by the presiding officer or committee making the request based upon a written statement from the budget director that additional time is necessary to properly prepare the note.

A completed fiscal note shall be submitted by the budget director to the presiding officer who requested it, who shall refer it to the committee considering the bill. All fiscal notes shall be printed and placed on the members' desks.

Fiscal notes shall, where possible, show in dollar amounts the estimated increase or decrease in revenues or expenditures, costs which may be absorbed without additional funds, and long-range financial implications. No comment or opinion relative to merits of the bill shall be included; however, technical or mechanical defects may be noted.

A fiscal note also may be requested on a bill and on an amendment by

- (1) A committee considering the bill, or
- (2) A majority of the members of the house in which the bill is to be considered, at the time of second reading, or
- (3) The chief sponsor through the presiding officer.

The budget director shall make available on request to any member of the legislature all background information used in developing a fiscal note. (Sections 43-1001 through 43-1006, R.C.M. 1947)

CHAPTER 7

Committees

7-1. (1) The committee on legislative administration of each house shall consider all matters concerned with seating, mileage and per diem, legislative employees, the control of the legislative property, and the budgeting for and expenditure of appropriations for the operation of the legislature, in cooperation with the business manager.

- (2) All expenditures of money appropriated for the operation of the legislature must be approved by the committee on legislative administration of the house concerned.

7-2. A standing committee shall submit a written report in triplicate on all bills or matters referred to it within 7 days after reference, unless at the request of the committee and for good cause shown, further time is granted by the house concerned.

7-3. If the members of a committee cannot agree on a report, the majority and minority of the committee present at a committee meeting may submit separate reports. Only one minority report may be submitted. Such reports shall be entered at length on the journal, unless otherwise ordered by the house concerned.

7-4. All committees shall keep minutes of their meetings and, at the close of the session, shall make five complete copies and shall turn the original of the minutes over to the chief clerk of the house or secretary of the senate for delivery to the historical society. The majority and minority leader of each house and the Legislative Council shall each be given one copy of the minutes.

7-5. The committee on bills and journal, the rules committee, and conference committees may report at any time, except during a call of the house or when a vote is being taken. Reports from the bills and journal committee shall stand approved without formal action.

7-6. All bills providing for an appropriation of public moneys may first be considered by a joint committee composed of the members of the finance and claims committee of the senate and the house, and then by each separately. Meetings of the joint committee shall be held upon call of the chairman of the house finance and claims committee who shall be chairman of the joint committee.

7-7. The chairman of each committee has general control and direction of the hall and committee room of the committee over which he presides, subject to the control of the presiding officer under rule 1-3. Except as provided in Joint Rule 7-6, the chairman of the senate committee shall be chairman of all joint committees.

7-8. If either house requests a conference and appoints a committee for the purpose of discussing an amendment on which the senate and the house of representatives cannot agree, the other house shall appoint a committee consisting of the same number of members. They shall meet at a convenient time, to be agreed upon by their chairman, and having conferred, shall report to their respective houses the result of their conference. A conference committee shall confine itself to the disputed amendment.

If either house requests a free conference committee and the other house concurs, appointments will be made the same as above. A free conference committee may discuss a bill in its entirety and is not confined to a particular amendment.

7-9. In joint committees other than conference committees, members vote individually and not by houses. Because conference committees are joint meetings of separate committees, in conference committees the committees from each house vote separately, and a majority of each committee must agree before any action may be taken.

7-10. When a conference committee report is filed with the secretary or clerk the same shall be read under order of business no. 3, select committees, and placed on the calendar for consideration on second reading. If recommended favorably by the committee of the whole, it may be considered on third reading the same legislative day. On the final legislative day a conference committee report shall be placed on the calendar for immediate consideration on second reading and shall be further considered on third reading the same legislative day.

Rules and Journal

8-1. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and may, in its discretion, from time to time, publish the same, and the ayes and noes on any question shall, at the request of any two members, be entered on the journal.

8-2. The proceedings of each house which shall be entered on its journal include:

(1) The title and number of each bill when it is introduced; subsequent references may be by number only.

(2) Every motion and the name of the member making it.

(3) Proposed constitutional amendments which have been voted for by two-thirds of the members. (Montana Constitution, Art. XIX, Sec. 9)

(4) Committee reports.

(5) Roll call votes.

(6) Messages from the governor and the other house.

(7) An entry of the oath taken by the members. (Sec. 43-209, R.C.M. 1947)

8-3. The bills and journal committee of each house shall supply the director of the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council with the contents of the daily journal to be programmed on automated equipment, examine its journal, distribute a daily journal to all legislators, correct any errors, and report each legislative day immediately after roll call.

8-4. The journal of the senate must be authenticated by the signature of the president, and the journal of the house of representatives by the signature of the speaker. The distribution of the completed journals shall be made by the Legislative Services Division of the Legislative Council. (Sec. 43-304, R.C.M. 1947)

8-5. (1) A joint rule may be repealed or amended only with the concurrence of both houses, under the procedures adopted by each house for the repeal or amendment of its own rules.

(2) A joint rule governing the procedure for handling bills may be temporarily suspended by the consent of two-thirds of the members of either house, insofar as it applies to the house suspending it.

(3) Any rules committee report recommending a change in joint rules shall be referred to the other house for concurrent action. Any new rule or any change in the rules of either house shall be transmitted to the other house for informational purposes.

8-6. Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure governs the proceedings of the senate and house of representatives in all cases not covered by these rules.

8-7. The Legislative Council shall codify and publish in one volume the rules of the senate, the rules of the house of representatives and the joint rules of the senate and house of representatives. Upon adoption, the secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house of representatives shall provide the office of the Legislative Council with one copy of all motions or resolutions amending senate, house or joint rules, and with copies of all minutes and reports of the rules committees. After the rules have been published, the Legislative Council shall distribute copies as directed by the senate and house of representatives.

CHAPTER 9

Voting Procedure

9-1. Except as provided in Joint Rule 9-2, every member present when a question is put shall vote unless the house of which he is a member excuses him.

9-2. A member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the legislature shall disclose the fact to the house of which he is a member, and shall not vote thereon.

9-3. Amendments to the constitution may be proposed by any member of the legislature. If adopted by an affirmative roll call vote of two-thirds of all the members of the legislature, the amendment shall be deemed approved by the legislature. (Montana Constitution, Art. XIV, Sec. 8)

9-4. When a measure requiring the concurrence of two-thirds of the members is under consideration, a majority vote is sufficient to decide any question relating to the measure short of third reading.

9-5. A roll call vote shall be taken on the request of two members.

9-6. On a roll call vote the names of the members shall be called alphabetically, unless an electrical voting system is used. A member may not vote or change his vote after the decision is announced from the chair. A member may not explain his vote until after the decision is announced from the chair.

9-7. (1) On third reading the question shall be stated as follows: "Senate (or house) bill number _____ having been read three several times, the question is, shall the bill pass (or be concurred in)."

(2) If an electrical voting system is used the presiding officer shall ring the bell after stating the question and then state "Those in favor vote yea and those opposed vote no." After a reasonable pause the presiding officer asks "Has every member voted?" (reasonable pause) "Does any member wish to change his or her vote?" (reasonable pause) "The clerk (secretary) will now record the vote."

9-8. Two members may pair on a measure that will be determined by a majority vote. On a measure requiring a two-thirds vote for adoption three members may pair, with two members for the measure and one member against. Pairing is permitted only when one of the paired members is absent when the vote is taken.

9-9. An agreement to pair must be in writing and dated and signed by the members agreeing to be bound, and must specify the duration of the pair. When an agreement to pair is filed with the secretary of the senate or chief clerk of the house of representatives, it shall bind the members signing until the expiration of time for which it was signed, unless the paired members sooner appear and ask that the agreement be cancelled.

9-10. Every vote of each member of the legislature on each substantive question in the legislature, in any committee, or in committee of the whole shall be recorded and made public. On final passage of any bill or joint resolution the vote shall be taken by ayes and noes and the names entered on the journal. A roll call vote shall be taken on non-substantive questions on the request of two members, who may likewise on any vote, request that the ayes and noes be spread upon the journal. Roll call votes and other votes which are to be made public but are not specifically required to be spread upon the journal shall be entered in the minutes of the appropriate committee or of the appropriate house and a copy of such minutes shall be filed with the Montana state historical society. (Montana Constitution, Art. V, Sec. 11(2))

CHAPTER 10

Effective Date of Joint Rules

10-1. These rules are effective upon passage by both houses.

Approved January 15, 1974

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 42

A JOINT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA URGING THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR TO FIND AND RECOMMEND THAT THE PROPOSED ALLENSPUR DAM ON THE YELLOWSTONE RIVER SHOULD NOT BE AUTHORIZED OR CONSTRUCTED.

WHEREAS, the lands and waters of the Yellowstone River Valley in Park County are, as presently managed, meeting the natural resource needs of the residents of the valley, and

WHEREAS, there are no programs administered within the federal Department of the Interior needed for the Yellowstone River in Park County other than such programs as are now instituted there, and

WHEREAS, the construction of the proposed Allenspur Dam on the Yellowstone River near Livingston would be particularly detrimental to the recreational, economic, and environmental needs of the residents of the Yellowstone Valley.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the secretary of the interior is urged and requested to find that the authorization by congress of the Allenspur Dam would not be in accord with the public interest or with national policy on investment in water resources or with the wishes of the people of Montana, and that the secretary not recommend to the congress that the Allenspur Dam should be authorized.

Approved March 11, 1974

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 43

A JOINT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA URGING THE CONGRESS TO INCREASE APPROPRIATIONS FOR RANGE LAND IMPROVEMENT ON THE PUBLIC LANDS.

WHEREAS, the federally-owned land in the western states is one of our greatest natural resources that can be developed and improved for multiple use purposes, and

WHEREAS, the production of food, fibre, recreation resources and timber products are in great demand today and of national importance in the future, and

WHEREAS, the economic base of most rural communities with range acres of federal land depend heavily on income derived from these land resources, and

WHEREAS, research has conclusively proven that these range lands can be economically developed to greatly increase carrying capacity, in some cases up to seventy-five per cent (75%) more wild life and domestic livestock than they are now carrying, and

WHEREAS, the pollution effect of soil erosion in streams and lakes and the loss of valuable top soil and water sheds can be arrested considerably through proper revegetation of millions of acres of federally-owned range land, and

WHEREAS, increased water development and fencing will provide better distribution and control of livestock and will make possible better utilization of grass and shrubs now unused on many federal range lands, and

WHEREAS, the money being allocated by the federal government for improvement, development and for the proper administration of these western ranges is far short of accomplishing these goals.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That Congress review the range land management of the U.S. Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management, and increase appropriations of money for developing and improving our western ranges, including the control of noxious weeds; that the funds be made available to existing federal agencies for the improving of these vast ranges; and that these funds be used for range improvement.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 44

A JOINT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA SUPPORTING THE CONCEPT OF FEDERAL LEGISLATION FOR IMPROVED REFORESTATION AND BALANCED MANAGEMENT PRACTICES ON FOREST LANDS.

WHEREAS, demands upon the nation's forest resource base have spiraled upward and shortages of goods and services from the forest now threaten the public health and welfare; and

WHEREAS, the two greatest opportunities to increase timber supplies to meet the nation's growing necessities lie in:

(1) improving the level and intensity of sustained yield management on federal lands, particularly the national forest, where inadequate reforestation has gone from bad to worse; and

(2) motivating over four million small non-industrial private woodland owners, who represent over three hundred million acres of some of the nation's finest forest producing land. A significant portion of this land lies idle or only partly productive.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the Congress should appropriate sufficient funds to the Secretary of Agriculture to immediately step up reforestation of national forest lands, within the context of a balanced management program for the national forests.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that, in order to initiate a meaningful program to bring about reforestation of forest lands, Congress should significantly increase the appropriation under PL 93-86, the Agriculture and Consumer Act of 1973, above the 10 million dollars currently earmarked for a forestry incentive program on non-federal lands, and that the Secretary of Agriculture immediately increase the 5% allocation of this amount to the Western States to a level more commensurate with the value of our timber resources and need.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this joint resolution be sent to the Honorable Mike Mansfield and the Honorable Lee Metcalf, United States Senators; the Honorable John Melcher and the Honorable Richard Shoup, United States Representatives; to the Secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture; and to the Chief Forester in the United States Department of Agriculture soliciting their support.

COMMITTEE TO COMMENCE INVESTIGATION INTO THE FEASIBILITY AND VALUE OF A MULTISTATE TAX APPROACH TO COAL TAXATION.

WHEREAS, the vast north central coal reserves are not contained within any one state and, in fact, extend under at least four states, and

WHEREAS, there is no consistency in the method and rate by which the various states tax the extraction and development of coal resources, and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 47

A RESOLUTION OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA DIRECTING THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL TO DETERMINE EFFECTIVE AND EQUITABLE METHODS OF LIMITING THE NUMBER OF BILLS WHICH CAN BE INTRODUCED AT ONE SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 49

A RESOLUTION OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA REQUESTING HOUSING AND RELATED CARE FACILITIES FOR THE ELDERLY.

WHEREAS, we have carefully studied the President's housing message of September 19, 1973 and

WHEREAS, our dedication to the purposes of this organization requires that we formulate and communicate our views and positions vis-a-vis federal housing policies and programs as they relate to the housing and related needs of the low-moderate income elderly.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the House of Representatives of the State of Montana representing housing and related care facilities for the elderly, makes known its views and urges actions as follows:

1. The proposal for direct housing assistance payments to lower income individuals and families has merit and we particularly approve the President's stated intention of initially implementing this program to assist the lower income elderly. However, we support fully funding and implementation of the direct housing assistance payment plan for the elderly immediately rather than delaying it until 1975.

2. We join with all other knowledgeable authorities in giving stated recognition to the fact that the housing and related needs of the elderly are complex and manifold and, therefore, no single program can meet the needs of all of the low-moderate income elderly . . . since there are various groups of the elderly, each of which has specific and unique needs. For example, an elderly couple in their early-to-midsixties who enjoy good health and moderate income obviously do not have the same needs as single and widowed females in their late seventies and who often have incomes barely at subsistence level. Stated more simply, the most needful group of the elderly need not only housing but the security, companionship and independence that can only be provided by specialized housing and related care facilities.

3. These specialized facilities represented are effectively responding to the special housing and related needs of that segment of our elderly population for whom a direct housing assistance payment would not solve their needs and desires for physical, emotional and financial security combined with the need and desire for companionship, social recreational and constructive activity in a non-institutional atmosphere which enhances dignity and independence.

4. By far the most successful and economical federal senior housing loan program.

5. The benefits of 202 type housing to a community have had profound impact in upgrading neighborhoods and in providing a ready talent pool to staff volunteer community programs.

6. We strongly recommend re-institution of the 202 type approach as a primary vehicle for housing the elderly. Furthermore, we heartily recommend that a re-instituted 202 type program be made even more flexible than the old program, in the sense of allowing for a broad spectrum of devices for meeting the total needs — housing, health, social, recreational, nutritional — of our aging people.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Clerk of the House of the State of Montana to the Honorable Richard M. Nixon, President of the United States, Honorable Gerald Ford, Vice President of the United States, Honorable Mike Mansfield, Majority Floor Leader of the United States Senate, Honorable Lee Metcalf, United States Senate, Congressman Richard S. Shoup, House of Representatives, Congressman John W. Melcher, House of Representatives.

WHEREAS, the President on December 28, 1973, signed into law the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973, which act makes federal monies available to state and local governments for the purpose of providing a wide array of manpower services to citizens, and

WHEREAS, some disparity presently exists within the various Montana statutory public pension, annuity and similar type plans; and

WHEREAS, there is considerable disparity in the way Montana law treats public pension, annuity and similar type plans and treats comparable private plans particularly in regard to state income taxation; and

WHEREAS, the treatment of certain public pension and retirement plans under Montana state income tax laws does not conform with the treatment of such public pension and retirement plans under federal income tax laws; and

WHEREAS, Montana income tax laws currently treat federal pension and annuity plans differently from comparable state plans; and

WHEREAS, it is a desirable state policy that all residents living on the proceeds of disability pensions, retirement pensions or annuities, survivors' pensions or annuities or similar plans should be treated equally and fairly under the law regardless of whether the plans are public or private, state or federal;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

THAT the department of revenue be requested to conduct a study of the present state and federal income tax laws relating to taxation of pensions, annuities and similar types of plans;

A RESOLUTION OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA RELATIVE TO STUDYING THE POSSIBILITY OF CONSTRUCTING AN AREAWIDE SEWAGE TREATMENT SYSTEM FOR ALL THE COMMUNITIES SURROUNDING FLATHEAD LAKE, REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO TAKE CERTAIN ACTIONS UNDER THE FEDERAL WATER QUALITY ACT OF 1972, REQUESTING THE COMMITTEE ON PRIORITIES TO ASSIGN THE APPROPRIATE STANDING COMMITTEE TO STUDY STATUTORY PROVISIONS RELATIVE TO REGIONAL SEWAGE TREATMENT SYSTEMS, AND REQUESTING THAT THE AFFECTED UNITS OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT BE CONSULTED AND PARTICIPATE IN SUCH STUDIES.

WHEREAS, the introduction of sewage into lakes and lacustrine ecosystems frequently hastens the biological aging of such systems, causing eutrophication and other forms of interference with beneficial water uses; and

WHEREAS, the waters of Flathead Lake, long celebrated for their clarity, are highly vulnerable to eutrophication and other pollution problems arising from the overloading of sewerage and subsurface disposal systems; and such problems have begun to appear in the lake; and

WHEREAS, considering that Flathead Lake is the largest body of fresh water west of the Mississippi River, and the fame of its scenic beauty is widespread, there are local, state, and national interests in the biological integrity of the lake; and

WHEREAS, the Congress has declared a national policy for the protection and restoration of the biological integrity of the nation's waters in the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1972, including programs in section 104(h) of the act for developing and demonstrating new or improved pollution control methods in lakes, and in section 208 for areawide waste treatment management plans; and

WHEREAS, an areawide waste treatment management plan could solve many of the water quality problems now appearing in Flathead Lake, and the local, state, and national interests require that steps be taken to preserve the option of developing such an areawide system; and

WHEREAS, regulations promulgated by the Environmental Protection Agency on September 14, 1973, provide a procedure whereby a governor may request the designation of an area for areawide waste treatment planning and facility development, or may reserve an area for future requested designation, but either such action must be taken by March 13, 1974, according to the rule published as 40 CFR 126.15; and

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the governor is requested to take appropriate action, before March 13, 1974, pursuant to the Environmental Protection Agency regulation published as 40 CFR 126.14 to designate the Flathead Lake area for areawide waste treatment management programs, or to preserve the option of making such designation in the future.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the committee on priorities is requested to assign the appropriate standing committee to study the question of whether units of local government possess authority to cooperate on the construction of areawide waste treatment facilities serving two or more counties, to conduct such study in cooperation with the affected units of local governments and hold hearings in the region, and to recommend any statutory changes found necessary to the first session of the forty-fourth legislature.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the governing bodies of the counties of Flathead and Lake and the cities and towns in those counties which lie within the drainage basin of Flathead Lake, are each requested to study the feasibility of joining in an areawide waste treatment facility, and to participate in the study made by the Legislative Council of the legal authority for such project, communicating to the legislature in this report their views on the feasibility of the proposal.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 50

A RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF MONTANA REQUESTING HOUSING AND RELATED CARE FACILITIES FOR THE ELDERLY.

WHEREAS, we have carefully studied the President's housing message of September 19, 1973, and

WHEREAS, our dedication to the purposes of this organization requires that we formulate and communicate our views and positions vis-a-vis Federal housing policies and programs as they relate to the housing and related needs of the low-moderate income elderly.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the Senate of the State of Montana representing housing and related care facilities for the elderly, makes known its views and urges actions as follows:

1. The proposal for direct housing assistance payments to lower income individuals and families has merit and we particularly approve the President's stated intention of initially implementing this program to assist the lower income elderly. However, we support fully funding and implementation of the direct housing assistance payment plan for the elderly immediately rather than delaying it until 1975.

2. We join with all other knowledgeable authorities in giving stated recognition to the fact that the housing and related needs of the elderly are complex and manifold and, therefore, no single program can meet the needs of all of the low-moderate income elderly . . . since there are various groups of the elderly, each of which has specific and unique needs. For example, an elderly couple in their early-to-mid sixties who enjoy good health and moderate income obviously do not have the same needs as single and widowed females in their late seventies and who often have incomes barely at subsistence level. Stated more simply, the most needful group of the elderly need not only housing but the security, companionship and independence that can only be provided by specialized housing and related care facilities.

3. These specialized facilities represented are effectively responding to the special housing and related needs of that segment of our elderly population for whom a direct housing assistance payment would not solve their needs and desires for physical, emotional and financial security combined with the need and desire for companionship, social recreational and constructive activity in a non-institutional atmosphere which enhances dignity and independence.

4. By far the most successful and economical Federal housing assistance program for the elderly was the Section 202 senior housing loan program.

5. The benefits of 202 type housing to a community have had profound impact in upgrading neighborhoods and in providing a ready talent pool to staff volunteer community programs.

6. We strongly recommend re-institution of the 202 type approach as a primary vehicle for housing the elderly. Furthermore, we heartily recommend that a re-instituted 202 type program be made even more flexible than the old program, in the sense of allowing for a broad spectrum of devices for meeting the total needs — housing, health, social, recreational, nutritional — of our aging people.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that copies of this resolution be transmitted by the Secretary of the Senate of the State of Montana to the Honorable Richard M. Nixon, President of the United States, Honorable Gerald Ford, Vice President of the United States, Honorable Mike Mansfield, Majority Floor Leader of the United States Senate, Honorable Lee Metcalf, United States Senate, Congressman Richard S. Shoup, House of Representatives, Congressman John W. Melcher, House of Representatives.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 52

A RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF MONTANA RELATIVE TO STUDYING THE POSSIBILITY OF CONSTRUCTING AN AREAWIDE SEWAGE TREATMENT SYSTEM FOR ALL THE COMMUNITIES SURROUNDING FLATHEAD LAKE, REQUESTING THE GOVERNOR TO TAKE CERTAIN ACTIONS UNDER THE FEDERAL WATER QUALITY ACT OF 1972, REQUESTING THE COMMITTEE ON PRIORITIES TO ASSIGN THE APPROPRIATE STANDING COMMITTEE TO STUDY STATUTORY PROVISIONS RELATIVE TO REGIONAL SEWAGE TREATMENT SYSTEMS, AND REQUESTING THAT THE AFFECTED UNITS OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT BE CONSULTED AND PARTICIPATE IN SUCH STUDIES.

WHEREAS, the introduction of sewage into lakes and lacustrine ecosystems frequently hastens the biological aging of such systems, causing eutrophication and other forms of interference with beneficial water uses; and

WHEREAS, the waters of Flathead Lake, long celebrated for their clarity, are highly vulnerable to eutrophication and other pollution problems arising from the overloading of sewerage and subsurface disposal systems; and such problems have begun to appear in the lake; and

WHEREAS, considering that Flathead Lake is the largest body of fresh water west of the Mississippi River, and the fame of its scenic beauty is widespread, there are local, state, and national interests in the biological integrity of the lake; and

WHEREAS, the Congress has declared a national policy for the protection and restoration of the biological integrity of the nation's waters in the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1972, including programs in section 104(h) of the act for developing and demonstrating new or improved pollution control methods in lakes, and in section 208 for areawide waste treatment management plans; and

WHEREAS, an areawide waste treatment management plan could solve many of the water quality problems now appearing in Flathead Lake, and the local, state, and national interests require that steps be taken to preserve the option of developing such an areawide system; and

WHEREAS, regulations promulgated by the Environmental Protection Agency on September 14, 1973, provide a procedure whereby a governor may request the designation of an area for areawide waste treatment planning and facility development, or may reserve an area for future requested designation, but either such action must be taken by March 13, 1974, according to the rule published as 40 CFR 126.15; and

WHEREAS, the Flathead Lake area would meet the federal criteria for designating an areawide waste treatment management region, and the units of local government have apparent authority to cooperate with one another on regional sewage treatment works under section 16-4401, and to cooperate across county lines on regional sewers under section 16-4502, but further study of the applicable statutes would clarify this authority.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF MONTANA:

That the governor is requested to take appropriate action, before March 13, 1974, pursuant to the Environmental Protection Agency regulation published as 40 CFR 126.14 to designate the Flathead Lake area for areawide waste treatment management programs, or to preserve the option of making such designation in the future.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the committee on priorities is requested to assign the appropriate standing committee to study the question of whether units of local government possess authority to cooperate on the construction of areawide waste treatment facilities serving two or more counties, to conduct such study in cooperation with the affected units of local governments and hold hearings in the region, and to recommend any statutory changes found necessary to the first session of the forty-fourth legislature.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the governing bodies of the counties of Flathead and Lake and the cities and towns in those counties which lie within the drainage basin of Flathead Lake, are each requested to study the feasibility of joining in an areawide waste treatment facility, and to participate in the study made by the Legislative Council of the legal authority for such project, communicating to the legislature in this report their views on the feasibility of the proposal.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of the Senate send copies of this resolution to the Governor, the Director of Health and Environmental Sciences, the members of the Environmental Quality Council, and the Honorable Russell E. WHEREAS, a number of these provisions are obsolete, archaic, or presently serve no useful social purpose, and

WHEREAS, a legislative study of the liquor laws, which would make recommendations for the general updating and revision of such laws while not making recommendations for any fundamental change in the policies underlying the laws, would be useful to the legislature and the people of Montana.

That the Committee on Priorities is requested to assign the appropriate standing committees to study the statutory provisions governing the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages, to recommend such revisions and deletions in these laws as is needed to bring the laws up to date and to remove provisions which are found to be archaic or obsolete, while making

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Committee on Priorities is requested to direct the appropriate standing committee to conduct a study of the present structure of taxation of the coal mining and other fossil fuel industries in Montana.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this study evaluate the present net proceeds tax, resource indemnity trust tax, strip coal mines license tax, corporate income tax, the tax on equipment, machinery and real estate, the tax on the right to prospect, and any other taxes which affect the fossil fuel industries and determine whether these taxes overlap or conflict with each other.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this study explore ways in which taxation of the coal mining and other fossil fuel industries can be based on a percentage of the delivered price of the coal and other fossil fuels mined or otherwise extracted in Montana.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the standing committee make full use of the information and expertise available to it through the various agencies of the state government, through the federal government, and from the coal mining and other fossil fuel industries themselves.
